WARNS SENATE ROOSEVELT BILL PERILS LIBERTY

ReorganizationPlan Assailed by Bailey.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] told the senate today that enactment of President Roosevelt's reorganization scheme would mark the end of constitutional representative government in this country.

The powers that congress now exercises under the constitution would be surrendered to the executive branch, and once surrendered, they would never be regained, Senator Bailey said. He declared that the proposed concentration of all so-called welfare spending, including billions for relief, under a partisan cabinet officer, would mean the end of free elections in this country.

Calls Burocrats Insolent.

Senator Bailey said that "insolent and arrogant" federal burocrats already scorn senators who dare to vote against administration proposals and that if the pending bill should pass, senators might not be permitted to go through the doors of the "bureaus floating like comets in the federal firmament."

The scholarly North Carolinian deplored the lack of public interest in the reorganization bill. The American people, he said, are inclined to ignore it on the theory that it deals only with such technical things as the organization and reorganization of the federal government.

"I say this bill is of the utmost consequence," he declared. "It is of the ultimate gravity. We are dealing with the powers of congress and the rights of a free people. They are ours now. God grant that when the vote is taken it may be said that they are still in the hands of the duly elected constitutional representatives of the American people.

Seeks to Arouse People.

"This control over the departments is ours, now. This control over the budget is ours now. This control over the civil service is ours now. This control over the public spending is ours now. Vote it away and neither you nor your children will live long enough to recover a particle of it."

Senator Bailey told of an incident concerning a request by his secretary that a North Carolina man be considered for a job in one of the federal departments.

"The man to whom he talked, the chief counsel for the department," declared Senator Bailey, "said to my secretary: 'I am utterly astonished that your office should ask anything of me.'"

Senator William H. King [D., Utah], another opponent of many administration schemes, then charged that the federal departments and bureaus maintained a regular blacklist of senators who did not vote right. He said he never asked for any patronage, but on one occasion went down to an agency to protest against the large and unnecessary number of persons put on the pay roll, particularly in his own state.

Told He's on Blacklist.

"The official to whom I spoke said to me, 'You are on the blacklist. You voted against the bill which created this agency,'" said Senator King.

"If this measure should pass," replied Senator Bailey, "and such a man should be permitted to derive his functions and his place in the economy of the government organization not from congress but from the President, it is a serious question whether the senator from Utah would be allowed to go in and out of the door."

Senator Bailey mentioned the fears of many senators and representatives that they would be victims of reprisals at the polls if they dared to "lay hands" on any of the bureaus. He referred to the provision of the bill whereby congress, which created the 133 independent offices and bureaus, would surrender its control over them to the President, who would have power to transfer, regroup, consolidate, or abolish any or all of them.

Dad Dearborn 101 Today; He'll Celebrate Quietly

The city of Chicago is 101 years old today, but it is expected that any birthday celebrations will be quiet ones. Chicago was incorporated March 4, 1837, about four years after it became a village. It had an area of more than ten square miles and its 398 dwellings housed 4,170 persons, including 513 children and 77 colored residents.

HUSBAND FINDS BODY IN HOME; SON IS MISSING

Scanty Clews Point to Murder.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon a piano began tinkling in the bungalow at 5316 Lieb avenue. The pianist played Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody and the works of other masters. At 3:30 the music stopped.

An hour later a youth of 16 swung out the front door and walked away down the street. He carried a satchel and a suitcase. There was no further sound or movement in the bungalow.

Nearly three hours passed. Then a man walked up to the front door. He eyed the unlightened windows for a moment, pushed open the front door, and went in. A moment later the man dashed out again, screaming for help.

Finds Wife Stabbed to Death.

For on the floor of the kitchen in the bungalow lay the body of Mrs. Eleanor Danielsen, 47 years old, a pianist of talent. She had been stabbed to death with a 10 inch butcher knife. The knife was still imbedded in the left side of her throat.

Near the body when police arrived stood her husband, the man who found her dead, Theodore Danielsen, a department manager for A. G. Spalding & Bros.

After a swift preliminary inquiry, in which accident and suicide were considered, Capt. Herbert Burns of the Jefferson Park police and his detectives reached the conclusion that Mrs. Danielsen had been murdered. They began a search then for the youth of 16 who had left the bungalow at 4:30 o'clock.

Sees Boy Leave with Luggage.

He is Theodore Danielsen Jr., a student at Carl Schurz High school, also a pianist, who took his music lessons from his mother. It was he who played the piano from 2:30 to 3:30, according to a neighbor, Mrs. Irene Hipelius of 5312 Lieb avenue.

"I knew Theodore was playing because he doesn't play as well as his mother," said Mrs. Hipelius. "An hour after he stopped I saw him leaving the house and walk west. He was carrying the suitcase and the satchel."

Where Theodore went with his grips became a mystery to police. He disappeared at 4:30, failed to show up at a party to which he had been invited last night, and was still missing this morning. All police were ordered to search for him.

Want to Question Son.

"Naturally we want to question the boy," said Capt. Burns. "We want to fix the time he was home, when he last saw his mother alive, and whether he saw any suspicious persons in the neighborhood. In fact, we want to ask him everything about the case."

That Mrs. Danielsen's death was not accidental or suicidal was apparently established by the fact that bloodstained towels and bloodstains were found in the bathroom. The killer evidently washed up after the crime, police said.

The musical talent of the slain mother and her missing son figured more importantly as the investigation progressed. For eight years she had been instructing Theodore in piano playing until he was admittedly a good player, although inferior to her. He generally practiced two hours a day. Although Mr. Danielsen believed he didn't object to the lessons, school mates told police he sometimes protested to them.

Absent from School Two Weeks.

Because of his ability on the piano Theodore played hymns occasionally at the Jefferson Park Lutheran church, 5009 Northwest highway. He was considered a good church member and a good student in high school. Both his father and his school friends agreed, however, that he possessed a hasty temper.

This temper was mentioned in connection with the discovery last night that he had not attended school for two weeks. This was news to his father. The theory was advanced that Mrs. Danielsen may have reprimanded him for being absent from school and that his temper flared. Even Mr. Danielsen admitted this possibility.

"If his mother had learned of his absence from school," he said, "she would have been extremely angry and would have scolded him, and he, in turn, because of his quick temper, in his anger might have attacked her."

Police Model Gun Sought as Key to Scandal

Witnesses testifying yesterday in the Felony court told clear and detailed stories of the arrest Saturday night of two alleged robbers armed with pistols and of their subsequent release by two detectives of the Town Hall station. Frank McKune and Earl Flannery, the detectives, are under suspension and awaiting trial on charges of allowing the prisoners to escape.

Among the most important points brought out at the hearing were [1] that one of the robbers carried a pistol exactly like those used by policemen and [2] that the accused detectives were anxious to take possession of it and did so at the time the prisoners were turned over to them by uniformed policemen who made the arrest.

Balks Move by Defense.

Only the insistence of Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford made it possible to get these statements into the record. Attorney Julius Reznik, representing Kenneth Peters, one of the supposed robbers, and Harold Levy and George Crane, counsel for the detectives, strove to adjourn the hearing without any taking of testimony.

They offered to waive examination of their clients and let them be held to the grand jury at once. It was nonsense, they said, to hear witnesses under such circumstances. When Mr. Crawford insisted that the statements were necessary so Judge Oscar S. Kaplan would know what bail to fix, the defense attorneys promptly said any bonds named would be satisfactory.

Follows Orders of Courtney.

The prosecutor refused to be moved, however. It is known that he had orders from State's Attorney Courtney to get testimony under oath from all those concerned while the events are fresh in their recollection. Mr. Courtney was not notified by police officials of the scandal in the department and he therefore did not take a hand in the investigation until Wednesday, although the supposed robbers' release took place Saturday night. His office since has been busy trying to get at the facts.

The testimony about the pistols was given by Harold H. Thompson, one

DOCTORS STAY CLOSE TO PERSHING'S SIDE; SEE LITTLE CHANGE

Tuscon, Ariz., March 3.—(AP)—Two physicians kept close to the bedside of Gen. John J. Pershing tonight with Lieut. Col. S. U. Marietta, army heart specialist, canceling earlier plans to return to San Antonio.

The physicians were more reticent than at any time since the early stages of the general's grave illness. A thirteen word bulletin from Dr. Roland Davison said:

"There has been no appreciable change in Gen. Pershing's condition since last night."

The bulletin of the previous night disclosed the kidneys, which once ceased to function entirely, were giving trouble, and described the general's condition as "still serious."

4 BROTHERS WED 4 SISTERS; THEN PARENTS MARRY

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—The Beaules and the Rancourts of Portland, Me., were in town today on a celebration, and in case you're wondering, here's why.

First there were four Beaule brothers and four Rancourt sisters. Some seven years ago, David Beaule married Bertha Rancourt. Not long afterward Godfrey Beaule married Mary Rancourt. Then Ludger Beaule, catching the idea, married Gabrielle Rancourt, and after him, Arthur Beaule, with similar ideas, married Elizabeth Rancourt.

This would seem to be the logical end except that Napoleon Beaule, father of the boys, married the mother of his four daughters-in-law, and the reason they're in New York is to celebrate their several belated honeymoons.

Mother to Give an Eye That Baby Son May See

Lansdale, Pa., March 3.—(AP)—Mrs. William Laverty, 30 years old, said tonight she had arranged to give her right eye that her baby son might see. She will go to New York for the operation March 28 at the Presbyterian Medical center. The baby, Roger, will be 2 years old tomorrow. Doctors told the mother the child had been losing his sight since he became ill of measles last April His right eye is sightless and the left is affected.

R. P. Scripps of Newspaper Chain Is Dead

San Francisco, Cal., March 4 [Friday].—(AP)—The United States coast guard reported receipt of a radio message from the S. S. Pennsylvania early today that Robert Paine Scripps of the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain died on his yacht. His body was transferred aboard the Pennsylvania off the Lower California coast.

The body was transferred at Cabo San Lucas bay, the coast guard said. The Pennsylvania is due tomorrow noon at Los Angeles harbor.

Coast guard radio headquarters said the message failed to state the time of Scripps' death, but said his yacht, the Novia Del Mar, had anchored in the bay Wednesday morning. Scripps was 42 years old. He is survived by his widow and six children.

AMONG YOUNGEST PUBLISHERS.

Robert Paine Scripps was one of the youngest and wealthiest newspaper publishers in the United States. He started in the business under the guidance of his father, the late E. W. Scripps, veteran publisher. The elder Mr. Scripps died in 1926, and curiously, like his son—at sea aboard his private yacht.

The younger Scripps' newspaper education began early. He started out as a reporter at 16 years of age. Five years later he was made editorial director of the Scripps-Howard papers. With Roy W. Howard, he worked to expand the chain, which now has publications in many large cities. On his father's death, he became sole trustee of the Scripps estate and principal stockholder in the chain.

President of Scripps Company.

He was president of the Scripps company, a director of the United Press association, the Newspaper Enterprise association, and the Newspaper Information service.

Mr. Scripps was born in San Diego, Cal., and educated under private tutors and at Pomona college. In 1917 he married Margaret Lou Culbertson. She and six children survive. They are Robert, Charles Margaret, Nackey, Samuel, and Edward. The family had two homes, one in West Chester, O., and the other at Miramar, Cal.

20,000 PERSONS HOMELESS; LOSS EXCEEDS 10 MILLION

FLOOD SITUATION AT LOS ANGELES SHOWN IN BRIEF

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—Following is a summary of flood conditions in southern California:

Lives lost—Sixty-four; 73 missing.

Area affected—Los Angeles and 100 surrounding communities in counties of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, and Ventura.

Weather—Clearing after six day rainstorm which reached 26.85 inches in Pasadena. Flood receding.

Communications — Services partly restored.

Reports from communities in flood area:

Los Angeles—City virtually isolated during height of flood; thousands homeless; bridges washed out.

Riverside—Seventeen persons missing; refugees rescued from tree tops; airport under three feet of water.

Claremont—Foothill boulevard under several feet of water east of city, with more than 12,000 feet per second rushing down San Antonio canyon.

Indio — City under semi-military law; liquor sales banned; emergency food kitchens set up.

Watsonville—Lower sections flooded by water pouring through 200 foot break in levee.

Santa Paula — Two hundred and fifty families evacuated from residential area; flood water four feet deep.

Huntington Beach—Oil fields flooded; upper section of derricks protruding from water.

Palm Springs—Town virtually marooned; water several feet deep in some places.

Upland—One hundred and fifty CCC enrollees saved by tying themselves together and fording stream from flooded camps.

Pasadena—Downtown area flooded; street car service halted.

Malibu Beach—Many film actors marooned.

San Bernardino—More than 1,000 driven from homes; refugees housed and fed in Municipal auditorium.

MAN RUNS MILE IN FASTEST TIME OF ALL HISTORY

Hanover, N. H., March 3.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham ran the fastest mile ever recorded in the world's history tonight when he was clocked in 4:04.4 on Dartmouth's springy 6⅔ laps wooden track. That time was four seconds under the Kansas star's 4:08.4 indoor world record and two seconds faster than the outdoor mark of 4:06.4 recently credited to England's Syd Woodersen by the International Amateur Athletic federation.

Los Angeles Digging Out; Many Towns Unheard From.

FLOOD PICTURES

Wirephoto pictures of the southern California flood fill the back page, together with a map of the area hardest hit. Most of the pictures were flown to San Francisco and sent by wire to Chicago from there.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Flood waters receded tonight in southern California, leaving 64 persons dead and 73 missing, 20,000 homeless, and property damage estimated at more than 10 million dollars.

The six day rainstorm, which reached its climax yesterday, washed out bridges, railroad tracks, and highways, destroyed hundreds of homes, and devastated rich citrus areas.

Authorities expressed belief the death toll would increase considerably when flood-swept communities dig themselves out of the mud and débris.

Accurate Survey Impossible.

An accurate survey of conditions in outlying districts was impossible tonight because of disrupted communications and transportation. Reports had not been received from many areas.

The weather cleared gradually in Los Angeles today and the storm passed northward. Only occasional showers were predicted for the city and vicinity tomorrow.

Mayor Frank Shaw issued a statement tonight declaring that all danger in the Los Angeles area appeared past.

"We are at work on a preliminary estimate of damage to public and private property," he said. "The work of rehabilitation already is under way, with every resource of the city government coöperating."

Five Counties Stricken.

Mrs. Esther Chadburn, field representative for the American Red Cross, said reports from stricken areas where communication was possible showed that 1,500 homes were uninhabitable. The Red Cross was caring for more than 3,000 homeless in Los Angeles county alone.

The total of homeless was estimated at 20,000 in the five affected counties—Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Ventura.

All was silent in the delta land of the wildest river of the flood—the Santa Ana.

The last ten miles of its drainage area, one of the most productive agricultural regions in the United States, was a muddy lagoon.

There were no means of telling what the life loss there might have been.

15 Dead in One Area.

In the Santa Ana-Anaheim-Fullerton region the first report in two days showed fifteen known dead. Thirty miles up the raging stream in West Riverside another fifteen were reported drowned.

Higher and to the eastward, in the San Bernardino region, seven persons perished.

The raging torrent surged through the heart of the citrus empire of Riverside and Orange counties, devastating some of the richest orchards and finest residential areas.

There were twenty-five persons missing in the San Fernando valley north of Hollywood, just over the hills from the film studios.

Los Angeles Nearly Paralyzed.

Los Angeles and its more than 2,000,000 population was all but cut off from the outside world during most of the day. Long distance telephone lines were out of commission, telephone service within the city was disorganized, telegraph lines were down, highways blocked, and rail lines stymied.

Lifting clouds enabled air lines to start planes out of the city for San Francisco during the day, and three passenger planes flew in from the bay city with 52 persons.

John Roberts, who piloted the first plane out of the city to San Francisco, said he saw houses tumbling into the flood waters, motor cars being tossed about in the streets, and water everywhere as his plane circled part of the inundated area.

Wireless companies carried on in a limited way, but during the morning a power failure stopped activities of the Radio Corporation of America. Mackay Radio maintained a limited service, but it soon was swamped with messages.

The flooded area lay roughly from Ventura on the north to San Juan Capistrano on the south, and from the Pacific ocean on the west to the San Bernardino mountains on the east. Northern and central California also felt the effects of the storm, but conditions there were not so serious.

Rainfall for a 24 hour period was 6.39 inches in Los Angeles and ranged upward to 14.23 at Pasadena. Monrovia reported 12.46 inches, Monterey Park 13.01, La Verne 9.80, San Gabriel 12.08 and Sierra Madre, 12.17. Pasadena's total precipitation during the storm was 26.85 inches.

Theaters and churches throughout the stricken area opened their doors to house the refugees. Schools were closed throughout the area.

Riverside Hardest Hit.

Riverside, where 17 persons were reported missing, appeared to be among the cities hardest hit. There a torrential runoff from Big Bear valley sent the Santa Ana river plunging over its banks. Five motorists were reported to have drowned when their cars were swept away.

Flood victims in the western district of Riverside clung to treetops until rescued. The city's power was cut off almost all of last night. There was no telephone or telegraph service.

The town of Santa Ana, 30 miles downstream, was inundated by three feet of water.

River Viewed from Air.

Viewed from the air the Santa Ana river looked like a huge brown serpent gone crazy.

In some places it rushed swiftly over beds one and two miles wide; in others it spread a thin wash over rich farmlands and sent exploratory fingers far into citrus groves.

An airplane trip from the river's source in the San Bernardino mountains down to its mouth in the Pacific near Huntington Beach showed the havoc caused by the stream.

Two freight cars lay on their sides in flood waters near Pomona. Three feet of water covered the Riverside airport. The $50,000 Rainbow Angling club was washed away.

Many acres of citrus land could be seen inundated. All bridges were washed out. Buried highways could be traced only by the tips of telephone poles which lined them.

Huntington Beach resembled an island—flood waters on one side, the ocean on the other.

River Becomes Weapon of Death.

Raging down a normally dry course, flinging huge timbers about like matchwood, the Los Angeles river became a weapon of death yesterday.

It crushed a pedestrian bridge at the ocean's edge west of Long Beach last night and at least ten persons were believed to have been carried to death. Three were rescued by navy boats.

In the Bell district a falling power line pole crushed the Gage avenue bridge over the river. Four persons were reported to have been swept away.

The Southern Pacific railroad bridge across the river at Dayton avenue was ripped away, endangering the new North Figueroa street bridge directly behind it as débris deflected the torrent.

On the other side of the Figueroa bridge, Elysian park's moving mountain was loosened by small slides.

Escaping gas under the rails of the Southern Pacific at the Ninth street bridge caused an explosion in a switch engine, injuring three crewmen.

Watsonville Is Flooded.

The Pajaro river, which borders Watsonville, rose suddenly and waters poured into the lower half of the city through a 200 foot break in the levee made by a flood Feb. 12. Residents were warned to evacuate the lower section.

The whole town of Watsonville was awake by 1 a. m., residents of the lower section fleeing from the rising waters and others helping move and protect stores. Bridge street, which parallels the river, was flooded a foot deep.

No attempt had been made to repair the broken levee, because residents had been confident there would not be another flood. Never before had Watsonville been flooded twice in one year.

Area in Darkness.

Virtually the entire southern California area was thrown into darkness for more than 15 minutes last night when a break occurred in the 320 mile power line from Boulder dam.

Flood conditions in Pasadena were reported the worst in the last decade. The city experienced a rainfall of an inch an hour for 13 consecutive hours. A wooden bridge over the Arroyo Seco, near Pasadena, collapsed, marooning 20 homes and drowning an unidentified man.

Service over several lines of the Pacific Electric railway had to be abandoned. Monrovia, Glendora, and other foothill communities were cut off from transportation with Los Angeles. Three transcontinental railroads suspended operations because of bridge washouts and flooded lines.

Many residents of the suburban community of Venice, on the ocean front west of Los Angeles, were forced to swim to safety.

All dams perched high above populous valley cities were reported safe. Flood gates of several were opened to save them from strain.

Races went on at Santa Anita, but the mud was so thick that the horses scarcely could be seen.

TRAIN SERVICE TO LOS ANGELES HALTED BY FLOOD

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—No Southern Pacific lines were operating south of Bakersfield, on the valley route, and it was said it would require several days before normal rail service is resumed.

There are no trains operating into Los Angeles from any direction.

Two southbound trains were storm bound at Santa Barbara and two more at North Los Angeles, 30 miles north of Los Angeles. The company said that passengers, after many hours of delay, had been taken to the southern city by bus.

Sees Hurt Miners Treated, Then He Dies of Shock

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—(AP)—Kenneth Love, 37 years old, died today shortly after he watched two fellow employés of the Capitol mine being treated for injuries suffered in a fall of slate. Superintendent George Smith said Love, uninjured in the slate fall, fainted while the injured were being aided.

CARS DERAIL; ENGINEER DIES.

Iaeger, W. Va., March 3.—(AP)—A boulder, loosened by rains, derailed the locomotive and six loaded coal cars of a Norfolk and Western train early today, killing the engineer and injuring slightly two members of the train crew.

RUSH RESCUE CREWS INTO FLOODS TO SAVE MOTION PICTURE STARS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—Motion picture studios today dispatched crews to rescue their stars from the flood.

One studio, Universal, stopped production on "The Lady in the Morgue," because Gordon Elliott, film villain, was missing and feared drowned.

Comedian Bob Burns escaped with his life when high water undermined the foundations of his rustic cabin in his Bellair estate. John Barrymore was marooned in his hilltop home for twenty-four hours with Elaine Barrie, his wife.

Rescue crews from Paramount studios reached them late today and then went on to reach the nearby home of W. C. Fields. The expensive Belair home of Director Ernst Lubitsch was flooded and its costly furnishings damaged.

Clark Gable spent the night battling flood waters in his new home in San Fernando valley, trying to save his furnishings. The house was flooded.

A riding academy owned by Andy Devine, film comedian, was washed away at Riverside drive. Loss was estimated at $10,000. Victor McLaglen's huge sports stadium was damaged by an overflow of the Los Angeles river.

HOLLYWOOD AIR PROGRAMS COME BY SHORT WAVE

Radio Circumvents Flood; Tone Quality Poor.

With all regular channels of communication by train, plane, telephone, and telegraph with Los Angeles region cut off yesterday, radio contact was maintained and the big Hollywood broadcasts went on as scheduled last night. But instead of being carried across the nation by telephone wires, they were wafted by short wave radio to the powerful RCA station at Point Reyes, 470 miles up the California coast, near San Francisco, and re-broadcast.

Carried to San Francisco.

From Point Reyes, they were carried by land wire to the NBC San Francisco outlet, and distributed from coast to coast by telephonic hookup. The broadcasts were poor in tone quality. Rudy Vallee's crooning, Bing Crosby's sallies, Bob Burns' bazooka serenade, and Good News with Robert Taylor, Fannie Brice, and Frank Morgan, entered the nation's living rooms to the accompaniment of the hum of country partylines and the whistling, popping, and fading that marked reception 15 years ago. Amos and Andy, who usually are broadcast from Palm Springs via Los Angeles, instead came to Albuquerque, N. M., for national distribution.

Before studio programs could be aired a trouble shooter strung temporary telephone wires between the network studios in Hollywood and the KFI transmitter. Much of this work was done, it was announced, by workmen in hip boots, operating in boats.

Allowed in Emergency.

Only in emergencies does the federal communications act permit the use of short waves in the transmission of domestic broadcast programs. The communications act provides that telephone circuits must be used in the distribution of network radio programs whenever and wherever these are available.

A message of reassurance to the United States was broadcast over the Columbia system yesterday afternoon by Mayor Frank L. Shaw from Los Angeles. His talk was sent by short wave to San Francisco and was rebroadcast from there over the network. He told the country that the city's water supply was intact, that lines of communication had been reestablished, and that work of rehabilitation was going forward.

STORMS SWEEP IN FROM WEST; MAY HIT TONIGHT

The cold and stormy weather that caused floods in California Wednesday is crossing the Rocky mountains and will probably reach the Chicago area tonight and tomorrow, causing rain or snow, according to Forecaster H. A. Downs. Cloudy skies and slightly rising temperatures are expected today. The maximum reading yesterday was 25 degrees between noon and 3 p. m.

The disturbance in the lake, caused by the strong east winds of Wednesday and early yesterday, will continue, probably until the week-end, according to Arthur Gorman of the city water purification department. As a result the city's drinking water will remain murky.

URGE EXPANSION OF CALUMET RIVER CHANNEL ROUTES

Representatives of civic and business organizations and city, county, and state officials appeared before a board of army engineers yesterday in the new postoffice building at a hearing on expansion of the Calumet-Sag route and the Grand Calumet river-Indiana Harbor canal route.

The consensus of groups favoring the project recommended widening of the Sag channel to 160 feet and dredging a channel through the Grand Calumet through East Chicago, Ind., connecting it with the Indiana Harbor canal.

Among those who submitted recommendations were Robert Kingery, general manager of the Chicago Regional Planning association; Maj. Rufus W. Putnam of the Chicago port commission; Ald. William Rowan, Mayor Andrew Rooney of East Chicago, Ind.; Carter Jenkins, division of Illinois waterways, and A. C. Ingersoll of the Illinois River Carriers' association.

Coast Guard Cutter Speeds to Aid Ship; 31 Aboard

Newport, R. I., March 4 [Friday].—(AP)—The S. S. Norfolk, aground off Penikese Island, near Cuttyhunk, Mass., called for assistance early today and the coast guard cutter Argo was ordered to her aid. Coast guard headquarters at Boston said the patrol boat Faunce, on patrol near Vineyard Haven, also was on its way to the scene. The Norfolk is a 2,453 ton freighter owned by AGWI Lines, Inc., and managed by Clyde-Mallory lines, with New York its home port. The craft carries a crew of 31 men.

HUNT FOR MISSING AIRLINER SHIFTED TO CASTLE PEAK

Searching Parties Afoot Joined by Plane.

Fresno, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Aerial searchers joined ground parties late today in the first comprehensive effort to find the missing airliner which presumably crashed in the mountains northeast of here Tuesday night with nine persons aboard.

All hands headed for the vicinity of Castle Peak, eighty miles northeast of here, on the strength of a new theory that the storm trapped airliner was crowded far off its course as it unsuccessfully sought an emergency landing.

Flares and Mystery Shots.

The searchers previously had projected their efforts to the region of Huntington and Shaver lakes, thirty-five miles to the northeast, where aerial flares and mysterious shots were noticed about the time the plane was in trouble.

Snow delayed examination of a huge scar on a mountainside sixty miles northeast of Fresno. The snow extended down to the 2,000 foot level.

Flyers in the search concentrated on the Castle Peak objective after M. B. Doolin, San Francisco airport executive, and William Coyle, a Transcontinental and Western Air pilot, reviewed the available facts and suggested it as the most promising sector.

William Bassen and Raleigh Rhodes informed TWA, to whom the missing plane belonged, that they heard a terrific crash near Bass lake Tuesday midnight. About 2 a. m. Wednesday, they said, they heard two shots.

Sees Plane Dropping Flares.

Caretaker Fred Shoemaker of Meadows lake resort, eight miles down the mountain from Shaver lake, reported he saw a plane dropping flares in that vicinity Tuesday night.

"I thought they were going to land," he added, "and built a fire to assist them."

Hundreds of CCC workers, peace officers, and volunteers were engaged in the hunt.

Heavy Rains in Kentucky Send Mountain Streams Up

Whitesburg, Ky., March 3.—[Special.]—Heavy rains last night and today swelled most mountain streams. Many of the smallest streams were out of their banks. The main street of Neon, business center of the coal fields, was several feet under water. Several coal mining towns were flooded.

CONFER ON PLANS FOR PLAY AREAS ON VACANT LOTS

Plans for acquisition of several thousand vacant lots throughout Chicago which would be converted into neighborhood playgrounds were outlined last night at a meeting held by the Chicago recreation commission in the city council chambers. The move is designed to remove some of the causes of juvenile delinquency and auto fatalities.

Allan C. Williams, secretary of the Illinois state housing board, asserted more than a half million vacant lots in Chicago are available for a mass play lot program. Representatives of the Works Progress administration and the National Youth administration in Illinois pledged federal aid to the recreation projects within their scope.

The conference was presided over by Judge John P. McGoorty of the Superior court in the place of Dr. Philip L. Seman, the chairman.

ACCUSED SOVIET LEADER TELLS OF NAZI WAR PLOT

Krestinsky Changes Plea to 'Guilty of Treason.'

MOSCOW, March 3.—(AP)—Nicholas N. Krestinsky, the lone holdout in Russia's mass treason trial, today forlornly joined his twenty co-defendants in confessing plots against the soviet state.

Krestinsky, once soviet ambassador to Berlin, but now only a haggard shell of a man, had cried his innocence yesterday, repudiating the confession he had made before the trial, saying he was "convinced there was no use denying guilt except in open court."

But today, in the second dramatic episode of the two day old trial, he suddenly and unexpectedly changed his plea after Prosecutor Andrey J. Vishinsky had stopped the examination of other defendants to bring testimony to bear on him.

Resisted Under "False Shame."

Then the prosecutor turned to the one time diplomat:

"Do you persist in deceiving the court?"

"Yesterday," Krestinsky answered abjectly, "under the false shame impressed by my position in the dock and due to illness I am suffering, I said I was not guilty instead of guilty.

"I now plead completely guilty of all crimes of which I am accused."

Those crimes included such treasonable dealings with the late German general, Hans von Seeckt, as organizing a spy ring and preparing bases for German troops on soviet soil.

Nikolai Bukharin, former editor of official soviet newspapers, and Genrikh G. Yagoda, former chief of the secret police, also made admissions of treason.

Confessions Mount Up.

Bukharin, once a close associate of Nikolai Lenin, testified he had helped organize a peasant revolt in Siberia while he still was in the confidence of the party's leaders.

Yagoda admitted he had refrained from repressing rightists plotting against the régime while he was assistant chief of the GPU in 1927 and 1928.

Vladimir I. Ivanov, deposed chief of the soviet timber industry, admitted he had plotted to turn Russia's northern forests over to British capitalists and had spied since 1934 for the British intelligence service.

Ivanov implicated Bukharin in a plot to kill Lenin, one of many contemplated assassinations which the defendants confessed. In 1918, he said, Bukharin talked about "removing Lenin."

"How?" Vishinsky demanded.

"Up to physical destruction," Ivanov answered.

Molotov Marked for Death.

P. T. Zubarov, former vice commissar of agriculture, testified of a plot in 1936 to assassinate Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, and of discussions of ways to kill Dictator Josef Stalin, War Commissar Klementi E. Voroshilov and Lazar M. Kaganovich, commissar for heavy industry.

Alexis I. Rykov, Lenin's successor, premier of the soviet union for almost a decade and, with Bukharin, the main defendant, admitted planning to overthrow the régime and restore Russia to capitalism.

Rykov gave a historical outline of the rightist movement which, he said, started about 1928, while he was premier, and spread throughout the country. He acknowledged that he, Bukharin and leaders of the ring were the central force.

Organized Peasant Revolts.

Rykov said advantage was taken of the resistance to the drive for agricultural collectivization to organize peasant revolts.

"You can indulge in terror with or without theory," he confessed, "but you cannot indulge in the theory of terror without practicing it."

Krestinsky's change of plea came after Christian Rakovsky, another defendant, declared that a letter Krestinsky wrote in 1927 to Leon Trotzky renouncing Trotzkyism was "an alibi."

Coeds will sing and dance for the guests.

HOLD EX-OFFICIAL OF LOAN SOCIETY AS EMBEZZLER

Harold L. Howard, 44 years old, was arrested last night in his home at 901 South Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, on a charge of embezzlement. The warant for his arrest came from Rock Island county. Howard was formerly secretary of the National Union Loan society of Moline, which became defunct on Dec. 13. Since that date $200,000 of claims have been filed by persons who lent money to the corporation but failed to get it back. M. S. Ackles, president of the society, and his son, Thomas H. Ackles, both of Moline, also are under arrest.

PRISON FRIEND OF LENIN TELLS OF STALIN PURGE

Elder Rebels Killed, Says Milwaukeean.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., March 3.—[Special.]—The liquidation of the intelligentzia of the original bolshevik movement will continue as long as Dictator Josef Stalin feels they are a menace to his security or until there are no more of the old leaders left. This is the opinion of Jacob H. Rubin, former Milwaukee Socialist, Russian born, and resident of Russia during the days of 1919 and 1920, after the Red revolution.

Rubin knew Stalin intimately in those days as he knew some of those who since have been killed and some now are on trial for their lives. In Odessa, under the Denikine government as an American trade representative, Rubin was arrested as a spy and held for seven weeks in the Odessa prison.

Old Cellmates Rise.

After the Red army had overthrown the Denikine government, Rubin's erstwhile cellmates became persons of first political importance and for the next two years he enjoyed intimacy with the leaders of the bolshevik movement.

Lenin, Mr. Rubin said, introduced him to Stalin, who at that time had none of the characteristics of the terrorist. Soft spoken, Stalin was close to Lenin, because his conversation was less politically exciting than Trotzky's during the invalidism that led to Lenin's death, Rubin said.

Of the defendants on trial Nikolai Bukharin and Alixis Rykov were Rubin's close friends. Both were members of the original bolshevik central committee. Rykov was the first peoples' commissar of the interior.

Rubin was an intimate friend of Zinoviev, first president of the third communist international, who, Rubin said, came with Lenin to Russia in a train from Switzerland in 1917. He knew Karl Radek, who came from Sweden after the revolution to become editor of Pravda. Radek was placed on trial but was so strong with the people and members of the bolshevist party that it was held to be injudicial to order his execution, Rubin believes.

Knew Other Victims.

Kamenev, Trotzky's brother-in-law, and a victim of a previous purge, was one of the group whom the Milwaukee Socialist knew in 1919 and 1920, he said.

"No one has a right to prophesy the outcome," Rubin said. "I met Hitler in Berlin in 1931. He became a power by accident. Stalin then did not amount to much. The man doesn't make history. History makes the man.

"The Stalinists cannot feel secure while the old time intellectuals are alive to become his possible opponents. The younger bolshevists, now the communists, have reached their strength since the death of Lenin. They never knew him. They knew only Stalin as the leader and he is their god. He has nothing to fear from them.

"The old intelligentzia are against Stalin because they fear him as he fears them. They are against his policies. They are against his 'liquidations,' although if they were in his boots they undoubtedly would be doing the same thing as he is."

Twins Plan Convention; 5,000 Pairs to Attend

A committee of twins met last night in the La Salle hotel to plan the first international convention of the International Twin association, to be held Aug. 26, 27, and 28 in that hotel. Five thousand pairs of twins are expected to attend, as 3,000 pairs attended a national convention last year in Fort Wayne, Ind., said Miss Pearl Comfort, chairman of the committee. Her assistant is her twin, Betty. They are 24 years old and live at 5431 Harper avenue.

TAX PAYMENTS ON INCOME DROP OVER $2,000,000

Although 32,043 more income tax returns had been filed in the Chicago district between Jan. 1 and March 3 than in the same period last year, total collections were $2,088,017 lower, Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, reported yesterday. There were 77,823 returns filed as compared with 45,780 in 1937. Collections were $16,882,777, as against $18,970,794 a year ago.

"Either more persons with tax free incomes are filing their returns early or the incomes were lower in 1937," Harrison said. About 2,500 persons are filing returns daily in room 290 of the federal courthouse building, where 100 government workers are aiding the taxpayers.

MARINES LAND, BUT SITUATION IS OUT OF HAND

PONCE, Porto Rico, March 3.—(AP)—The United States marines landed but failed—theoretically—to get the situation in hand today in Porto Rico's war games. The marines, playing the rôle of the "enemy" in an attack on Ponce, were repulsed by strong national guard defenses thrown up about the city. The maneuvers were held to test the defensive strength of Porto Rico, a key point in the Atlantic coast defenses of the United States.

Ah, She Refuses to Accept Delivery of Kiss by Wire!

Wellesley, Mass., March. 3.—[Special.]—A pretty blonde student at the Pine Manor school in Wellesley, one of two girls who ordered ducks sent to boys at the Berkshire school in Sheffield on Valentine's day, got a kiss back by Western Union messenger, but refused to accept delivery. When the message arrived the Western Union office polished up its most likely looking delivery boy, Thomas Hickey. He even was fortified with instructions in the telegram as to the technique in delivering the kiss, but when he attempted to carry out his instructions, the blonde turned her head and refused delivery.

I AM A FRIEND OF U. S., HITLER ASSURES ENVOY

Wilson Presents Letters of Credence to Fuehrer.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 3.—Assurances of friendship with America, efforts to come to an understanding with England, hidden threats against Austria, and impending rupture of the stagnating German-Russian diplomatic relations marked today's political developments in Nazi Germany. Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler himself assumed direction of all affairs of state after a brief vacation in Bavaria.

The place of honor in the day's events went to the United States when Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson, former undersecretary of state, presented his letters of credence to Hitler. A military band played and a company of honor presented arms on the court of Berlin's White House when Wilson, who is a native of Evanston, Ill., and his staf called on Germany's supreme master.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's foreign minister; Dr. Hans Georg von Mackensen, secretary of state in the foreign office, and Dr. O. L. E. Meissner, secretary of state in the chancellery, attended the ceremony.

Wilson, speaking in English, told Hitler he hoped friendly relations between the United States and Germany would be strengthened. Hitler, replying in German, assured the ambassador he and his régime were animated by the same spirit.

Later in the day Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, visited Hitler to discuss the possibility of improving Anglo-German relations. Von Ribbentrop, who was present, warned Henderson there was no hope of improving relations unless Great Britain did something about curbing unfriendly reports circulated by the British press and radio.

Seeks to Pacify Nazis.

Henderson, eager to come to terms with Germany, said he, too, was displeased with the reports from the British Broadcasting company. The ambassador said he would attempt to influence it, but added that he had little hope of influencing the British press.

Nazi officials realize that expulsion of British newspaper men has proved a boomerang and they are seeking new methods to bring the British press into line. The idea of providing newspaper men with letters of credence similar to those given diplomats, enabling the government to reject those who displease them, is being discussed.

Meanwhile the Nazi press began to refer to the tense situation in the strong Nazi districts of Austria. Newspapers published petitions circulated by the Nazis in Graz, capital of Styria, and other towns asking for complete Nazification of their country.

Vision Schuschnigg's Ouster.

Preparations are being made for a campaign in which the Nazis will charge that Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg and his friends are sabotaging the "agreement" which Hitler compelled the Austrian leader to accept at Berchtesgaden. The Nazis are convinced that they can figure on Schuschnigg's elimination from Austrian politics within six months at the latest.

While the German press is intensifying its campaign against Soviet Russia, diplomatic relations between the two countries are near the breaking point. Soviet authorities today were informed that Russian consulates in Hamburg and Konigsberg must be closed before May 15. Germany will abandon its two remaining consulates at Kiev and Novosibirsk by that date. It was explained the action was taken because of unfair treatment of German consular authorities in Russia.

The post of soviet ambassador to Berlin is still vacant. The last ambassador, Dr. Constantine Yurenev, was recalled and never heard of again. Count Federic Werner Graf von Schulenburg, German ambassador to Moscow, also has returned home. The embassy is now under the direction of Baron Kurt Tippelskirch, Nazi charge d'affaires.

Indiana State Job Seekers Must Receive Blood Tests

Indianapolis, Ind., March 3.—(AP)—Blood tests will be required, effective immediately, of all applicants for state jobs under the Indiana merit system, the state committee on personnel administration announced today. The requirement carries out a recommendation of the state division of public health in a campaign against syphilis.

Awaiting Master

Irish setter wearing sun glasses as it sits in car waiting for master to return.

It doesn't take much to get a crowd these days. Yesterday it was a dog wearing white rimmed sun glasses. An Irish setter, according to self-styled experts in the group of bystanders, he was sitting on guard in his master's yellow coupé, parked in front of 208 West Washington boulevard. Tracing license numbers of dog and car showed the owner to be Al D. Young, 1244 Stone street.

U-BOAT PASTOR TOO DANGEROUS TO GO FREE: NAZIS

Admit He's in Jail to Silence Him.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 3.—Authorities of the ministry of the interior today officially admitted that the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, fiery anti-Nazi pastor, is being held by the secret police because they felt the militant pastor "was determined to carry on agitation against the state, thereby endangering peace and order."

Niemoeller, who was freed yesterday after conviction on charges of opposing the Nazi state by speaking against its leaders and violating pulpit regulations, was rearrested immediately.

An official statement issued this morning said the clergyman was taken into "protective custody" because of the public's indignation against the "lenient sentence of the court" and "the danger of demonstrations against him." Niemoeller, leader of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] synod and former submarine commander, was given seven months in jail, already served during his long wait for trial, and fined $600.

Nazis Change Their Tune.

Realizing there was no evidence of public resentment against the Protestant church leader, Nazi authorities changed their tactics this afternoon. They admitted they were convinced Niemoeller intended to renew his attacks on Nazi leaders.

A government spokesman privately explained that officials felt compelled to detain Niemoeller because "he is dangerous to the state."

It was also stated that "temporary protective custody was ordered because it was feared that in a short time Niemoeller would again have to be tried for the same offenses."

Niemoeller's fate now is in the hands of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler. It is expected that he will issue instructions tomorrow as to the pastor's future treatment.

Niemoeller's whereabouts is a secret. Not even his family knows where he is being held.

Farmers Win Pastors' Release.

BERLIN, March 3.—(AP)—A delegation of farmers from East Prussia came to Berlin a few days ago to secure the release of 30 East Prussian pastors who had been arrested for continuing to take up collections for the opposition Confessional movement and for reading from the pulpit names of persons who left the church. Details of the visit became known only today.

The farmers first appeared at the war ministry where they insisted upon the liberation of the arrested pastors. The war ministry sent them along to the church ministry. From there they went to the foreign office where they pointed out the dangers of having church unrest along the German border. Most of the ministers were released.

FINDS CHILDREN, THEN AGREES TO 4 YEAR PARTING

After a six month search to find her children, Mrs. Alberta Naval Holtz yesterday agreed not to see them for four more years. Mrs. Holtz and her former husband, Francisco Naval, 1654 Congress street, announced this arrangement yesterday to Judge John J. Lupe.

Mrs. Holtz found that Naval had sent the children, Francisco Jr., 7 years old, and Clarita, 6, to live with his parents in the Philippine Islands, after the parents were divorced last July 30. The children are to remain there until Clarita is 10.

HITLER FORCES AUSTRIA TO KICK OUT ARMY CHIEF

Counts on Vienna's Aid in Case of War.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, March 3.—Yielding once more to pressure from Reichsfuhrer Hitler of Germany, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg tonight accepted the resignation of Gen. Alfred Jansa, chief of staf of the Austrian army, ostensibly on account of old age.

Jansa's successor, Maj. Gen. Franz Bohme, is not considered to be a Nazi sympathizer, but he is less objectionable in German eyes than Jansa, who is a friend of Gen. Werner von Fritsch, ousted German chief of staf. His chief disqualification, however, was that he had rejected German war materials for the Austrian army, thus retarding synchronization in armament of the two military forces.

Count on Austria's Aid.

Germans are said to be particularly bitter because up to the present the Austrians have stubbornly refused to give up their infantry rifles for German Mausers. This insistance on synchronization of equipment apparently indicates that Germany counts on 600,000 well trained men Austria could put into the field as valuable reinforcement for the German army in case of war.

To offset German domination of Austrian political life which menaces the independence of this country more every day, Schuschnigg, it is understood, is thinking of giving Socialist workers the same privileges within the Fatherland Front as Nazis will enjoy. A delegation of workmen called upon him tonight to discuss this problem. The Fatherland Front is the only legal political party in Austria.

Complicated intrigues also are going on regarding disguised resurrection of dissolved private armies—monarchist, Catholic, and Socialist—and their merger into one patriotic defense organization under Schuschnigg's control.

Hitler Aid Gets Jolt.

As relief from these grave preoccupations Viennese are chuckling tonight over a curious affair.

Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Nazi minister of interior in Schuschnigg's cabinet, yesterday authorized publication of a communique which disclosed that Styrian Nazis were to be allowed to continue wearing the forbidden swastika badges.

Only one newspaper in Austria published this official communique—the Graz Tagespost. This afternoon Vienna police, acting in the name of Seyss-Inquart, visited every coffee house in the capital and confiscated the papers.

Schuschnigg Enters Drama.

It was deduced that Seyss-Inquart put out his communique from Graz without consulting Schuschnigg and that when the latter heard about it he ordered it suppressed. Learning that the Graz Tagespost had not received or had defied the instructions of censors, Seyss-Inquart's non-Nazi director of security, Michael Skubl, doubtless ordered it confiscated as a matter of routine, perhaps without consulting his chief.

Consequently it is presumed that the ban on wearing swastika badges remains in force in Styria, as it does every place else.

Ice Traps Fishing Vessel; Guards Bring Three Ashore

Port Huron, Mich., March 3.—(AP)—Coast guardsmen in an ice skiff brought three men ashore today from the fishing tug R. C. Cooper, icebound a mile out in Lake Huron, and reported three others who remained aboard were in no danger. Merle Wheaton, 42 years old, of Port Huron, owner of the 50 foot wooden craft, was one of those who came ashore. The tug set out yesterday to lift nets and was trapped when a shift in wind closed a 200 foot channel through the ice behind it.

POLICEMAN GIVES WIDOW'S VERSION OF SLAYING MATE

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—While Mrs. Patricia Ryan buried her face in her hands and sobbed, Police Sergeant John T. Lynch repeated from the witness stand in the Bronx County court today the story she had told him of the fatal shooting of her husband, Patrolman Michael Ryan.

The sergeant said that when she had explained their quarrel in their home in the Bronx on the night of Oct. 31 he asked: "Why, after the argument was over, did you shoot him?" He quoted her as replying, "I had made up my mind to shoot him anyway."

This was regarded as the most important testimony yet brought out in support of the prosecution's contention that the shooting was premeditated. The defense contends it was done in a moment of insanity brought on by the maltreatment Mrs. Ryan had received at her husband's hands.

Tax Collector Is Killed on Federal Building Steps

Orlando, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Frank K. Bartholomew, 52 years old, deputy collector of internal revenue, was shot to death on a narrow iron stairway outside the federal building here today. Deputy Marshal Howard Brown said Bartholomew was killed by a pistol bullet which entered the left side of his head. "I doubt if there is any chance that it was suicide," Brown declared.

OPPOSE CHOICE OF JACKSON AS U. S. SOLICITOR

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(AP)—The senate, considering the nomination of Robert H. Jackson to be solicitor general, heard Senators Austin [R., Vt.] and Bridges [R., N. H.] oppose him today.

Terming the assistant attorney general "an imaginary trust buster," Bridges said he "hoped the Democrats will keep him in circulation though, because nothing has contributed more to Republican possibilities than his speeches."

Calling Jackson the "fair-haired boy of the white house," the New Hampshire senator went on: "Gov. Lehman was a fair haired boy until he opposed the proposal to reorganize the Supreme court and Farley was left on a limb in the New York mayoralty, so Jackson is the boy now."

Benjamin Behr, Wealthy Sportsman, Ill in East

Benjamin Leslie Behr, wealthy Lake Forest sportsman, is seriously ill in Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., and physicians hold little hope for his recovery, according to word received here last night. He has a kidney ailment. Members of his family are staying in Baltimore. Mr. Behr is the owner of Arcady farms and has owned many noted horses which have won important steeplechase trophies.

JAP TROOPS PIN 100,000 CHINESE IN 'DEATH TRAP'

Defenders Try to Stem Rout at Yellow River.

SHANGHAI, March 4.—[Friday.]—(AP)—Japanese army dispatches said today that a Chinese army of 100,000 men had been caught in a virtual "death trap" in Southwest Shansi province. Chinese sources asserted, however, that Japan's advance in Central China had been halted by guerrilla raids.

The Japanese accounts said the Chinese were fleeing toward the Yellow river, pursued by columns attacking from the north and east. Detachments of the Chinese central army with machine guns were posted at the main fords to halt the retreat of their compatriots, the Japanese charged.

One pursuing Japanese column, said the Japanese version, advanced from Tsiyuan, in Northern Honan province, and was nearing Wensi on the narrow gauge Tatung-Puchow railroad which bisects Shansi from north to south. Another Japanese army folded the Chinese back toward the Yellow river from Linfen, about forty-seven miles north of Wensi, where two columns joined in the drive southward.

Motor Units Held Up.

Observers expected that China's last stand in Shansi province would be put up at Wensi, an important military post.

Fierce fighting was reported also along the Chin river, in Southeastern Shansi, near the Honan province border. Both there and in Northern Honan, where Chinese reported their systematic destruction of important highways had made Japanese motorized units useless, guerrilla tactics were said to have held back Japan's war machine.

Guerrillas Halt Yangtze Drive.

The Japanese have reported the Chinese army of 100,000 in retreat for four days, and boasted Wednesday that 50,000 Chinese had been slain in the rout toward the Yellow river.

[The Chinese embassy in Washington, D. C., branded the Japanese reports ridiculous. It announced receipt of a telegram from Hankow which said: "The Japanese claim that huge Chinese forces in Shansi province are facing the imminent danger of annihilation is ridiculed by competent observers who, pointing out that the mountainous character of Shansi province is especially suitable for guerrilla warfare, believe that there is little chance for complete occupation of that province by the Japanese."]

Chinese guerrilla warfare was reported to have halted Japanese progress also in the Yangtze valley both north and south of Shanghai.

Incubator Triplets Mark Birthday

All Are Husky

Joan, Jeannette, and James, triplets who started out in life in incubators, today, their first birthday, are husky youngsters. Joan and Jeannette, who are identical, with blue eyes and light brown hair, weigh 20 pounds each, and James 20½ pounds, said their mother, Mrs. Irene Novak of 3635 North Mozart street.

James, who has brown eyes and dark hair, is not keeping up with his sisters in some ways. He has two teeth, they have six each. Joan walks, holding on to the sides of her play pen. The others crawl, and all three try hard to talk, without any success, Mrs. Novak said.

Not one of the triplets is spoiled. At least all three eat spinach and carrots with gusto. Richard, 3, their older brother, will get to eat their tiny individual cakes today, as they can't eat sweets yet.

LOYAL GUNS HALT REBEL ATTEMPT TO MASS TROOPS

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], March 3.—(AP)—A communique from the Spanish government front today said a day and night of uninterrupted artillery fire had smashed insurgent attempts to mass troops in the northern part of Guadalajara province. The insurgent troop movements in this area northeast of Madrid were attempted, it was believed, with the view of making a new push toward the former capital.

Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander in chief, presided at a meeting of the insurgent government council in Burgos which promulgated a decree revoking the right of divorce for Spaniards in insurgent Spain.

The measure canceled a law enacted in 1932 after the Republican government replaced the monarchy. Additional measures were approved under which the press, finances, and national defense will be regulated.

NEW RESEARCH REPORTS PEKING MAN A CANNIBAL

PEKING, China, March 3.—(AP)—New proof that Peking man [sinanthropus Pekinesis] was a cannibal was reported to have been found today by the research laboratory of the Rockefeller-endowed Peking Union Medical college.

Discovery of several human thigh fragments at diggings thirty miles west of here were said to throw further light on the nature of the man who roamed North China a half million years ago.

One thigh bone was split at the end, apparently by a sharp rock, as if to extract the marrow. Construction of the bone indicated Peking man walked erect.

[Peking man is the designation of homoid remains discovered at Choukoutien, near Peiping, in 1926. Peking man was approximately as ancient as the ape man of Java.]

Vienna U. Confers Degree Upon Ex-President Hoover

VIENNA, March 3.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover today received the honorary degree of doctor of technical sciences from Vienna Technical university. This is an honor seldom awarded. "If statesmen can give us peace, engineers can give us civilization," Hoover told the audience.

TENSION MOUNTS IN JAPAN; POLICE GUARD LEADERS

Outbreak Is Feared After Beating of Party Chief.

TOKIO, March 4.—[Friday.]—(AP)—Tension mounted in Tokio today as the controversy between the government and the diet [parliament] over the drastic national mobilization bill generated new incidents. A diet subcommittee demanded a war office apology after aviation officers yelled "Shut up" to hecklers.

Police guarded the homes of thirteen representatives allegedly marked for attacks similar to one made on Isoh Abe, head of the Socialist Peoples [Shakai Taishuto] party.

The party leader, who is 73 years old, was injured by assailants who clubbed him in his bedroom. They gashed his forehead and face and cursed his political views.

Attack Home Minister.

When the committee studying the mobilization bill reconvened yesterday, Socialist Peoples party representatives savagely upbraided Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, home minister, and one of the chief defenders of the bill which members of Japan's two major parties have attacked as Fascistic.

"We believed in the home minister's previous statements that he would suppress those disturbing peace and order whether they were liberalists or Nipponists," shouted Jotaro Kawakami, a Socialist Peoples leader.

Suetsugu voiced regret that the attack had occurred, saying members of parliament have a right to expect freedom of expression during debate on the national mobilization bill.

Demand That Premier Talk.

Kawakami then jumped to his feet, crying: "The home minister's reply cannot be regarded as one from a responsible statesman. I ask the premier to reply, giving us assurances [of protection against assaults]."

Shouting committee members defied the chairman's efforts to restore order until Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe rose to speak.

"The government deeply regrets that such an incident should have occurred," Konoe said. "During diet sessions the government will take measures to protect the members. I will attend to it personally."

BRITISH NAB SCOTTISH WIDOW AS SPY AFTER INQUIRY MADE IN U. S.

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—Inquiries in the United States were believed today to have led to the arrest of a middle aged Scottish widow in Great Britain's latest counterespionage investigation.

The woman, identified by police as "Mrs. Jessie Wallace or Jordan," is a blonde, and worked as a hairdresser. She was smartly attired when taken into custody last night at Dundee, Scotland. A number of documents were seized by the authorities.

In a half minute appearance in Dundee court today the woman was remanded to trial March 10 on a charge of violating the official secrets act.

The Daily Mail said the arrest was the outcome of "widespread inquiries on the continent and in the United States." Police declined to say whether the case was linked with the current investigation of espionage in New York. A war office official aided in the arrest.

NAVAL EXPERTS MOVE TO DESIGN SUPERCRUISERS

Billion Dollar Bill Nears House Floor.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—As President Roosevelt's billion dollar naval expansion program neared the floor of the house today, naval experts were planning the development of super cruisers as an adjunct to the fighting strength of the United States fleet.

The house naval affairs commitee this morning favorably reported on a bill embodying the President's recommendations for building up the nation's sea force. The action, which followed several weeks of hearings featured by testimony from the navy's high command, will bring the bill to the floor of the house early next week.

May Upset Balance of Power.

In the navy department experts considered the development of cruisers, comparable to the "pocket battleships" developed by Germany when it was bound under the Versailles treaty not to build battleships in excess of 10,000 tons.

Naval experts deplore the term "pocket battleships" and prefer that of supercruisers because they recognize the smaller warships could not stand up to the 35,000 ton battleships under construction or up to the capital ships in the United States fleet.

However, it is recognized that the vessels might well upset the balance of naval power among nations. The ships under construction would range between 10,000 and 17,500 tons and mount 10 or 12-inch guns.

Report Britain Approves.

The impetus to consideration of supercruisers was given by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in his note to Japan of Feb. 4, which stated that if Japan proposed to maintain secrecy over her naval plans the United States would feel free to abandon London treaty limitations on capital ships and cruisers.

It is understood that Great Britain approves of the removal of limitation on cruiser construction. France is reported to be opposed to lifting the treaty curbs on the ground that such action would encourage German development of all types of fighting craft.

LABOR CHIEFTAIN BELLOWS DENIAL HE IS UNION CZAR

Cleveland, O., March 3.—[Special.]—Don A. Campbell, president of the Painters' district council here, on trial on a charge of extortion, today shouted an angry denial of accusations that he was czar of the city's glass industry through misuse of his power as business agent of the glaziers' union.

Campbell, who with John E. McGee, president of the Laborers' district council, is charged with extorting $1,200 from a Cleveland restaurant owner on a threat of preventing the opening of his restaurant, clashed repeatedly with Assistant County Prosecutor Charles McNamee in cross-examination.

McNamee sought to bring out that Campbell, a $600 a month union official, had violated union principles by keeping the size of his glaziers' union to the point where his control would be absolute.

"Isn't it a fact that you are holding down the size of the glaziers' union so you can maintain absolute control over the glass industry?" Campbell asked.

"I don't have control," Campbell shouted back. "All I can do is call men off jobs. They can hire nonunion men to put glass in."

Youth, 17, Fatally Stabbed While Examining Knife

Frank Gawel, 17 years old, 1922 South Troy street, was fatally stabbed last night when, according to two other youths, he was examining or playing with their new knife. The youths, Edward Kwiatkowski, 20, 1922 South Trumbull avenue, and Walter Pijanowski, 17, 1903 South Kedzie avenue, took him to the Service garage, 3451 Ogden avenue, but he was already dead. Frightened, they ran away. They said they did not see the accident, but that it occurred in a pop company garage in the rear of 1917 South St. Louis avenue, where he was employed. They were visiting him and had let him examine the knife, they said.

One Dies, One Rescued in Rooming House Blaze

Frank Trainor, 38 years old, was burned to death late last night by fire which broke out in the basement of the rooming house at 3227 Walnut street, where he lived. Half a dozen roomers were routed and one, Edwin Meade, 26 years old, was carried down a ladder from the second floor by firemen. Capt. Albert Bartke of the 18th battalion, said the fire evidently started from a cigaret where Trainor had been sleeping.

Re-enactment of Kunellis' feat. His right hand had been pinned by the hatch cover and his feet dangled above the floor.

For seventeen hours George Kunellis of St. Joseph, Mo., hung in the refrigerator car of an Illinois Central railroad freight train, his right hand pinned by the hatch cover in the roof, his feet dangling above the floor. His cries for help were heard yesterday morning as the train pulled into the South Water street railroad yard.

Kunellis, who is 25 years old, was taken to the County hospital, his hand and arm lacerated and frozen. He told police he climbed on the refrigerator car in Davenport, Ia., 160 miles from Chicago, on Wednesday evening, intending to ride to Indianapolis and look for work.

"When I started to climb down into the car," Kunellis said, "the train started moving and the hatch cover fell on my hand. I shouted, but no one heard me. I couldn't lift the door with my other hand. There was nothing to stand on. The pain grew almost unbearable."

FIRE IN LOUNGE DELAYS SAILING OF BERENGARIA

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—A scheduled sailing of the Cunard-White Star liner Berengaria today was canceled by the line's officials after a fire in the first class lounge early this morning sent 137 passengers hurrying to the deck and occupied firemen more than three hours. The damage was estimated at $8,000.

The line's officials issued a statement saying that the Berengaria probably would sail tomorrow with tourist and third class passengers. First class passengers were offered the privilege of transferring to the liner Alauna, sailing at 5 p. m. today, or of waiting to sail on the liner Queen Mary next Wednesday.

City Employe Uses Benzine on Fire; Severely Burned

Albert Suther, 35 years old, 7026 Cottage Grove avenue, employed in the city water works department, was seriously burned early today when his clothing caught fire in a store at 7843 Cottage Grove avenue, being refitted into a tavern. Joseph Walsh, 22, of 7223 Champlain avenue, working with him, tore off his burning clothing to save him from certain death. Suther is in the Jackson Park hospital. The accident occurred when he used benzine to hasten a fire in a stove.

ARMY TO RECEIVE $532,500,000 IN BRITISH BUDGET

Increase of 23 Per Cent Over Last Year.

LONDON, March 3.—(AP)—Great Britain today handed her potential enemies abroad—and her taxpayers at home—another jolt by announcing a 23 per cent increase in army appropriations for the coming year.

The army's share this year will be $532,500,000, an increase of $121,630,000 over the previous year.

Estimates for the air force announced yesterday call for $557,510,000 to be spent in the fiscal year beginning April 1, the second of Britain's $7,500,000,000 five year rearmament program.

The government, in an official report yesterday, said this $7,500,000,000 would not be enough, in view of the epidemic of wars and higher costs resulting from "continuous development of modern armament."

The admiralty will present its estimates for the navy tomorrow.

Because of the vast expenditures the British people face the prospect of new and increased taxes.

Difficulties in Recruiting.

The difficulties Britain is having in recruiting man power for the huge war machine was reflected in today's memorandum by War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha.

His report placed the strength of the regular army at 170,000, compared with 168,900 in 1937. It showed a total of 483,843 men in actual service or receiving some form of training.

In addition to the regular army this total includes:

An army reserve—men who have spent five years in actual service and are subject to call if needed—of about 130,000; supplementary reserve of 25,000; a territorial army—corresponding to America's National Guard—of 158,843, which showed an increase of 17,690 during the year.

Need $275,000,000 New Revenue.

Analysis of the defense figures, to be debated in parliament on Monday with a government majority almost certainly assuring their acceptance, indicated that Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon may have to provide for $275,000,000 new revenue when he presents the 1938-'39 budget next month.

Defense costs last year were $1,390,000,000. The estimate for this year is $1,758,750,000.

The government intends to borrow about $450,000,000 this year, as against $400,000,000 last year, but there still remains about $275,000,00 to be raised.

Income tax collections currently are 13 per cent ahead of a year ago and the new national defense tax on business probably will yield about $100,000,000 next year.

Both gains, however, are expected to be absorbed by mounting armament and civil government costs.

Herman Offerman has Complete Charge of the 80-Acre Maze of Railroad Track in Grand Central Terminal

Now 53— He has been Directing this Complicated System for 12 Years

HERMAN OFFERMAN has a tough job. As General Yard Master of New York City's Grand Central Terminal, Mr. Offerman is in complete charge of the 32 miles of track, covering 80 acres, within the station yard itself.

More than 500 trains, carrying an average of 100,000 people, pass in and out of Grand Central daily. It is Offerman's responsibility to see that the movements of these trains run with clock-like precision.

Mr. Offerman has his headquarters, surrounded by tracks, in the switching station below the street level. From there, with the aid of electric charts, he directs the complicated workings of the station yard, keeping in touch with each train that enters or leaves the terminal. A large crew of men working under him does the mechanical work of switching the trains.

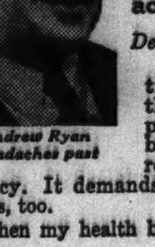
Offerman went to work for the New York Central at the age of 20 as a locomotive fireman. After that he served as brakeman and conductor. At 30, he began working in the station yard, but he was 41 before he had had enough experience to take over the large responsibilities of General Yard Master.

Jobs Carrying Responsibility Go to the Older Men

No young man could handle Offerman's job. For him, the years between 20 and 40 were preparatory—giving him the experience necessary for running this network of tracks and trains. He was chosen for the job because he had served his apprenticeship well.

"It's taxing work," says Mr. Offerman, "both physically and mentally. Without good health I wouldn't be worth much. The keen judgment required calls for strong nerves at all times."

They Ended Health and Work Worries— YOU Can, Too



Andrew Ryan Headaches past

Railroad Traffic Man Holds Exacting Job

Dear Life Begins:

My job as traffic man in the freight department of a big eastern railroad calls for accuracy. It demands all kinds of hours, too.

When my health began to go to pieces, I was genuinely worried about my job. I had distress after eating and my digestive system was sluggish. What with dizzy spells, headaches and nervousness about my condition, I didn't sleep well. Finally the doctor ordered me to the hospital.

While there, I began eating Fleischmann's Yeast—three cakes a day. Shortly afterward, I left the hospital. But I continued eating Fleischmann's Yeast. The first signs of improvement came within three weeks. Nervousness, dizziness and sick headaches got to be a thing of the past.

I'm still eating Fleischmann's Yeast regularly and, at 44, I don't worry any more about keeping up with my job.—ANDREW RYAN

Regains Happy Disposition and Ability to Work

Dear Life Begins:

For years it seemed as if I were made for hard work. I could do the cooking, washing and so on, and still be ready to greet my husband cheerfully when he came home.

But being so busy, I neglected some of the simple rules of health. I began to feel sluggish and run-down. One day I had a terrific outbreak of temper over nothing. That settled it. My husband packed me off to a doctor. His advice was to eat Fleischmann's Yeast, and I started right in.

In about five weeks, the indigestion vanished. Now I feel so well I get my work done in half the time. The old cheerfulness is back, too.

You get a better slant on things when you feel peppy. I'm only 43—really in the prime of life.

Able to Give Cases More Real Help

Dear Life Begins:

Welfare work isn't unhealthy physically—that is, I'm out of doors a lot, making calls on foot. But we see so many pitiful cases that it's hard not to be depressed by them. At one time, the emotional strain of my job began to show in my health.

First I felt acute stomach discomfort. My system was sluggish and I used always to have a dull-headed, dizzy feeling.

A lot of people I knew swore by Fleischmann's Yeast, so I turned to it myself. Pretty soon the sluggishness was relieved. I had a good appetite, with no bad aftereffects from eating. In my work I found myself able to offer more individual attention, more practical sympathy, more real help.

Fleischmann's Yeast proved to be my "pound of cure" and now I look on it as an "ounce of prevention."

ARTHUR L. WARD

Your Whole System Can Suffer Because Digestion Is Slowing Down

Many men and women, after passing the 40 mark, notice a weariness and bodily weakness that seems to be general.

The truth is that often a run-down condition of the whole system originates in one weakness—slower digestion.

Around 40, the gastric juices, which flow from the stomach walls to digest your food, tend to become scantier and less powerful. Fleischmann's Yeast is a food which helps stimulate a fuller, stronger flow of these digestive juices. It has a special tonic action—due to the millions of tiny, living plants in fresh yeast.

4 vitamins in this valuable food bring your health an added benefit. They are the Nerve Vitamin, the Bone Vitamin, the Cold-Resistance Vitamin and the Vitality Vitamin. Their names tell you what an important share each one of these vitamins has in helping to keep you fit.

You'll soon learn to like the fresh, malty flavor of Fleischmann's Yeast. Eat 3 cakes every day. To help a quick, strong flow of digestive juices when they are needed to take care of your food, eat one cake ½ hour before each meal.

Begin eating this health-building food today—see how you recover strength and energy.

2 YOUNG HOLDUP SLAYERS GET 199 YEAR SENTENCES

Reeder Violent in Court; Both Plead Guilty.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Edward Diamond and Joseph Diamond, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph Sabbath.

Two youths who shot and killed their victims in separate hold-ups were sentenced to terms of 199 years each in the penitentiary yesterday. Both pleaded guilty. Neither will be eligible for parole for sixty-six years.

Paul Reeder Jr., 19 years old, who fatally shot Raymond Sedlacek, 22, in the robbery of a grocery store owned by Sedlacek's mother, Rose, on Nov. 24, was sentenced by Judge Francis B. Allegretti. Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, psychiatrist of the Criminal court behavior clinic, who examined him, reported that the youth was sane but incorrigible.

Tells of Deliberate Attack.

Mrs. Rose Sedlacek told the court that Reeder deliberately shot and wounded her and then shot her son, although they put up their hands when he entered their store at 1121 Madison street, Oak Park. Both Mrs. Sedlacek and Mrs. Rose Reeder of Davenport, Ia., mother of the defendant, wept when sentence was pronounced.

As Reeder was being led away he suddenly attempted to attack his guards and newspaper photographers. "I don't want 199 years!" he shouted. "I want to go to the chair."

Slain in Oil Station Holdup.

The other young gunman sentenced is Russell Grant, 23, of 6225 Stewart avenue, who on Monday pleaded guilty before Judge Joseph Sabath to the murder of William Hendele, 540 West 60th street. The slaying was committed during a robbery of Hendele's filling station on Nov. 20.

Jeffery Gillias, 17, of 6565 Harvard avenue, who drove the car used in the robbery, and Joseph D. Suddeth, 18, of 506 West 60th place, who was to furnish an alibi, previously had been sentenced to fourteen years each.

NAME 3 YOUTHS IN TRUE BILLS FOR RICHARD SLAYING

True bills charging manslaughter were reported voted yesterday by the grand jury against three youths who ambushed Edward C. Richard and left him dying in front of his home at 1358 Thorndale avenue a week ago last night. They are Charles J. Schmidt Jr., 19 years old, 1654 Melrose street; Jack Kroske, 17, of 1708 Melrose street, and Robert Tramm, 16, of 1752 Melrose street.

Schmidt's father is president of Schmidt Brothers, Inc., printing company at 638 Federal street, of which Richard was vice president. Tramm told police that Schmidt struck Richard, but the youth insisted he struck in self defense. Richard died of two skull fractures and other head injuries.

It was reported that Mrs. Frieda Bray, 1428 Thorndale avenue, an eye witness to the attack, told the jury young Schmidt struck Richard with a heavy, dark object and that the other two boys pushed the victim as he attempted to fight back.

Plan New Buildings for Camp of Illinois Troops

Rockford, Ill., March 2.—[Special.]—Construction of three new mess halls and an administration and supply building to cost $32,000 will be begun at Camp Grant on April 1 to prepare for the annual Illinois National Guard encampment here July 31 to Aug. 13. The airport, half a mile square, will be graded.

CHARGE LAWYER WITH ROBBERY PLOT; HOLD 4

Julius Morris, 3327 Division street, a lawyer, was released early this morning from the detective bureau on bonds of $5,000 on a charge of conspiracy to rob.

The charge, which he denied, was made by four young men, from 23 to 26 years old. They are Norman Meyers, 3214 16th street; Newton Leavitt, 1423 Monroe street; Norman Bernof, 3208 16th street, and James Molinari, 812 Garibaldi place. They are being held without charges.

Police said that Meyers and Molinari are civil clients of Attorney Morris, and that Molinari voluntarily told them that the lawyer had suggested to him and Meyers that they hold up tea parties. Molinari said he and Meyers hired Bernof and Leavitt. No crime was, however, attempted. Attorney Morris branded the story a lie.

TRANSIT EXPERT GETS $20,000 TO ORGANIZE STAF

Walter A. Shaw, named by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to draft a program for the unification of Chicago's transportation systems, was allowed $20,000 for clerical and other operating expenses, and a drawing account of $2,500 a month yesterday by the court. The drawing account was made retroactive to Dec. 17, when Shaw was appointed.

Shaw told the court that the $20,000 is required to finance organization of accounting and engineering stafs. Judge Wilkerson ordered the Chicago Surface lines to pay 80 per cent of the money and the Chicago Rapid Transit lines to pay the rest.

DELAVAN BRIDE IS BURIED; PUSH DEATH INQUIRY

Police Fail to Find Motive for Suicide.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delavan, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Tazewell county authorities today pushed their investigations into the fatal shooting of Mrs. Betty Crabb, youthful bride of a member of a prominent Delavan family. A suicide motive has not been revealed as yet.

Funeral services for Mrs. Crabb, 19 years old and a bride of less than six weeks, were held here this afternoon at the home of her father-in-law, Willis Crabb, wealthy and influential president of the Tazewell County National bank here. With her husband, James Warren Crabb II., Mrs. Crabb had made her home with the senior Crabb.

Some Points Confusing.

Sherif Ralph Goar and State's Attorney Reyburn L. Russell were trying to clear up several confusing points which have developed since Mrs. Crabb was found fatally wounded, a bullet through her right breast, lying across the bed in her room early Tuesday morning.

The shooting followed a celebration party given in honor of the young couple and a noisy aftermath at the Crabb home. The senior Crabb, according to Sherif Goar, aroused over the disorder the couple were making, had called local police to quiet his son. While the senior Crabb was leaning out the window talking with police a shot was heard and a moment later young Crabb ran into his father's room, crying, "Betty shot herself."

Goar said today in Pekin, the county seat, that it physically was possible for the woman to have shot herself. There had been some question on this point due to the fact that the bullet had been fired from a heavy gun and because of the location of the wound. Mrs. Crabb was right handed. Powder burns on the young woman's night gown and body indicated, he said, that the muzzle of the pistol was about eight inches away when the shot was fired.

Goar said a puzzling and important point is the complete absence of fingerprints on the gun. He illustrated with his own weapon how the shot might have been fired but then showed that there were several fingerprints on the gun. He said the gun which belonged to young Crabb was kept in the bedroom. Goar added that the young man purchased cartridges for it last Sunday.

Goar's evidence and the results of the state's attorney's investigation, which Russell declined to discuss, are expected to be revealed at an inquest called for 1 o'clock tomorrow.

TWO MUST DIE IN CHAIR FOR FEUD MURDERS

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 3.—[Special.]—Death in the electric chair today was decreed for two men convicted of murdering three little girls who were innocent victims of a hill country feud.

White Tollett, 26 years old, and Church Lester, 44, were sentenced by Judge Ben Allen to die for dynamiting the children's home. Two co-defendants, Lee Walker and Ulysses Walling, also convicted in the crime, were sentenced to 21 years' imprisonment. Crave Tollett, a brother of White, was acquitted.

The state charged that Crave Tollett was the "brains" of the dynamite plot hatched in an attempt to kill his enemy, Harmon Gouge, 35 years old. Gouge faces trial April 11 for the 1936 slaying of Arnold Tollett, brother of White and Crave.

Gouge, however, was not at home on the night of Jan. 7 when it was alleged the Tolletts and their friends placed a charge of dynamite under the house, located near here. The blast killed Gouge's daughters, Sonia, 9 years old; Luena, 7, and Roma Jean, 5, and seriously injured Mrs. Gouge.

TOURING SLAYER GIVEN 2 WEEKS' EXECUTION STAY

Little Rock, Ark., March 3.—[Special.]—A two weeks' stay of execution for Lester Brockelhurst, young Illinois crime tourist, who was to have been electrocuted at dawn tomorrow, was issued this afternoon by Gov. Carl E. Bailey.

The governor said the stay was granted the former Galesburg, Ill., Sunday school teacher to give his attorneys time to prepare a petition they want to file in federal court raising an insanity plea.

The Arkansas Supreme court earlier today refused to save the condemned slayer. His lawyers sought to appeal to the high court from a ruling of Circuit Judge T. G. Parham yesterday after he refused to order a sanity hearing. Brockelhurst was convicted of slaying Victor A. Gates, Little Rock land owner.

HUNT 5 ROBBERS FOR $30,000 NOON HOLDUP IN STORE

Special police squads last night were hunting five bandits who held up the offices of the Twelfth Street Department store, 1155 South Halsted street, shortly after noon yesterday and took approximately $30,000 in currency and checks.

Four of the robbers, armed with revolvers, entered the store and took a private elevator to the offices on the fourth floor. There they forced Miss Minie Rothbauer, cashier, to open the door leading to the cashier's cage. She fainted after obeying the command.

Miss Bessie Monaco and Miss Mae Blaha, switchboard operators, were forced to leave the telephone board. When Miss Monaco hesitated, one of the bandits slapped her.

The robbers escaped in an automobile in which a fifth member of the gang was waiting at the curb in front of the store.

ARE WOMEN SAPS?

By CALEB

I HAVE been disillusioned about women. I have been told emphatically that all women envy any woman with a good skin. I find that women actually rave over a good frying fat. They go into utterly silly ecstasies over a cold cream. That, too, I have been told emphatically. They write coy letters about prosaic products. Their letters have been read to me.

The newspapers are playing up wars and murder when they could easily learn that the most widely discussed and the most versatilely approached subject in the world is a woman's skin.

I learned (?) all these untoward things about women from the radio. Compelled to remain home several days, as host to a pernicious family of flu bugs, I listened to the radio during several daytime hours. I listened to many programs and stations.

I find that strange men talk to their feminine listeners—very familiarly. And sometimes—paternally. I learned that other women cajole and wheedle feminine listeners with arguments as cloying as honey, and about as substantial.

And, signing off, these voices from persons unknown bid their feminine (and blushing male) listeners good-by and the best of health and a lot of other sweet folderol in a perfect dither of emotion.

Women apparently listen to these programs or they would not remain on the air. But can women be like that?

This morning, I read a handful of letters, half of them from women. And there wasn't an unnatural, sticky, absurd, infantile paragraph in the lot. I had thought from my correspondence that women are generally intelligent. Either I am wrong or many radio programs are directed to women of an intellectual level this store does not know.

But let me change my tune and talk to you as some of your radio friends do. Perhaps I have been wrong all these months.

"You just must give yourself the opportunity of seeing how exquisitely refreshing to you are our Ittsy Wittsy products. All your problems will fade away into nothingness, if you simply let Ittsy Wittsy products enter your life. And confidentially, you will be devastating among men! Goodbyie. Toodle-oo. Our wish for you is happiness and joy and youth—and sweet dreams."

DISCLOSE POLICE TYPE GUN USED IN SCANDAL STICKUP

Strange Angles Multiply at Court Hearing.

Policemen Suspect Robbery Scheme.

Thompson said that he and Policeman Peter Frank were in a squad car in Clark street when they saw an automobile driven by Burke draw away from the curb in front of Nichols' place. Two women were with Burke. Then the policemen saw a second car, in which two men were riding, dart from the west side of the street and follow Burke north.

The policemen, suspecting a holdup was planned, took up pursuit. They followed the two cars when they turned east in Leland avenue. Near Dover street Burke had been curbed by the second car.

"We came upon the two men in the act of holding up Burke," said Thompson. "Drawing our pistols, Frank and I got out. I dislocated my hip as I stepped into the street. We went over to the robbers. Burke was standing with his hands in the air. Peters, when he saw us, dropped his gun. I said to the other man, 'If you don't raise your hands I'll kill you.' He obeyed and Policeman Frank took a pistol from him."

Detectives Appear Suddenly.

Just at this critical juncture Detective McKune stepped out of the shadows, Thompson said. At his heels was Detective Flannery. Neither man was on duty. They have explained that it was the merest coincidence that they happened to be there; that they were on their way from Flannery's home at 1553 North Clark street to McKune's home at 4916 North Francisco avenue. They said further [all this was in statements to the state's attorney on Wednesday] that they had left Mrs. Flannery in the McKune car on Clark street and had walked down Leland to investigate what they believed to be an automobile accident.

Thompson continued: "I said, 'What a break; here's McKune.' I told him I was hurt and asked him to take the prisoners to the station [Town Hall]."

Turns Down a Request.

"Did you see any one else at the time?" asked Prosecutor Crawford.

"Yes. Right behind McKune came Flannery. He said, 'Tommy, I know this fellow. How about giving him a pass?' I said nothing doing. They had guns and had committed a robbery and they would have to go to the station."

"Did Flannery indicate which fellow he meant?"

"Yes, he pointed at Peters," replied Thompson. The witness then identified Peters, who was sitting nearby in the courtroom.

Thompson told next of Policeman Frank, the detectives, and the supposed robbers getting into the bandits' car and starting south in Dover street.

"I followed in the squad car," he said. "But my leg hurt me so bad that at Wilson avenue I blew my horn. The other car stopped and when Frank came back I told him I couldn't use the brake and he would have to drive.

"Frank went back to the robbers' car and McKune came to me. He asked where the other gun was. I had it. 'Give it to me,' he said. I handed it over. It was a blue steel revolver, a .38."

"Was it similar to service pistols used by policemen?" asked Prosecutor Crawford.

"It was," said Thompson.

Get Surprise at Station.

Taking up his tale again Thompson said he and Frank promised to meet the detectives at the station. But when the uniformed policemen arrived there a half hour later neither prisoners nor detectives were found. They toured the district and returned. Still no prisoners and no detectives. Then they reported to Sergt. Michael Ahern, who said he'd see about it when Flannery reported for duty.

At midnight, when Frank and Thompson went off duty, they talked again to the sergeant, who said that he understood the prisoners were not robbers and had no guns. Thompson told the sergeant this was erroneous, and Ahern then directed that all concerned make out reports for Capt. Patrick O'Connell, the district commander.

[In their earlier statements McKune and Flannery insisted that there were no pistols found on Peters and his companion—a man known only as Tip—and that they were released when Peters explained that they were only trying to collect a gambling debt from Burke's employer, Nichols.]

Burke, who was placed on the stand, corroborated Policeman Thompson fully. He said he had been ordered by Nichols to take two women, one a Mrs. Powers, from the gambling resort to their homes. He then told of being curbed in Leland avenue.

"Two men got out of the car," he said. "The tall one opened the front car door and made me step out. As I did he pushed something hard against my side. It hurt. Then I raised my hands when they told me to. The two men were frisking me when the uniformed policemen came up with pistols in their hands."

Names Peters; Tells of Guns.

Here Burke was asked if he could identify the taller of the alleged robbers. He pointed to Peters and said, "That's the man." He testified that Peters dropped his pistol and that he saw one policeman pick it up. Also, he said, he saw the other policeman take a pistol from the second alleged robber.

"While we were standing there," Burke testified, "two more men approached on foot and talked to the policemen. Then one uniformed policeman, the robbers, and the new arrivals all drove off in the robbers' car."

In questioning Burke the prosecutor brought out that he was in the habit of driving employés of the Nichols resort, often with large sums of money, to another place where deposits were made. It is the contention of the state that this would furnish a motive for a robbery. Burke also said that, when the holdup took place, his women passengers fled.

McKune Refuses to Testify.

Having disposed of these witnesses Mr. Crawford called for McKune. He took the stand, but declined to testify "until I can consult my lawyers." Attorneys Crane and Levy insisted that he did not have to answer and the prosecutor asserted that he did unless he pleaded that by so doing he might incriminate himself. Judge Caplan ruled that McKune was within his constitutional rights in his refusal.

The matter was then adjourned until 11 a. m. today. Peters' bonds were fixed at $5,000, and those of the accused detectives remained at $2,000. They have been at liberty since Tuesday night.

Flannery and McKune have been policemen for sixteeen years. On April 5, 1933, they and several other policemen engaged in a battle with robbers at 700 Irving Park boulevard. McKune shot and killed one of the bandits and wounded another.

FAIR SPEEDER TAKES REFUGE IN CHICAGO; EVANSTON JAILS HER

Miss Soma Mosiej, a beauty operator, was chagrined yesterday to discover that the Evanston police can chase trafic law violators into Chicago and make arrests. She was sentenced to five days in county jail and deprived of driving privileges for six months on a charge of reckless driving by Judge Harry H. Porter in Evanston Municipal court.

Police Wesley Brown of Evanston testified that he found Miss Mosiej, who is 30 years old and lives at 6832 Normal boulevard, driving fifty miles an hour in Asbury avenue. He started in pursuit and Miss Mosiej sped for the Chicago city line. She got there first, but the policeman kept up the chase and arrested her at Western and Touhy avenues in Chicago.

Two motorists were jailed and two others were fined by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court. They are:

GUS LASCHOBER, 1036 East 47th street, thirty days in the county jail and one year's suspension from driving.

ARTHUR GAMAUF, 9605 South Sangamon street, five days in jail, ninety days' suspension.

FRANK BOK, 1320 South Euclid avenue, Berwyn, and JOSEPH FURNO, 11000 Indiana avenue, each fined $10 and suspended for thirty days.

All four were found guilty of reckless driving.

MOLEY ASSAILS ROOSEVELT FOR MAJOR FAILURES

The fifth annivesary of the Roosevelt administration was marked yesterday by an address by Raymond Moley, one of the President's early advisers and now a magazine editor. He listed eight major failures against the administration and charged that opportunity for real reform had been frittered away and that the nation is no nearer today to a sound solution of its economic and social problems.

Mr. Moley spoke before 700 business and professional men at the Union League club as a star feature of the "America, Wake Up!" crusade started by that organization last month. His conclusions about the President were that while his objectives were good his thinking was poor and that he needs watching lest the love of power overwhelms both him and the country.

The eight points listed against the New Deal from 1935 on are: Failure to make a permanent industrial policy; failure to remove obstacles to the flow of private investment and ease unemployment; failure to weed out incompetents from the official family; failure to amend the constitution; refusal to decentralize administration of relief and similar services after the emergency was over; failure to overhaul an unjust tax system; intolerant attacks creating class consciousness, and failure to avoid foreign entanglements.

HIGHWAY CHIEF OPPOSES CUT IN BUILDING FUNDS

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Urbana, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Ernst Lieberman, chief of the Illinois highway department, in an address here today opposed President Roosevelt's proposal to congress that as a budget balancing measure it eliminate the usual federal appropriation for road construction for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. He spoke before a group of 250 city, county, and state highway engineers attending a road conference sponsored by the University of Illinois.

Mr. Lieberman also argued against any reduction in the Illinois automobile license fees. Secretary of State Hughes several weeks ago announced that he will urge the next general assembly to reduce the price of the car plates.

"Any tax reduction movement is bound to be popular unless we promote some straight thinking," said Liberman. "This is no time to declare a moratorium in our efforts to build safety and economy into our hghway system.

BOY, HURLED OFF BICYCLE BY AUTO, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Thrown to the street when his bicycle was struck by an automobile at Touhy and Greenview avenues, Robert Olson, 14 years old, 7630 Bosworth avenue, died last night in the Physician Memorial hospital. Mrs. Fanny Wintzer of 1412 Chase avenue was driving the car.

Mrs. Malinda Jarnholts, 63 years old, a widow living in the Town Block hotel, Elgin, was fatally injured yesterday by a car driven by D. W. Johnson, a Plato Center, Ill., school teacher. The accident occurred on Route 20 at the western edge of Elgin.

Thomas Orzechowski, 1843 North Kimball avenue, died yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday night in a three way collision between his automobile, a horse drawn wagon, and a street car. The accident occurred at Damen and Webster avenues. Frank Czosek, 2448 Le Moyne street, and John Bilat, 1911 North Whipple street, were riding with Orzechowski. They were in a critical condition yesterday.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 159 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 129 were killed in Chicago, where 2,811 were injured during the same period.

ASK LIEUT. KREML TO QUIT N. U. JOB OR LEAVE FORCE

The Evanston police pension board has asked that Lieut. Franklin M. Kreml, who is on leave to direct Northwestern university's trafic school, either resign from the police department or return to active duty.

Though the university pays Lieut. Kreml's salary, he has kept up his work in the department's accident prevention bureau, thus protecting his right to a police pension of $110 a month upon retirement, and a much larger amount for his heirs in the event of his death.

The pension board feels, it was explained, that since Kreml travels a great deal in airplanes he is too great a risk. His travels are in connection with his work at the university.

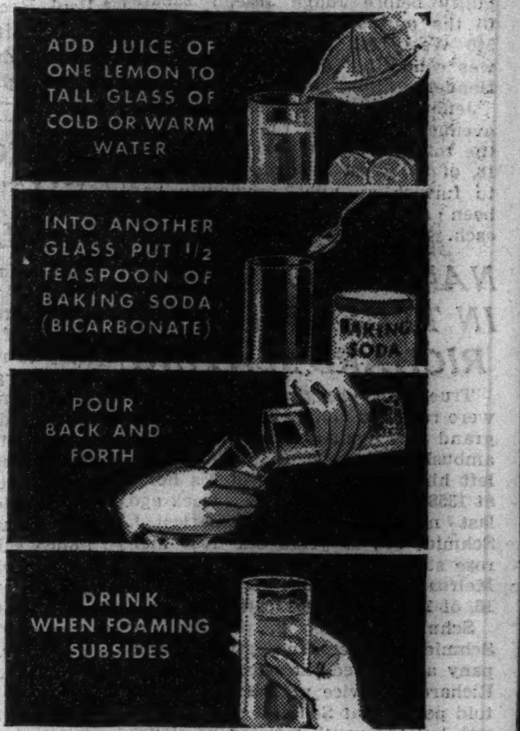
INSTEAD OF HARSH LAXATIVES
LEMON with SODA
First thing every morning... Start tomorrow!

WHAT TO DO:



ADD JUICE OF ONE LEMON TO TALL GLASS OF COLD OR WARM WATER
INTO ANOTHER GLASS PUT 1/2 TEASPOON OF BAKING SODA (BICARBONATE)
BAKING SODA
POUR BACK AND FORTH
DRINK WHEN FOAMING SUBSIDES

SO MANY people have told us about a new way to keep regular that we have decided to pass the good word on to you.

Here's the plan. Immediately upon arising, squeeze the juice of a lemon into a tall glass of cold or warm water. Into another glass, put half a teaspoonful of ordinary baking soda (bicarbonate). Pour back and forth, and drink when foaming subsides.

Do this regularly and chances are you'll never need a harsh laxative. This simple beverage made with household ingredients may be all the corrective you need. Actually we are told it increases in effectiveness when followed regularly.

Lemon and soda both help to keep the system normally alkaline and aid in increasing resistance to infection. Many say this reduces their susceptibility to the common cold.

Try it ten mornings—the juice of a Sunkist Lemon in a glass of water with one-half teaspoonful of baking soda (bicarbonate), first thing upon arising.

See how this practice benefits you—almost from the first day.

CONGRESS GETS NEW DEMANDS FOR TVA INQUIRY

Wanton Waste of Public Funds Charged.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—The denunciation of his fellow board members by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, yesterday brought renewed demands in congress today for a TVA investigation. Friends of the administration's socialistic experiment frankly conceded their alarm.

Senators H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.] and William H. King [D., Utah] introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of the TVA by a special committee, with an appropriation of $50,000. They accompanied their resolution with a bill of particulars indicting the TVA on 23 counts, charging that the directors scandalously had wasted public funds and insolently had defied congress in their administration of the act.

Resolution Also Before House.

In the house an investigation by a joint congressional committee was demanded in a resolution introduced by Representative Maury Maverick [D., Tex.].

Maverick is a TVA supporter, but his resolution calls for an investigation of the sale of power by the TVA directorate to monopolistic corporations. It also calls for an investigation of the feud between Dr. Morgan on one side and Directors Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal on the other.

Senator George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.], father of the TVA, said he did not want to talk for publication concerning the charges made last night by Chairman Morgan, but he made no effort to conceal his grief and apprehension for the future of the half billion dollar hydro-electric power enterprise in the Tennessee valley.

Norris' Chief Fear.

Norris' chief fear was that the Morgan explosion would mean the end of the $112,000,000 Gilbertsville dam, 20 miles from the mouth of the Tennessee river in Kentucky.

The senate approved an initial expenditure of $2,730,000 for the Gilbertsville dam when it passed the independent offices appropriation measure last week, but the house had rejected it and the matter now is under consideration by a conference committee.

One of the main reasons for Senator Norris' apprehension concerning the eighth and last dam proposed for the TVA was the revelation that Senator George L. Berry [D., Tenn.], the big marble man and millionaire labor leader, also owns 7,000 of the 400,000 acres of land that would be flooded by the Gilbertsville dam reservoir.

Claims Rich Timber Holdings.

Senator Berry was said to have gone to Tennessee today. Not only does Berry value the land in the Gilbertsville area as highly as he did his marble property because of the timber that is on it—timber that is used for railroad cross-ties—but because of "valuable iron deposits," according to members of congress who have discussed it with the senator.

Only two days ago a three-member commission appointed by a federal court in Tennessee reported as worthless the $5,000,000 claim of Senator Berry for alleged marble deposits flooded by the Norris dam reservoir. Chairman Morgan charged that only his intervention prevented the consummation of a deal whereby his two colleagues, Morgan and Lilienthal, would have permitted Berry to "exploit, hold up, and defraud" the government.

Seeks to Head Off Quiz.

Chairman Morgan's demand for a congressional investigation of the TVA was calculated to give tremendous impetus to the movement in both the senate and the house. Senator Norris, presumably wishing to head off an unfriendly congressional inquiry, introduced a measure some weeks ago calling for an investigation by the federal trade commission. Calling the Norris resolution an attempted "whitewash," Representative Andrew J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, which has jurisdiction over the TVA, promptly introduced a resolution for a house investigation.

Senator Bridges, who joined Senator King in demanding a senate inquiry, denounced the Norris proposal, saying it would result in "the whitewashing of one agency of the government by another." The Bridges-King resolution was referred to the senate commerce committee, headed by the conservative Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.] and loaded with TVA foes.

Lilienthal arrived in Washington today but refused to discuss Dr. Morgan's charges. He would not discuss the purpose of his trip to Washington or reports that he intended to carry a protest to President Roosevelt.

Chief Points to Be Cleared Up.

The senate resolution asked congress to explore the 23 charges and questions. Among the major charges were:

Existence of a conspiracy to defraud the government of the United States in the purchase of lands for reservoir sites and as phosphorous deposits.

Scandalous waste of public funds not only in the purchase of lands but also in the excessive costs of certain of its soil erosion control and reforestation schemes.

Exhibition of partiality to great corporations and monopolies to the detriment of the small consumer in its power contracts.

That the authority has conducted its affairs in a clandestine manner.

Claims that the TVA contemptuously and insolently has committed a gross deception upon the appropriations committee of the house of representatives in that it presented on Dec. 13 a set of figures in justification of the Gilbertsville dam which were grossly false and inaccurate and 24 per cent smaller in dimensions than plans arrived at by the authority in the previous August.

Questions to Be Answered.

Chief among the questions to be answered under the resolutions are:

Whether any officer or director of the authority has been improperly influenced, directly or indirectly, either by political preference or other consideration in return for the bestowal of such contracts.

Whether the authority has neglected the affairs of the national defense, one of the fundamental responsibilities, for its incidental function of power development and sale.

And if the TVA has forced rural customers to purchase expensive, unnecessary, and undesired electrical appliances under threat of refusing to supply electricity.

To determine if the authority has mingled in labor disputes involving employés of a newspaper [the Knoxville Journal] unfriendly to the dominant faction of TVA at Knoxville, to the extent of using federal funds in the employment of one or more attorneys who were loaned to serve such employés as legal counsel against that newspaper.

It also asks if any responsible official of TVA conspired with or influenced the TVA chapter of the American Federation of Government Employés to adopt a resolution declaring that newspaper to be "unfair to organized labor."

Why the authority has not complied with that part of the act which required the authority to submit to congress on Jan. 1, 1937, its allocation of costs to the various activities under its control.

Further, why the TVA has suppressed and withheld by means of pretexts the controler general's audits of the authority for the fiscal years 1935, 1936, and 1937, required to be submitted annually to congress.

Mrs. Violet Malis with son, Roger, age 4.

No husband may compel his wife to live with her in-laws. Unless he provides a home of her own—be it only one room—the wife may leave without being held for legal desertion.

Judge John J. Lupe made this new law yesterday in the case of Mrs. Violet Malis, 23 years old, 535 East 102d street, and her husband, Frank, of Riverdale. He is suing for divorce on the ground of desertion.

Malis objected to her petition for support for their child, Roger, 4 years old, alleging she left him. When her attorney, Norman Becker, outlined the reason she left Malis on March 17, 1934, after he refused to establish a home, Judge Lupe made his ruling and awarded $7 a week temporary alimony.

UNEMPLOYED, BELIEVED SUICIDE.

Harry Bath, 37 years old, unemployed truck driver who was found dead in his room at 6540 Woodlawn avenue yesterday, was believed by police to have committed suicide by poison.

EXPECT 135,000 TO REGISTER AT POLLS TOMORROW

Place Total New Voters at 60,000.

Estimates that 60,000 new voters will register in 403 polling places in Chicago and ten suburbs tomorrow and that 75,000 voters who have moved will get changes of address on the books, were made last night by the election board. The registration will allow those unable to visit the city hall an opportunity to register nearer home.

Centrally located polling places have been chosen in every ward and suburb in the board's jurisdiction. About one polling place for each ten voting precincts will be opened. Registration hours are from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

A voter may register or file a change of address in any one of these polling places regardless of whether it is in his ward.

Ten Suburbs Included.

The suburbs covered by tomorrow's registration, under control of Chicago's election board, are Chicago Heights, Berwyn, Harvey, Cicero, Summit, Evergreen Park, Stickney, Morton Grove, Elmwood Park, and Niles Center.

New registrations and changes of address, however, will be received by the election board at the city hall until March 14. That is the last day of registration and transfer of registration at the city hall for the primary of April 14.

Ald. John E. Egan [13th] announced yesterday his support of County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, who is seeking renomination on the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki ticket. The alderman appeared in Judge Jarecki's chambers with a delegation from his ward.

May Lead 13th Ward Fight.

Ald. Egan is expected to lead the campaign of the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki group in the 13th ward, where he has broken with the organization headed by Michael J. Flynn, committeeman. Flynn is candidate for renomination as county clerk without opposition.

At Springfield, Arthur Roe of Vandalia, United States district attorney, announced his support of Michael L. Igoe for the senate in the April primaries. He said the issue of whether the candidate for Senator William Dieterich's seat should come from downstate or not is not a fair issue.

Six More in Kansas City Are Convicted of Vote Frauds

Kansas City, Mo., March 3.—(AP)—Six more defendants in Kansas City's eleventh vote fraud trial were convicted late today by a federal court jury which deliberated 1 hour and 50 minutes.

The jury in Judge Merril E. Otis' court recommended leniency for Ellis Buck, 30 years old, a Democratic judge, and for Mrs. Ruth Tucker, 33, a Democratic clerk. Judge Otis said he would pass sentence at 9:30 a. m. next Thursday.

Maximum punishment for conspiracy to deprive voters of their right of franchise, the charge under which the six were tried, is $5,000 fine and 10 years' imprisonment. However, the maximum sentence never has been given in any of the fifty previous convictions which grew out of the government's investigation of 1936 election scandals in Kansas City.

Denies Railroading Any One.

Before the case went to the jury District Attorney Maurice Milligan, under whose prosecution fifty persons have been convicted, inserted unexpected fireworks.

"We have been charged in this case as in others with railroading persons to the penitentiary," said Milligan. "That is as false as hell itself."

Milligan, asserting the government officials here had been accused of prosecuting "only Democrats," denied the charge, said he was a Democrat, had worked for his party since he was 16. Then he added:

"But I don't believe in my party stealing votes, and if it was to win through fraud and corruption I hope it goes down in defeat and stays in defeat."

Senator Opposes Prosecutor.

Milligan was reappointed recently over the personal objection of United States Senator Harry S. Truman [Democrat of Independence]. Truman, after conferring in Kansas City with T. J. Pendergast, head of the incumbent Democratic organization, returned to Washington and attacked Milligan's record on the senate floor.

Senator Truman said Judge Merrill E. Otis, who presided at the present trial, and Judge Albert L. Reeves were "violently partisan." He declared "a Jackson county [Kansas City] Missouri Democrat has as much chance of a fair trial in the federal District court of western Missouri as a jew would have in a Hitler court or a Trotsky follower before Stalin."

JARECKI'S COURT RECORD DECRIED BY PRYSTALSKI

Judge John Prystalski, regular Democratic candidate for the nomination as county judge, addressed three political rallies last night and assailed the record of County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, the Horner-Courtney Democratic candidate. Judge Jarecki was denied renomination by the regular party organization.

Judge Prystalski charged his opponent had delayed hearings on tax objections as much as six years, thus increasing the county's tax load. He said appeals filed in 1930 had not been heard until 1936, thus forcing the school board and park districts to issue special tax anticipation warrants.

The meetings were at 47th street and Princeton avenue in the 14th ward; at 3133 South Halsted street, in the 11th ward, and 5603 West 22d street, in Cicero.

EXCESSIVE TAXATION AND THE ROOSEVELT DEPRESSION.

Congress is giving consideration to the administration's new tax bill, which covers more than 300 printed pages and consists of a series of intricate amendments to the present revenue law. Attention in Washington is upon details rather than on the larger aspects of the subject. Citizens, preoccupied at this time of the year with their income returns, may likewise be taking a narrow view, confining their thought to their own tax problems.

It is a good time, therefore, to look at some of the broader aspects of federal taxation.

In the fiscal year which ends next June the federal government expects to collect almost 6⅓ billion dollars from the American people. This sum is too large for most minds to grasp. It amounts to fully 10 per cent of the national income. You could buy all the automobiles, all the corn and wheat produced this year in the United States for 6⅓ billion dollars and have enough left over to buy the cotton crop.

But even that huge sum is not large enough for Mr. Roosevelt. He said in his last annual message that federal expenditures should amount to about 7 billion dollars a year from now on. Never in the nation's history did the treasury collect as much as 7 billion in one year; in fact there was only one year, and that at the peak of war inflation, when as much was taken from the American people as the 6⅓ billion which is to be squeezed from them in this year of economic adversity.

Mr. Roosevelt took office in 1933. He inherited a budget calling for tax collections of just over 2 billion dollars. Here are the figures for tax collections [not expenditures, but actual cash revenues] in that and subsequent years:

1934	3,116,000,000
1935	3,800,000,000
1936	4,116,000,000
1937	5,294,000,000
1938	6,321,000,000

The figure for 1938 is, of course, an estimate, but it is Mr. Roosevelt's estimate, and it is the third revision downward of previous treasury forecasts. Probably it is not grossly inaccurate.

A glance at these figures shows with what amazing rapidity federal taxes have mounted under Mr. Roosevelt's régime. The treasury now takes $3 for every $1 it took as recently as five years ago. The annual exaction has increased by no less than 4¼ billion dollars in the short space of five years, and the President says even that isn't enough. Taxes must go still higher. Still more must be taken each year from the pockets of the American people.

The 6⅓ billion dollars, which is this year's quota, might have been used constructively to build and buy useful things, to hire men and women, to expand factories. Instead it has gone into the sinkhole of federal spending and has been largely wasted.

The Roosevelt depression is no accident. It had a variety of causes, as we have seen, but this excessive burden of taxation, with its sharp increases from year to year, must be rated among the most important. We shall discuss some of the specific taxes in subsequent editorials, taking account of the changes proposed in the new bill. For the present purpose it is sufficient to call attention to personal income tax rates, which reach a maximum of 79 per cent; to corporate taxes, which, in some instances, can divert as much as two-thirds of the net income of a corporation, and of inheritance taxes, which take no less than 70 per cent of the largest estates.

Every commercial enterprise involves the taking of a risk. People accept the risk when they judge the chances of success to be better than the chances of failure. Today the government is taking an inordinate share of the profits, whatever they may prove to be, but contributes nothing if the venture fails. Inevitably the tendency of all this has been to destroy incentive. The result is stagnation, unemployment, misery.

A DEMOCRACY IN ACTION.

The world has been told so vehemently of late that democracy is out of date and free government a failure that it is pleasant to note that the new president of Argentina, Señor Ortiz, is not a military man and was put in office without the aid of castor oil, bludgeons, or bayonets. He is not even an orator. He is a lawyer and business man. More than that, he belongs to the liberal wing of the National Coalition, though he is pledged to carry on the general policies of the outgoing president, Señor Justo.

Apparently President Ortiz was chosen by a free and intelligent people on his record of long and able public service. While he is a highly respected lawyer and a successful business man, he has taken for many years an active part in public affairs both as a legislator and administrator. As administrator of internal revenue and minister of public works he has demonstrated exceptional ability, and as minister of finance in the Justo cabinet he won the respect of foreign governments, reducing the dollar debt and converting it within three years from $289,800,000 to $128,500,000 at lower interest.

In short, the Argentine democracy have freely and deliberately selected for the head of their government a citizen widely and thoroughly prepared to serve them in that capacity. There are very few chiefs of state among existing nations whose qualifications, judged by the record, are equal to those of the president of the Argentine republic. His selection was a demonstration of democratic responsibility and efficiency. If the dictators are looking for signs of democratic failure they will have to look elsewhere.

THE CULMINATING RUSSIAN PURGE.

Bukharin, Rykov, Rakovsky, and the eighteen other old Red revolutionaries now on trial were condemned before they faced their prosecutor. Bukharin and Rykov had been imprisoned a year while the prosecutors not only worked upon them to break down their moral resistance, if not their physical endurance, but also prepared the soviet public to believe them guilty of dreadful crimes. A campaign of vilification was prolonged nearly a year in order that their names might be made synonymous with the most damnable treachery to the nation and to the party principles.

These tactics are well understood and as the victims were brought before their executioners the mob was howling for their heads. They, knowing what had happened to hundreds of other men of prominence in the party and in the nation, were prepared for what was in store for them. The official newspapers, Pravda for the party and Izvestia for the government, declared the guilt of the accused unquestioned and their fate certain.

A search for the actual motives for this final act in the extermination of all of Lenin's coworkers, who formed what we would call a cabinet, gives two explanations, largely speculative but plausible. One is that Stalin is anticipating his own death or such a disability as overtook Lenin in his last two years of life, and providing for the succession to government control. As an Asiatic his animosities would be the last things to die and he would want to carry his vengeance beyond the grave. He would calculate that if he allowed the old revolutionaries to live, they, being the most distinguished men in the development of the soviet union, could take over the power when he had to give it up. He could see his enemy Trotzky coming back from exile in Mexico and the remnants of the group he threw out and did not murder taking over the government, sitting in the Kremlin, and trying to put their own theories in effect. If they are all dead, his own clique will be unopposed in continuing in power. The members of that clique will support him in getting rid of their better known rivals.

The second explanation, which is not contradictory of the first, is that Stalin now believes he has kept out of war about as long as he can hope or at least that the prospects are more threatening than ever and that it may be a war on two fronts, requiring the use of the army in the far east and either in Czechoslovakia or on that border. Any war so great has its perils behind the lines and Stalin may be fearful that his enemies would be able to take advantage of the first reverse in a war with Germany and Japan and depose and kill him. If all the old bolos are dead, that danger is diminished.

The confessions, as disclosed in the first day's public hearing, followed the pattern made familiar January of last year when the accused, including Karl Radek and Piatakov, vied with each other in self-condemnation and confession of conspiratorial acts which later revelations proved were false in every particular which could be exposed to proof. Why they did so was left a mystery, just as it is now a mystery why such men as Bukharin and Rykov will brand themselves as traitors to their own principles, their party, and their cause.

This time the mystery is lifted a little by the accused Nicholas Krestinsky, once soviet ambassador in Berlin, who, having given the prosecutor what he wanted in the preliminary inquisition, took advantage of the public hearing to deny everything he had been forced to confess. His explanation was illuminating and satisfactory. Whatever chance he had, which was virtually none at all, was to tell the truth when he had an opportunity to talk openly with the world listening. But according to the latest report Krestinsky has now repudiated his repudiation of his confession, which makes the situation crazier than ever.

The only explanation for the others is that they know they are doomed and want to get it over with. This may explain Krestinsky's latest switch. Most of them have some hostages whose fate will be less unkind if the accused satisfy their executioners. The families of the condemned men may suffer less if the accused justify what Stalin will do to them, whether they confess or not. Bukharin and Rykov have been in prison over a year and enough is known of the methods of handling such prisoners to indicate how the minds of the doomed men are broken down by relentless insistence that they condemn themselves.

Trotzky, as usual, was the dæmon behind the conspiracies. John Dewey's investigators found evidence that charges in the other two public trials were false and framed by Stalin and his secret police. There is a nice touch of irony in the fate of Yagoda, head of the secret police who framed Zinoviev and Kamenev, who now stands where he put them. It also would be amusing any place except in a Russian political trial to find that the absent conspirator, Trotzky, was accused of conspiring against himself with Germany at the time when he was war commissar and successfully campaigning with the Red army.

Editorial of the Day

THE POINT OF VIEW.

[New York Times.]

These are the days of subtle distinctions. When General Motors, due to the depression, lays off 10 per cent of its men it is "moral bankruptcy." But when the automobile union, citing the same cause, lays off 65 per cent of its organizers, it is plain common sense and enlightened self-interest.

GOOD FOR ALL.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

J. P. McEVOY, AUTHOR AND WORLD TRAVELER, dynamic as ever, although his shock of black hair is streaked with silver, has been in town for a few days. Back from China, Japan, and Palestine, he gives a new idea of Palestine for those of us who are still going about with little Bible pictures in our heads. . . . There's a bus line between Jerusalem and Bethlehem; the lake of Galilee is a summer resort, and there is a hot dog stand on the shore of the Dead sea. They rent bathing suits there and there's a little pier running out. A three lane highway goes past the little house where Mary and Martha lived. However, the town itself hasn't moved a muscle since the day of Christ's earthly existence, McEvoy said. From the Arts club, where we had had luncheon, he looked admiringly across the river to Wacker drive and the new buildings and the double deck boulevard and recalled when South Water street was the produce market place with crates and baskets cluttering the sidewalk and vegetable refuse choking the gutter. "And they said it couldn't be done," he said.

The author left yesterday for his home near Tuxedo Park, N. Y. He's just completed a script for what he calls a Hollywood charade. It's for a new Artists and Models production.

HEADLINE: "Abell, Kane Co. Announce Opening," under Security Dealers' Daily Financial Report for March 1. Although spelling styles have changed, isn't the younger brother taking a chance, asks Opus.

DE JONGHE'S DID YOU SAY? Yes, I remember, but it wasn't until 1920 that I started going there. You see, it was on the 6th of March, the day I was 20, that I met Jack and that night he took me to dinner at De Jonghe's, where I tasted my first cocktail, a dry Martini served in a demitasse cup (we were having prohibition then). And then came oysters De Jonghe, the most delicious I had ever eaten. We always lunched there on Saturdays. When it was corned beef we wanted we went across the street to the Victorian room in the old Palmer house. And in those days no one served better corned beef hash than the old Stratford. Then there was Ciro's, where we always lunched the day before Christmas, and last but not least came the Charles Dickens room in the Tip-Top, where I first tasted broccoli and where I received my engagement ring! They're all gone now, even Jack. He died in 1931. But in eleven years he managed to give me enough happiness to spread over a lifetime. And next Sunday once again I wear violets for Jack; he loved them and it's my birthday. Cath Holly.

WE LIKE THIS STORY OUT of the past. The grandmother of Mrs. W. R. Behanna of Lake Forest was a native of Charleston, S. C. A few years after the civil war a young Scot appeared on her social horizon. Contemptuous of any man who had not worn the gray Confederate uniform she spurned his advances. One Sunday afternoon he called, and despite her lack of cordiality, stayed until past tea time. Finally forced to ask him to stay, she started tea preparations. A more favored suitor arrived unexpectedly and there was a great bustle of preparation for tea. Hoping to embarrass the persistent Scotsman, she asked him to say grace. Bowing his head he said:

The Lord be praised and I'm amazed
To see how things have ended.
Cake and tea for supper I see,
When mush and milk were intended.

He was Mrs. Behanna's grandfather.

MAINTAIN PROTEIN BALANCE IN THE DIET.

THE other day I received a letter from a cultured woman. Her script was beautiful and her ideas were expressed clearly. She closed with the suggestion, "Will you not tell us more about foods? I know that a number of my friends are finding great difficulty in determining a correct balance of what to eat."

As most of us know, human existence is a game of build up and tear down. It goes on unceasingly throughout life. Its rate is increased or decreased as we are active or indolent. Those who indulge in muscular exercise must make sure that the tissues thus used up are replaced.

Proteins are vital constituents of every cell. They make life possible and comprise the construction materials with which repairs are made in the event of illness, injury, or disease of any sort. But they are probably our most misunderstood foods. We cannot store them within the system as we can fats and starches and this prohibits our taking on a generous supply and expecting it to last for a few days or weeks. If we consume an excessive amount today the surplus over that needed for 24 hours will be destroyed and thrown off via the excretory organs. In the process, a considerable overload is placed on the liver and the kidneys. If we fail to ingest enough, muscles may be drawn upon with resulting fatigue and that "all gone" feeling.

There are two varieties of proteins: [1] those which are termed "complete" and which contain all the necessary elements, called amino acids; and [2] those which are "incomplete"—made up of only a portion of these basic ingredients. Although there are twenty-one known amino acids at least nine must be found in the diet if we are to preserve good health.

When gelatin was first discovered it was hailed as a perfect food, but it was soon found that those who attempted to satisfy all demands for protein with this substance alone could not maintain normal efficiency. They became weak, depressed, and unable to work. In other words, gelatin lacks two of these indispensable acids—namely, tryphtophan and tyrosine. Meat, however, furnishes all the essentials. So do milk and soy beans.

We can scarcely realize that growing children need as much as or even more protein than adults. They require not only an amount sufficient for exercise but an additional quantity for development. This is the reason that milk is advised, as well as eggs and meat.

A diet high in proteins is not essential but we must have at least two ounces in each 24 hours. Translated into rations used, this means that if the protein requirement is met by meat alone the average adult must eat from 6 to 8 ounces daily. But inasmuch as the bill of fare embodies other forms, half this ratio will suffice usually.

We hear on every hand that meat is bad for the kidneys and the liver, is hard to digest, and that it causes high blood pressure. This is the veriest rubbish. Eskimos who live on meat and blubber rarely exhibit an elevation of circulatory pressure. In a certain type of nephritis—in which inflammation has brought about the excretion of albumin—protein is even more vital than before. The body requirements must be kept up and, at the same time, an extra proportion must be available to restore that lost via the urine.

I know of no combination of foods which excludes meat, eggs, and milk, and which will hold an individual in nutritional balance. We must recall that for the most part we depend upon starches and sugars to give us energy inasmuch as they are burned [digested] easily. We can exist comfortably on the minimal intake of protein if adequate starches and fats are employed.

The ideal regimen recommended by the British ministry of health for a 3,000 calory menu [working man] is two-thirds carbohydrates, one-sixth fat, and one-sixth protein—one-third of the latter being derived from animal sources.

USE OF INSULIN LIMITED.

L. W. writes: I read with great interest about the results that were obtained with insulin in the treatment of mental diseases. Is this treatment used in neuroses and neurasthenia?

REPLY.

Insulin is used in dementia precox, a psychosis, but as far as is known it is of no value in a neurosis. Mental hygiene still is the basis of treatment in neurasthenia.

COMPLETE EXAMINATION URGED.

M. L. A. writes: In being examined before marriage must one have a complete physical examination or only a blood test—or both?

REPLY.

A complete physical examination is advised, although a blood test is adequate as a routine test for syphilis.

CLAIM ON ESTATE.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would greatly appreciate a little legal advice regarding my mother's affairs.

1. She has open claim note against her father-in-law which has been in Probate court since his death four years ago. Her brother-in-law was appointed the executor of the estate. He has not as yet made any procedure to settle the claim my mother has against the estate. My mother is in dire need of cash and would like to know what action should be taken to get the claim settled.

2. Is there any chance to get the money soon?

3. Can anything be done if she went to Probate court and talked to the judge regarding the circumstances of the case, her need for cash, and the position she is in? J. N.

1. We do not clearly understand whether the claim has been allowed, and if not, whether it is the fault of your mother or of the executor. We suggest that she look it up on the court records and talk with the clerk of the court.

2. Depends on the facts which are not before us.

3. See preceding answers.

ECHO OF THE NAZI MEETING.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—In criticizing THE TRIBUNE'S report of the recent Nazi meeting Mr. O. H. Heins attempts to whitewash that gathering and implies that the main speech of the evening, a tirade against the Jews, was 100 per cent American. If the United States of America stands for anything it stands for a democracy in which the majority have a regard for others. Intolerance of others may be the ultimate aim of Fascist countries, but it is not a democratic idea and it is not held by the majority of honest Americans.

Although there were several ex-service men, members of patriotic organizations, on the platform, they did not speak in the name of their organizations. If their presence was used to give support to the main speaker of the evening, intentionally or unintentionally on their part, it was done without the consent of their respective organizations, one of which is quite wrought up over this incident.

BERNICE KEITH.

REFERRED TO MR. RIDGWAY.

Camp Point, Ill., Feb. 28.—I have read with great interest your four articles analyzing the new federal farm law. Will there be any further articles in connection with this undesirable law? I am interested in some cotton lands and had hoped you would have something to say on this feature. HEZ. HENRY.

MEMENTO OF 1936.

Racine, Wis., Feb. 23.—On my last trip to Chicago via the North Shore railroad, I noticed on the west side of the Wilson avenue "L" station a large sign which said:

"Vote to reëlect Roosevelt and Horner and continue recovery. Don't go back on the rocks with Landon and Knox."

RICHARD G. HARVEY.

WHERE THE SMOKE WENT.

Chicago, March 1.—Referring to the article in your issue of this date entitled "Chicago's Sky Free of Smoke; Reason Hazy," the following seems to shed more light on the matter:

At both our observatories at the University of Chicago and the Municipal airport the prevailing wind direction yesterday between 6 a. m. and 10 a. m. was northerly. At 11 a. m. and 12 o'clock noon it was northeast at the University of Chicago and north at the airport. At 1 p. m. the respective directions were northeast and northwest, at 2 p. m. they were northeast and west, at 3 p. m. southeast and west, and at 4, 5, and 6 p. m. all west. It will thus be seen that at 2 p. m. and 3 p. m. the directions at the two observatories were almost opposite to each other. Therefore, it would appear that any smokiness in the city during the fore part of yesterday afternoon should have been most pronounced near the central part of the city where the opposing winds met, this for the reason that winds from off the lake naturally become increasingly smoky or hazy as they progress westward across the city, while westerly winds assume like qualities as they move eastward across the city. C. A. DONNEL,
Principal Meteorologist in Charge.

DELINQUENT TAXES.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Mr. John O. Rees of the committee on public expenditures has again made tall headlines with his proposal to foreclose owners' equities for delinquent tax liens.

I agree with the scheme as the ultimate solution of a bad situation, but it should not be the first move. Ahead of it should come legislation to permit an adjustment and compromise between county and property owner.

This method would produce more actual revenue than speculators' bids on foreclosed properties. Then after a reasonable time had elapsed put your foreclosure law into effect. TOM L. BROWN.

THEY CAN'T MAKE YOU STAY.

Kankakee, Ill., Feb. 25.—Ask the person who is continually ribbing the double features at the theaters if he ever had the notion to walk out on one of these features. I have not heard of one theater raising the prices for this added feature. Nevertheless, I believe there has been an increase in patronage. If you are really worried over your health, see one feature and be satisfied with it.

W. E. BROWN.

THE LETTERS OF JOHN SHERMAN.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—In the Library of Congress at Washington, D. C., is a collection of Sherman papers; but it is sadly lacking in letters written by the late John Sherman. Since he had thousands of correspondents scattered over the United States, many of his letters probably have been preserved in private hands. It is desired to borrow such letters so that copies may be added to the collection permanently housed in the library. Loans of letters are particularly desired at this time, because a biography of Senator Sherman is under preparation at the library.

John Sherman was an important figure, and any one who helps to preserve his letters contributes definitly to our national history.

It is hoped that through your columns all those who have letters signed by Sherman may be moved to send copies of them, accurately transcribed, to the Library of Congress for my "attention." If originals are sent they will be copied and returned immediately, or added to the preserved collection, according to the wish of the sender. This service to history and to the memory of Senator Sherman will be highly valued by historians. The project has the warm sympathy and coöperation of many members of the Sherman family, including Mr. P. Tecumseh Sherman of New York City and Mr. Henry S. Sherman of Cleveland, O. JEANNETTE P. NICHOLS,
The Library of Congress.

JANITOR'S LIFE.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—In answer to Sam Cantor's remarks about the increase in janitors' pay:

That 7 to 12 per cent increase to the janitors includes the 5 per cent taken from the janitors. A janitor nowadays must be content to start at 5:30 and work straight through until 10 at night. He doesn't get an off night and in addition to this he must be a plumber, elevator repair man, pipe fitter and A1 mechanic in all lines. He is the garbage man, porter and all round flunky. If you see any janitors you'll see their hands look as if they do earn their pay. Never before have they had even a day's vacation.

Did Mr. Cantor know each janitor pays $212 for a card to join the union? Also he must pay $5 a month dues.

Of course, the rent boost was unnecessary. They had one raise. But don't be misled into believing a janitor's life is a bed of roses. He earns his money.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—Salaries and wages in Germany have remained stationary while the price of life necessities has risen and their quality deteriorated. Labor experts have noticed that in recent months the workers' zeal has slackened and the propaganda ministry has worked out a new plan which it hopes will fire the ambition of workers.

It proposes to create a "kulturmark" or "cultural currency" which will be given to the workers in addition to their regular pay. Official sponsors of the plan declare that in view of the "temporary shortage" of certain foodstuffs, textiles, and other raw materials, they cannot raise wages and salaries because the public would be tempted to increase its purchases of these goods.

By giving them special chits, or "kulturmarks," to spend on entertainment, sports, and culture, they hope to raise new cultural needs among the people and to create new incentives to work. The initial plan has met with Der Fuehrer's approval.

Common ownership of agricultural machines by a village or group of villages is advocated by the official Nazi farm periodical, the "N. S. Landpost," instead of privately-owned small farming equipment. It states that during the winter and other seasons when the machines are not used they represent a waste of raw material, and that "it could be regarded as a high national economic gain if the demands of a village for machines were not satisfied by a number of small machines, but by a few large ones, owned by the community instead of being private property.

All West-German cement factories have been unified in accordance with a decree issued by the minister of economics. The decree, issued to "guarantee the fulfilment of all orders which have been given to the building industry and to avoid endangering of smaller concerns in open market competition," is effective immediately and until Dec. 31, 1940. North German cement factories already had joined voluntarily, while factories in south Germany still are holding out against unification.

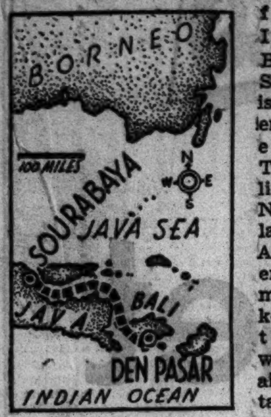
SARONG IS DRESS, PATTERN OF LIFE, TOO, FOR INDIES

May Denote Age, Station, Joy or Sorrow.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOURABAYA, Java, Dutch East Indies.—[By Air Mail.]—The flight from the Island of Bali to Sourabaya is convenient if not exciting. The Dutch line, Royal Netherlands Indies Airways, operates a trimotor Junkers plane twice a week. The air line distance is 200 miles and it takes the obsolete Junkers two hours—that, however, is better than fifteen hours by boat, if one happens to be going.



Dotted line indicates route of flight from Den Pasar to Sourabaya.

The airport for Den Pasar, Bali, is a thirty minute drive from town and is located on the edge of the Indian ocean. There are no facilities or conveniences except a small office. The field itself is large enough and flat, but quite rough. There are no runways.

Plane Takes Off in a Hurry.

Hundreds of natives flock around the edges to watch the plane. When passengers are loaded [twelve in a fourteen passenger plane] the engines are started and off the plane goes over the Indian ocean. There is no engine warming or revolution rate testing as air lines require in America.

The pilot swings westward up the southern coast of Bali, over a gap in the mountains, over a beautiful little island lighthouse, and then straight across the southern tip of Java sea to Probolinggo bay. There is a distinct difference between the deep green-purple mountains of Bali and the lower brownish hills of Java.

Towns on Java appear more prosperous than those of Bali. Many red roofs are visible and the streets are cleanly laid out. Now and then an industrial plant with large white smoke stacks appears.

As the plane approaches Sourabaya the fishing industry comes to life again. Hundreds of traps are seen along the coastline. Thousands of rice birds are disturbed as the plane comes in at low altitude.

Javanese a Taller Race.

Sourabaya is a city of 350,000 population and is the centralization point of transportation for the Dutch East Indies. The native Javanese, with their dark brown skin and straight black hair, are perhaps a bit taller and better dressed than other peoples of these islands.

Weaving, or the batik industry, is of major importance in Java. To the stranger a batik sarong is just a piece of colored cloth used for a skirt or wrap around the waist, but to the native it is of more significance—there are colors and designs denoting age, status in life, sorrow or happiness.

Java has been under Dutch influence since the first expedition of the Hollanders came in 1596, but most of the natives speak the Malay dialect in the cities and Javanese in the rural districts. The wealth of the island is principally in agriculture. Sugar cane, rice, tea, coffee, and peanuts are grown extensively.

Trafic Jumbled in Sourabaya.

In Sourabaya street cars, buses, taxis, and railroads are modern, but not up to the standards of America. Some very old railroad equipment is still in use. There are many freight cars with only four wheels. A switch engine working in the yards greatly resembles those exhibited by our railroads as relics. A train going out has a small modern engine pulling a train made up of live stock cars, old freight cars, and old and modern passenger coaches, all mixed up.

On the streets are many American and other foreign automobiles. The three wheeler [one in front and two behind] is very popular. Modern trucks are around, but most of the freight seems to be transported in large two wheel ox carts.

Brahma cattle are used extensively for draft animals. They usually are worked in pairs. Their shoes are tied on instead of nailed. The drivers take great delight in decorating the yoke and putting bells and fancy color bands around the necks of their teams. Small pony carts are numerous.

MISS MARGIE MAYER.

From an impulsive registration in a Senn High school music class to an operatic career—that's the musical history of Miss Margie Mayer, 19 years old, who signed a contract yesterday with Paul Longone, manager of the Chicago Civic Opera company, for the coming season. One of the milestones in her career was her success in 1935 and 1936 in the preliminaries of the Chicagoland Music Festival sponsored by THE TRIBUNE.

"Five years ago, I had an impulse to join Miss Zerline Metzger's music class at school," Margie related. "I stayed till my graduation in 1935 and studied with her afterward, too. Then, I sang several arias from 'Samson and Delilah' for Mary Garden." Miss Garden praised the young mezzo-soprano, an audition with Mr. Longone was obtained. Miss Mayer lives with her family at 6512 North Fairfield avenue.

PASTOR ADMITS LOVE FOR YEARS; DIVORCEE WEEPS

Steubenville, O., March 3.—(AP)—The Rev. Harold C. Zeis, 38 years old, ended his defense today against a $100,000 breach of promise suit with the assertion he "always hoped" until November, 1935, he would be able to marry Cora Lillian Burnham, 43 years old. She is the New York divorcée he courted for eight years and then left. He married a Steubenville widow. As he testified the divorcée wept.

The evidence, including love letters from both the rector and the divorcée, will be given to a jury of twelve middle aged men tomorrow.

Mr. Zeis took the witness stand to wind up the suit.

"There is no question in the world that I was in love with her," he said. "I always loved her."

Defense witnesses testified Miss Burnham repeatedly declared she could not marry the minister in the church because of church laws—restricting the remarriage of any but the "innocent party" in a divorce—and she would not marry him out of the church.

MISSOURI GIVES RELIEF IN FORM OF FOOD ORDERS

Farmers Controling Law Making Oppose Cash.

BY WILL O'NEIL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—[Special.]—The farmers who control the legislature in this state do not believe in giving checks to reliefers. For that reason relief throughout the state is given in orders exchangeable for commodities.

Many of the social workers, who do the actual work of relief administration, are opposed to the policy, but there is nothing they can do about it as all of the relief funds are distributed under state laws. Dietary provisions are necessarily limited by the amount of the commodity orders—$14.14 a month to the average relief case in this city. However, relief executives say the reliefers can obtain a sufficiency of nourishing food if they use the orders wisely.

Chicago Percentage Much Higher.

Proctor Carter, assistant state relief administrator and acting St. Louis executive for the state social security commission, which administers relief throughout the state, expects the direct relief rolls here to be under the 7,000 cases mark this month. The estimated load in Chicago during the period is slightly more than 94,000 cases. [A case may be an individual or a family group.]

The fact that St. Louis, which is about one-fourth the size of Chicago, has only one-thirteenth as many cases on direct relief is attributable to several factors. In the first place, it is said, the relief rolls, even before the present depression, were kept carefully pruned of all employable persons and of all those who did not belong on the rolls.

Emphasis Put on WPA.

Nearly every able bodied man is transferred to WPA immediately instead of being given direct relief. With this policy in force, there are nearly 40,000 WPA-ers at work here, or more than half the number at work on projects in Chicago. Some protests have been made that WPA workers have been losing pay because of bad weather, but there have been no strikes such as those that have occurred in Chicago.

Practically the only able bodied men now receiving direct relief are single men, of which there are 1,587 on the direct relief rolls. Certifications to WPA have been made for nearly 800 of these men.

"I have been assigning family men to the jobs first," said Lloyd Greathouse, St. Louis WPA director. "While I have never been given any instructions on such a procedure, it seems only fair to me to give work to men with families who need the money the most before giving it to a single man with fewer responsibilities."

No Preference in Chicago.

Family men in Chicago are not given preference in the assignment of WPA jobs. H. K. Seltzer, director there, said recently that no distinction is made between single and married men.

The small size of the relief budget here is another reason given for the small number of cases on the rolls. Carter said that a man receiving any industrial income at all is not eligible for relief. This is due to a shortage of funds as well as to policy. A man with almost any amount of private income is receiving as much as he would get if placed on the private relief rolls.

The Chicago Relief administration supplements private income if the individual earnings do not match the relief budget set up by the CRA. The CRA also supplements WPA income when the CRA believes such income to be inadequate. This is not done here.

Explains Attitude on Job.

"We believe that the amount of a man's private income is dependent upon economic forces which the social worker cannot control," Carter said. "If the man has a job—any job—it is not up to us to say what he shall or shall not earn, nor to set a wage level which employers must meet to entice people off relief."

Carter and other executives of the relief administration agreed that the present system of making it easy for people to get WPA jobs has undoubtedly lured many people to ask for relief who would not otherwise have done so. This same condition has been found to exist in Chicago.

Relief executives here take the stand that their primary purpose is to determine the need and eligibility of an applicant for relief and to keep a constant check to make sure that these factors remain in existence.

"We understand that we are not a private agency, but a public organization administering public funds," said Miss Carolyn Bedford, chief of the social workers. "Our workers are trained social workers, and we expect them to care for the needs of the clients in the way they have been trained."

One of the city's new pumpers which will get the first test at Navy pier Monday. Two arrived yesterday at the fire department shops, and three more are due today. They cost $14,500 each.

75 Miles an Hour

Two new streamlined pumpers, which develop more pressure and deliver more water than any the city has ever had, arrived yesterday at the fire department shops. Three more are due today to complete the shipment.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said that first tests of the pumpers will be Monday morning at the Navy pier. Costing $14,500 each, the pumpers will shoot water 180 feet into the air, as high as a 16 story building.

A crew of eight men will ride inside an enclosed cab, in front of the equipment. Commissioner Corrigan said the truck rides as if on air cushions, and can go 75 miles an hour.

EIGHT APPOINTED TO CO-ORDINATE RELIEF OFFICES

4 to Direct Business, 4 Social Work.

A plan designed to make relief administration uniform throughout the city and to provide a closer check on social service and business procedure was announced yesterday at the office of Leo M. Lyons, Chicago Relief administration commissioner. He was in Springfield when the announcement was made.

Four women who were heads of CRA district offices have been appointed area supervisors by Lyons. The twenty-five offices of the CRA throughout the city have been divided into four areas and each woman will have charge of the relief work in one area. In addition one woman and three men from the business staf of the CRA have been assigned as business office coördinators in the four areas.

Seek to Simplify Practices.

Lyons' statement said it is hoped the new system will simplify the business and social work of relief. The area supervisors and coördinators will seek to make relief practices uniform in all of the offices and will aid in finding ways to reduce red tape.

"This area supervisor plan is an endeavor to adopt some of the recommendations of the Illinois Council on Public Assistance and Employment to the administration of relief in Chicago," Lyons' announcement said.

The council made its recommendations on Jan. 28, 1938. Its first suggestion was that the state legislature should remove the present limitation on the amount of money the CRA can spend for administrative purposes.

As a second point the council said that persons with business experience and a knowledge of professional social work should be placed at the head of each office. The report said that offices of the CRA are under the supervision of social workers, who were not trained in office management or actual relief administration.

Social Workers Named.

The four women appointed under Lyons' plan are all professional social service workers, who have been serving as supervisors of district offices or bureaus for the CRA. Mrs. Anna D. Joyce is in charge of area 1 on the north side, Mrs. Esther Kent has area 2 on the northwest and west sides, Mrs. Ruth Goldman has area 3 on the near south side, and Mrs. Ruth Bellstrom has area 4 on the far south side.

Miss Mary A. Eagen, appointed business office coördinator for area 1, was in the central CRA business office. C. C. Orgo, Joseph McKirahan, and Winton B. Gibbs, coördinators in areas 1, 2, and 3, respectively, were district office business managers.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, in an opinion sent to Lyons yesterday, informed the commissioner that the city council was within its rights Wednesday when it authorized lending of $1,910,000 in city funds to the CRA. The money is to be used to supplement state funds during this month and April.

Gustave A. Brand, city treasurer, said his personal attorney, John Bolton, was in Hot Springs, Ark., and that he would not have an opinion on the legality of the council action before Monday.

FATHER ASSURES SON'S KIDNAPERS OF A CLEAR PATH

New Rochelle, N. Y., March 3.—[Special.]—A new appeal to the kidnapers of Peter Levine, 12 years old, was issued today by the boy's father, Murray Levine, assuring them that the way is open for negotiations.

The appeal was made just a week after the boy disappeared on his way home from school here. Subsequently demands for payment of $60,000 ransom were made in notes to the father.

"Police and federal authorities are not interfering and will not interfere," Levine declared in his plea to the abductors.

Meanwhile it was disclosed by a person close to the family that Levine had raised the $60,000 demanded by kidnapers. It was understood from this same source that only an appointment for delivery of the ransom remained to be set.

CRASH VICTIM DIES.

Buchanan, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—Adam D. Smith, 51 years old, died today, six hours after the lumber wagon in which he was riding was struck in the side by a truck. Smith was thrown to the top of the truck cab, thence to the top of the trailer, then to the ground. His team was unhurt. Smith left a widow and five children.

BRING SUIT TODAY FOR $12,000,000 SCHOOL WARANTS

Payment in Numerical Order Attacked.

An attempt will be made today in the Circuit court to force the refund of about $12,000,000 from 60 banks, business houses, and individuals who purchased $57,500,000 worth of tax anticipation warants issued by the board of education for 1929.

Judge Michael Feinberg was notified yesterday by Attorneys Benjamin E. Cohen and Mayer Goldberg that they will ask that the sixty be made defendants with the school board. They charge that the board illegally redeemed with interest the warants held by some investors, leaving others unpaid.

Paid Off in Order.

This situation came about through the school board's decision to pay off the tax anticipation warants in numerical order as tax money came in instead of dividing the money so as to pay all investors something on a pro rata basis. As a result investors who bought warants issued later received neither interest nor principal payments.

Attorneys Cohen and Goldberg are filing their action as the result of a judgment for $2,234,407 entered yesterday by Judge Feinberg in favor of seventy holders of unpaid 1929 tax warants. They contend the board acted illegally in paying the warants numerically.

Judge Feinberg's decision was based on a federal court case in which the Norfolk and Western railway contested the payment of warants numerically. The road won in the lower court and this decision was upheld by the Circuit Court of Appeals. Eventually the United States Supreme court affirmed the finding by refusing to review the case.

Acting for Two Clients.

In the new litigation Cohen and Goldberg are acting directly in behalf of the Southeast National Bank of Chicago, which holds $18,000 worth of 1929 warants, and Charles B. Scoville Jr., holder of $30,000 worth. By filing what is known as a representative suit, however, they will be acting in behalf of all holders of unredeemed warants. Since about $12,000,000 worth of warants are outstanding this amount will be asked in order that all investors may receive their pro rata shares.

It is within the power of the court, should the Cohen-Goldberg petition be granted, to order all principal and interest returned and then redistributed on a pro rata basis, or the determination of the amount of the refund can first be made and assessed upon the holders of the redeemed warants.

The sixty purchasers, who held $57,500,000 of warants with lowest numbers, were paid in full—plus interest—between 1931 and 1935. It was not immediately possible to calculate how much each would be asked to refund because payments varied throughout the years. Fixing the amounts is, the lawyers said, an accountant's problem.

Several Big Banks Involved.

Among the firms which Goldberg and Cohen will seek to have named co-defendants with the school board are most of the large Chicago and several New York banks and a number of investment houses. Most of them bought both educational and building fund warants and the sum opposite the partial list of holders given below represents the total investment, plus interest:

Name—	Received.
Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company	$8,273,197
Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company	5,226,411
First Union Trust and Savings bank	7,792,348
Guaranty Trust company, N. York	8,680,715
Harris Trust and Savings bank	2,202,721
Federal Reserve bank, Chicago	1,204,536
First National bank, Chicago	1,470,893
Northern Trust company	878,613

The school board has two ways of meeting the judgment entered against it yesterday: it may appropriate for it in the 1939 budget or fund it through a bond issue.

DASHES AWAY FROM BAILIF; THEN CALLS AT HOME TO GIVE UP

Morris Levin, who escaped from two Municipal court bailifs on Feb. 23 after he had been convicted of operating a house of prostitution and ordered to the Bridewell for a year, surrendered yesterday.

Morris Levin.

He first called Samuel Rothenberg, 1555 South Springfield avenue, one of the bailifs, and told him he would give up at the Rothenberg home. When he arrived two policemen, summoned by Rothenberg, were waiting.

"I slipped away from the License court in the city hall while the bailifs weren't looking," said Levin. "I'm sorry I caused them trouble and I'm willing to serve my sentence."

Rothenberg and Samuel Goldman, the other bailif involved, have been dismissed by Chief Bailif Albert Horan.

NATIONAL USED CAR EXCHANGE WEEK

MARCH 5 TO MARCH 12

SEE ANY CAR DEALER DISPLAYING THIS SIGN

YOUR GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO DRIVE A BETTER CAR

National Used Car Exchange Week begins Saturday, March 5. It is one of the greatest chances you've ever had to own a better car. Thousands of fine cars—many of them guaranteed by dealers—are offered at prices far below trade-in values.

There are many sound reasons why it is to your advantage to buy now. The season is right—spring is just around the corner. The values are right—dealers have an unusually wide selection of good used cars. And the prices are remarkably low—way below those of several months ago.

Here's something else. Many of the cars in this National Used Car Exchange Week are 1937, 1936 and 1935 models with modern features that your old car doesn't have. For cars have improved greatly in the last few years. And this sale gives you the opportunity to have these improvements for very little money.

Better gasoline economy—smoother, more powerful engines—roomier bodies—big tires—big luggage compartments—dozens of worth-while conveniences that weren't even thought of when your old car was built.

Think how you'd enjoy a car like that after the old one! Safety is important, too, for every member of the family. If you're driving a car with an old-style body or unreliable brakes, this is your chance to switch to a safer, more modern car, for very little money. And it's good business to trade-in your old car before you run into a big repair bill.

BRING IN YOUR OLD CAR

DRIVE OUT A BETTER CAR

EASY TERMS

Your present car may cover the down-payment on the better car you want. Pay the balance on easy terms. If you have no car to trade you can still take advantage of the low down-payments and easy terms during this sale. See the classified pages of this newspaper. Visit the used car lot or showroom of any authorized automobile dealer during the week of March 5 to March 12. Get there as early as you can, while the selection is best.

One look at the cars and the prices in this big nation-wide sale will convince you that you can't afford to pass up this remarkable opportunity to DRIVE A BETTER, MORE MODERN CAR.

PULLMAN TRUST TO 4 CHILDREN OF MRS. LOWDEN

Court Rules Out Claims of Grandchildren.

Judge James F. Fardy yesterday settled a friendly suit to construe the will of George M. Pullman by ruling that the four children of Mrs. Florence Lowden should divide the large trust estate left her by her father, the railroad car manufacturer.

Mr. Pullman died Oct. 19, 1897. He placed equal amounts in trust for his two daughters, Mrs. Lowden and Mrs. Harriet Schermerhorn of New York City. Mrs. Lowden, wife of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, died last July 5.

The trust, according to Mr. Pullman's will, terminated upon her death. He provided that the trust then should become the absolute property of her issue.

Bank Brings Suit.

As trustee under the will, the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company brought suit asking the court to determine the meaning of issue. Should it mean only her four children, asked the bank, or also include the five grandchildren.

Mrs. Lowden's children are George M. P. Lowden, Mrs. Florence L. Miller, Mrs. Harriet L. Madlener, and Mrs. Frances L. Drake. The grandchildren are Nancy L. Madlener, 11 years old, Frank L. Madlener, 6, John B. Drake III., 12, Barbara L. Drake, 11, and George M. P. Drake, 6.

If issue be construed as meaning the immediate children, said Attorney William D. Daggett of the law firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, representing the bank, then the trust should be divided in four equal parts for distribution. Otherwise nine shares should be made to include the grandchildren.

Attorney Daggett declared that the bank believed Mr. Pullman meant only his children when he used the word issue. But because there might be some doubt, the lawyer said, the bank wanted the court to determine the meaning of the will.

Old English Law Cited.

Attorney Brode B. Davis, representing Mrs. Lowden's children, said that under old English law issue meant both children and grandchildren. Because this often led to squabbles among heirs in 1915 New York passed a law explicitly stating that only children were to be considered issue. Illinois courts, he concluded, have followed the New York interpretation.

Judge Fardy held with Attorney Davis. His ruling also held that Mr. Pullman's summer estate, Castle Rest, in the Thousand Islands, which he left to Mrs. Lowden, should go only to her children.

Mr. Pullman's will left a $100,000 trust to care for upkeep of the estate, which was to be open every year from July 26 to Aug. 14. He also instructed that any member of the family, no matter how distantly related, should always be welcome at Castle Rest.

CAPT. WILLIAM KNOCH, RETIRED GRAND JURY CLERK, IS DEAD AT 81

Capt. William F. Knoch, retired Cook county grand jury clerk, died yesterday in the Illinois Masonic hospital after a year's illness. He was 81 years old.

Capt. Knoch, whose home was at 1639 Sherwin avenue, was well known because of his long service in the Criminal courts. After four years as a deputy court clerk, he became grand jury clerk and secretary in 1892. He served continuously until his retirement in 1928, except for one broken term.

He was a captain in the old Illinois First regiment, National Guard. He was a 33d degree Mason, trustee of the Illinois Masonic hospital, and member of the executive committee of the Masonic board of relief. Masonic funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at 919 North Dearborn street. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery. A brother, Fred Knoch, survives.

KING ZOG TO WED APRIL 25; 3 DAY FETE FOR ALBANIA

TIRANA, Albania, March 3.—(AP)—The wedding of King Zog of Albania and Countess Geraldine Apponyi, whose mother was an American, was set today for April 25 in the Tirana palace.

Only the civil ceremony will take place then. Pandeli Evangheli, president of parliament, will perform it. Albania will have a three day holiday, beginning April 24, to celebrate the event.

The 22 year old countess is the daughter of the former Gladys Virginia Stewart of New York, who was married July 29, 1914, to count Julius Nagy-Apponyi, member of the old Hungarian families of Apponyi and Karolyi.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Signs of Spring.

March 3, 1938.

THERE are many signs of an early spring on the Wheaton farm. . . . fresh sprouts of green rye visible in a field now that the snow has melted. . . . turkey gobblers strutting and calling around the barnyard. . . . baby chicks cheeping in their warm incubator home. . . . muddy fields. . . . deep ruts in some of the farm roads. . . . Muscovy hens making nests in the duck house. . . . the men making plans for spring planting.

But the most striking promise of early warm weather has come from the black swans. Usually these big birds don't start making their nests until late in April, but this spring they are either badly fooled by recent 50 degree thermometer readings or they are very smart weather forecasters. These birds have started to make a nest—almost two months ahead of schedule. They didn't even wait until it was warm enough to go outside to go to work, but started building inside the swan house!

Hoard Their Straw.

The birds are always provided with a supply of clean straw for their house. But instead of using their straw as bedding material, they have been hoarding it for making a nest. They already have a mound about four feet in diameter and a foot high in one corner of their winter quarters.

The actions of the turkeys, ducks, geese, and swans usually are good indications on coming weather, so the men on the farm believe that we'll have an early spring. There are more Muscovys nesting in the duck house now than at this season of any recent year. The swans are far ahead of schedule, and are getting cranky and mean—as they usually do at the mating season. The turkeys are fussing around the sheep barn in search of nesting sites, and some of the turkey hens have made preliminary trips to the farm woods to find secluded and inconspicuous nesting places.

The recent warm days made the men on the Wheaton farm think about spring days to come and another busy season in the fields and experimental plots. When we chatted with the farm manager the other day he was telling us of his spring plans. The men have already examined seed catalogs to see which varieties of radishes, lettuce, carrots, and other vegetables they will want to plant. The frost is out of the ground now, so if there are no more rains and long periods of freezing weather it won't be long until the planting season will open.

Seeder is Put in Order.

The men also have checked over the seeder to make sure that it is in good working order. This implement will be used before the end of the month to broadcast timothy and clover seed. There is very little spring plowing to be done this year, so the first big field job will be the sowing of oats in April.

The pair of Bourbon Red turkey gobblers had a private squabble in the barnyard the other day, but it didn't last long. The larger bird flew at the smaller one feet first, rolled it over in the mud and the fight was over. All the gobblers are strutting these days, with their beautiful tail feathers spread like big fans and their wings touching the ground. One of the gobblers is a bit hampered in his style show as he has lost two of his tail feathers. Every time he struts before a group of hens he presents a kingly but somewhat ludicrous appearance because of the missing feathers. The flockmaster explained that the bird lost the feathers when it was shipped in a crate from Indiana several weeks ago.

SULTAN OF OMAN IN WASHINGTON; NATION'S GUEST

Rules Tiny Patch of Hill in Arabia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—His Highness Said Bin Taimur Bin Faisal, Sultan of Oman and Muscat, who lives in neither Oman nor Muscat, arrived in Washington today to spend three days as the guest of the nation.

The White House, the state department, the army, and the navy have elaborate plans for the entertainment of the royal Mohammedan visitor, who receives $225,000 a year to govern in name only a tiny patch of hill and desert on the Persian gulf at the southeast corner of the Arabian desert. He spends most of his time across the gulf in India.

Greeted by Secretary Hull.

Dressed in flowing brown and gold robes and carrying on his head a multi-jeweled turban of many bright colors, the sultan, 27 years old, round, dark, and short, stepped off his private car in Union station and royally received the bowed greeting of Secretary Hull.

There was a flourish of trumpets and the oriental visitor walked between lines of marines, sailors, and soldiers to a waiting limousine. Behind a troop of cavalry and the army band, which had been rehersing the national anthem of Oman, he proceded slowly up Pennsylvania avenue to the Willard hotel, where he and his attendants will occupy the five room royal suite on the eighth floor. His wives he left at home.

Try to Glimpse Sultan.

Hundreds of persons lined the concourse of the station and pressed their faces against the iron bars separating them and the train shed to catch a glimpse of a sultan in the flesh. Mr. Said, as he has been going incognito in the United States, until today, reached Washington at 6:55 a. m., but he slept peacefully in his car for several hours.

Beside Secretary Hull in his tall hat, there were Marvin McIntyre, secretary to the President, representing the White House; Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, in red lined cape and gold flaked fore and aft hat; Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staf of the United States army, and Maj. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, representing the marine corps.

Hardly had the young sultan settled himself in the royal suite than it was time to leave for luncheon at the White House, a state function presided over by the President himself. In the evening the secretary of state gave a dinner for the visitor, who two years ago entertained an American diplomatic mission with a banquet at which the entree was whole roast sheep, served without knives, forks, or spoons.

ANN HEWITT GAY, HEIRESS BRIDE, SUES FOR DIVORCE

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—Ann Cooper Hewitt Gay, young heiress, filed suit for divorce today from Ronald M. Gay, charging grievous mental suffering during her four months of marriage to the garage foreman.

Mrs. Gay also asserted in her complaint that she and her husband were temperamentally incompatible because of differences in environment and rearing. No alimony was asked.

They were married Oct. 8 at Grant's Pass, Ore., and separated Feb. 8 when Gay returned to the Fruitvale, Cal., home of his mother.

Mrs. Gay once filed a $500,000 damage suit against her mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, and two physicians in 1935, charging they tricked her into a sterilization operation to deprive her of an inheritance.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS FOR 1ST 7 WEEKS OF 1938

During the first seven weeks of the year, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, reported yesterday, the city reversed an unfavorable health trend and recorded more births than deaths.

There were 4,648 deaths, 925 fewer than in the same period in 1937. In the same time 5,611 babies were born, 284 more than last year. With 37.8 deaths per 1,000 among babies, the city's infant mortality rate was the lowest last year of any large city in the world.

The first seven weeks of the year, as in 1937, recorded a more favorable general death rate than New York City. The rates per 1,000 population for 1938 and 1937 respectively were: New York, 10.8 and 12.7; Chicago, 9.4 and 11.3.

Award Attorney's Estate $10,000 from Insane Slayer

Judge John F. O'Connell of the Probate court yesterday entered an agreed order for a $10,000 judgment against the estate of John W. Keogh, who is in the Illinois State hospital at Menard. The judgment was in behalf of the estate of Attorney Christopher G. Kinney. Keogh was adjudged insane after he shot Kinney to death in a courtroom in 1936.

SAMUEL MEYER, SON OF PIONEER SETTLER, IS DEAD

Samuel Meyer, son of Nicholas Meyer, the first white settler of Niles Center, died yesterday in his home at 7914 Lincoln avenue in the suburb. He was 89 years old.

Nicholas Meyer built a log cabin in Niles Center in 1847, earning a living as a hunter and trapper. Samuel Meyer ran a general store there until ten years ago. He was an organizer of the volunteer fire department in 1876, and served several terms on the village board.

Surviving are his widow, Julia; a son, Herman, and a daughter, Mrs. Patrick Gaynor. Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p. m. in St. Peter's Evangelical church, Niles Center, with burial in St. Peter's cemetery.

FREIGHT TRAINS COLLIDE; BLOCK MAYWOOD TRACK

Three cars of an Illinois Central freight train were overturned and the engine of a North Western railway cattle train was damaged yesterday in a crash just west of the Fifth avenue and Main street crossing in Maywood.

The North Western train, inbound from Omaha on a main line, struck the Illinois Central train, which was pulling out of a spur track. Witnesses said the cattle train went through a block signal. No one was injured, but it took workmen nearly five hours to remove the wreckage.

DUCE A MOURNER AS D'ANNUNZIO FUNERAL BEGINS

GARDONE RIVIERA, Italy, March 3.—(AP)—The body of the poet-warrior, Gabriele d'Annunzio, began its journey to the tomb today.

Soon after dawn Premier Mussolini arrived at Vittoriale, D'Annunzio's villa, and watched as the body was placed in a simple oak coffin without decoration. Il Duce advanced and kissed the dead man's brow and the coffin then was sealed. It was placed on a gun caisson and taken to the parish church of San Niccolao. There, in the presence of Mussolini, his ministers and representatives of the royal family, D'Annunzio received the benediction of the church which long had disapproved of him for his writings.

The cortège reformed and the body was carried back to Vittoriale. The three-inch cannon on the bow of the destroyer Pugli, set on the crest of a hill on the D'Annunzio estate roared repeatedly as the cortège entered the grounds. The body was placed upon the warship's prow. Tomorrow it will be removed and placed temporarily near the tomb of the poet's mother among altars erected in memory of the Fiume legionnaires.

FRENCH CHAMBER O. K.'S LABOR LAW; DEADLOCK ENDED

PARIS, March 4 [Friday].—(AP)—The chamber of deputies early today passed the first section of Premier Camille Chautemps' labor code after a five day deadlock which had threatened a cabinet crisis. The chamber voted 424 to 134 for the measure on its sixth reading after accepting unanimously a senate provision excluding farm workers. This clause had been the point at issue.

The premier failed to put the issue to a vote of confidence, which he had threatened, when the chamber dropped its demands to extend the measure to include agricultural workers. Only minor differences in wording remained, and Chautemps promised to iron these out in the upper house. The measure was sent to the senate, which will reconvene today.

The labor code will provide for revision of wages periodically to meet living costs. Prompt action on it was considered urgent in view of a strike of taxi drivers at Nantes, sit-in strikes in twenty-five chemical plants near Marseilles, and thirty-five shoe factories at Limoges.

HEWITT LEARNS AIRPORT LAND IS NOT MILE SQUARE

Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt announced yesterday that preliminary surveys at Chicago airport have disclosed that the tract now available for landing purposes is not a square mile as had been reported. Instead the area has sides of unequal length. The differences, however, are so slight they will have no bearing on the city's plan to expand the field by moving the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks from the center of the field to its northern edge. The field is 77 feet short of a mile along 63d street, 50 feet short along 55th. It is 8 feet longer than a mile on Central avenue and 77 feet short of a mile along Cicero avenue.

NIGHT OF PLAYING CHOO-CHOO COSTS AUTO DRIVER $4

Herbert Guernsey, who gave a number of locomotive engineers the jitters Wednesday night by driving his car around and around in the Dearborn station train shed, appeared in the South State Street court yesterday—without his car—and faced Judge Eugene J. Holland. Since nothing serious had come of the incident the railroads were inclined to take a mellow attitude about it all. Special Agent Horace Carruthers of the Chicago and Western Indiana railway seemed almost sympathetic as he explained Guernsey probably got lost on Taylor street, where the web of tracks cross. The judge remarked Guernsey didn't appear to feel very well and fined him $2 and $2 costs.

OBITUARIES

Dr. John A. L. Waddell.

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Dr. John Alexander Low Waddell, 84 years old, died today. An engineer, he was credited with originating the modern vertical lift bridge. He was decorated by the Chinese, Italian, Japanese, and Russian governments, and in 1931 the American Association of Engineers conferred on him the Clausen medal for having done "the most to advance the interests of the engineering profession in the United States."

NOW THEY WANT STREAMLINING IN GIDEON BIBLES!

Hotel rooms and furnishings, like almost everything else, have become more and more streamlined. They have been made a little brighter, a little snappier—everything except the Gideon Bible that is placed in each room. Finally S. R. Gill, who manages a modern hotel at Bloomington, urged that the Gideons do something about it. The Gideons thought this a good idea. They're going to do something about it.

All this came out yesterday at the third annual Midwest Hotel show, which is being held at the Palmer house. The show closes today, but its effects probably will be felt in many of the nation's 17,000 hotels and 1,800,000 hotel rooms. The Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit association, which met at the show yesterday, elected Leonard Hicks, managing director of the Morrison hotel, as its president.

BARGAIN COUNTER PILED WITH FISH FOR LENT MENUS

Fresh and Frozen Sea Food Are Featured.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Retail meat markets throughout the city and suburbs are featuring fish during the lenten season which began Wednesday and will last until Easter Sunday, April 17. Both fresh and frozen fish are piled high on the bargain counters. Frozen halibut and white fish are off 4 cents a pound in many shops. Fresh herring is 2½ cents lower and frozen perch is 3 cents less than last week-end. Pike heads the list; some shops are offering frozen pike for as much as 5 cents a pound under last week's prices.

Fresh pike, however, has been marked up 3 cents and fresh trout 4 cents a pound in some places. Fresh salmon and haddock prices are the same.

Stewing Chickens Down.

Stewing chickens have been reduced as much as 8 cents a pound in some shops. Several butchers are offering young hens at greatly reduced prices. Frying chickens are off 3 to 4 cents a pound in many butcher shops.

Cured ham still is a bargain counter item in a long list of shops. In many places it has been cut 6 cents a pound. Beef rib roast is off slightly in a few places. Some meat retailers reduced their leg of lamb 4 cents a pound, but added 6 cents a pound to the prices of their lamb shoulder chops.

Few butchers raised the prices of other fresh meat cuts. Some added 2 cents a pound to their pork loin roasts and 1 cent a pound to pork spare ribs. Round and sirloin steaks were marked up 2 to 4 cents a pound by many butchers.

Stock Supply Short.

John Campbell, federal live stock market reporter, says salesmen ran low on meat animals at Union Stockyards this week, resulting in price advances on beef cattle, hogs, and lambs. Good and choice steers are 25 to 50 cents a hundred above last week's prices, the top reaching $10.35 a hundredweight. Fresh beef remained about the same.

Lambs are 50 to 60 cents a hundred pounds higher than a week ago. The week's top went to $9.20 a hundred. Dressed lamb went up, too; packers added $2 a hundred to their dressed lamb prices.

Hogs are 35 to 75 cents a hundredweight higher and fresh pork is wholesaling at about last week's prices. The week's top on fat hogs was $9.60 a hundred.

The live stock shortage here this week, according to Mr. Campbell, is due to March 1 being moving day for thousands of farmers and frost going out of the ground, leaving feed lots soft and making it difficult for farmers to ship their animals.

Most Eggs Cheaper.

Most grades of eggs are 2 to 3 cents a dozen lower than last week. A few stores are selling their higher priced grades of eggs at last week's levels.

American cheese is off about 4 cents a pound in many stores and some are offering various kinds of package cheese at lower prices. Some merchants have put 5 pound boxes of sugar on their sales counters at 3 cents a box less than a week ago.

Green grocers have marked down their price tags on nearly a dozen fresh vegetables, following lower wholesale prices last week. Green beans are 3 cents a pound less in most stores. Celery is lower in many places. Spinach is cheaper in virtually all stores.

Reduce Green Stuffs.

Green onions, rutabagas, bunch radishes, sweet potatoes, fresh tomatoes, new potatoes, and fresh rhubarb are lower in most places. Green peas are off 2½ cents a pound in a few.

Butter is 1 cent a pound higher in some shopping centers. Bunch carrots are up in a few places and fresh strawberries are 1 to 3 cents a pint box higher.

Wholesale prices of fresh fruits and vegetables at the central market are being influenced by what dealers call a weather market, resulting in higher prices on some items. Floods in parts of California and Arizona have prevented harvesting of truck crops during the last few days, according to word received by A. B. Farlinger, federal market reporter. This condition is pushing up wholesale prices of head lettuce, cauliflower, and bunch carrots.

Tomato Crop Late.

Recent cool weather in Florida checked the ripening of tomatoes, causing a temporary increase in prices. All kinds of oranges are higher on the central market than last week and grapefruit are starting their regular seasonal price advance. Prices are higher on the best quality of celery.

Dry onions and new potatoes are lower than last week.

CANNED FISH PROVIDES MANY QUICK SNACKS

Wise Hostess Has Big Supply on Shelf.

BY MARY MEADE.

Fishes are canned in great variety and in many different ways. The sizes and shapes of the cans are various, too, in keeping with the sizes and shapes of the contents. A wise cook keeps an assortment of canned fish on her shelves so that when she is looking for a quick idea for appetizer, salad, or main dish, she may find inspiration among the labels.

This is a fairly complete list of the popular fish now canned:

CANNED FISH AVAILABLE.

ABALONE, cubed or minced. This is a large, white fleshed sea snail, the flesh of which is used in chowders, giving a clamlike flavor. It is highly prized in the orient but isn't used a great deal in this country.

ANCHOVIES, rolled, whole, or in paste. These are small, strong flavored fish of the herring family, packed in oil and salt. They are extensively used in small quantities to flavor salads. Whole ones are used as appetizers, the paste often as a canape spread.

CAVIAR, red and black. Caviar is the roe [eggs] of various fish, although it originally consisted only of the eggs of sturgeon. The largest quantity comes from Russia, but some is prepared in this country. The best caviar is rather expensive. It is used chiefly as an appetizer.

CLAMS, little neck, razor, minced, clam juice. The razor clam usually is minced, while the little neck clam is canned whole or made into chowder or broth. Clam juice or nectar is the natural juice of the clam, extracted by heat. It is liked as an appetizer.

CODFISH, balls, cakes, flakes. The balls and cakes usually contain potatoes as well as codfish meat. The flakes are packed dry.

CRABS, deviled, or crabmeat. Crabmeat is packed in two grades, the choicest being large pieces of white meat, the second grade the dark meat, and bits. Crabmeat is a popular choice for salads and for hot dishes served in sauce.

HADDOCK, FINNAN HADDIE. Haddock is packed as fish balls in combination with cereals, usually in pound size cans. Smoked haddock, or finnan haddie, also is canned.

HERRING, fresh, kippered, in tomato sauce. Kippered herring is first pickled, then smoked and dried before being packed.

LOBSTERS. Lobster meat is packed dry with salt or in brine, and occasionally also with spices added. Much of our supply comes from Canada, as Maine laws restrict sale of lobsters so that American packers cannot obtain large quantities cheaply enough to make canning profitable. Crabmeat is much used by the homemaker as a substitute for the more expensive lobster.

MACKEREL is packed with vinegar and spices, or in oil, also as kippered and as smoked mackerel.

OYSTERS. Oysters are graded for size and are packed in cans from 3 to 10 ounces in weight.

SALMON is canned in quantities to exceed the total of other fish canned in this country. Most common grades are chinook, red, or sockeye, cohoe, pink, and chum. The latter are cheaper grades, the flavor isn't as good and the oil content is small. The color of the cheaper grades is less attractive than that of chinook and red salmon.

SARDINES are packed in oil, in tomato sauce or in mustard sauce. Choicest small fish usually are packed in olive oil. Medium size comes in cottonseed oil, and the larger fish in the sauces.

SHRIMP. Shrimp are canned in various sizes, in wet or dry pack. It makes little difference which is used. Shrimp are very popular served cold with a spicy sauce as an appetizer, served hot with cream sauces as a main dish, and used in salads.

A WAY TO MAKE FROSTING THAT MAKES THE CAKE

The frosting often makes the cake. It's unfortunate but true. A poor cake dressed up in an attractive icing gets by where a light and velvety cake sans frosting may be spurned by the family.

Generally speaking, a generous amount of icing applied in careless appearing swirls is more attractive than decorations with intricate pastry tube ruffles and pipings. And that careless look is carefully accomplished.

First, use a tested recipe. Allow the cake to cool thoroughly and brush or scrape all loose crums from the cake. Frost the top of the bottom layer first; then carefully place the top layer over the frosted layer, making sure that the edges are even. Pile frosting on top of the cake near the edge. With a spatula, draw frosting down over the edge onto the sides of the cake. Smooth frosting on sides of cake with big sweeping strokes. Pile remaining frosting on top of cake, and smooth out in large attractive whirls. A slightly uneven surface, showing traces of the spatula, is the most attractive and natural looking. If frosting is tinted, add the vegetable coloring a little at a time.

A FULL COOKIE JAR POLICY WINS CHILDREN'S VOTE

A full cookie jar policy is the secret of many a grandmother's popularity with children. With good drop cookies so easy to make it's now anybody's secret. Apple butter drop cookies are new and delicious.

APPLE BUTTER DROP COOKIES
[About 2½ dozen]

¾ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
⅔ cup apple butter
⅔ cup oatmeal
1 egg
1 cup flour
⅓ teaspoon baking soda
⅓ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons milk
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup seedless raisins

Cream the butter and sugar, add the egg, oatmeal, and apple butter. Sift together the flour, salt, baking soda, and baking powder; add a little at a time to the mixture. Beat until thoroughly blended. Add milk, nuts, and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookies sheet and bake at 400 degrees.

CREAM OF BEAN SOUP IS GOOD AND NOURISHING

A steaming bowl of cream of bean soup is among the most satisfactory of luncheon dishes. It is filling and nourishing and oh, so good!

CREAM OF BEAN SOUP.

2½ cups milk
2 slices onion
1 tablespoon butter
Dash of pepper
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup strained baked beans
1 stalk celery
1 cup strained tomato
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon catsup

Heat the milk with the onion in top of double boiler. Add butter, pepper, salt, and beans. Remaining ingredients may be omitted if desired or added at this point. Cook slowly for 30 minutes.

HILLS BROS. COFFEE

"TOO KEEN AN EDGE DOES NOT CUT...TOO FINE A POINT DOES NOT PIERCE"
—AN OLD PROVERB

This proverb can be fittingly applied to the "grind" of coffee. If coffee is ground too fine it will fail to produce its true flavor. Hills Bros. have proved this in countless tests during their sixty years in the coffee business. Hills Bros. Coffee—

—is guaranteed to produce the finest-tasting beverage by any method of coffee-making. Millions of people have proved for themselves that Hills Bros.' Correct Grind gives the utmost in flavor in every cup...again and again.

Maurice Evans Tea Guest of English Union

For one of the few times in his career as a Shakespearean actor, Maurice Evans stood with his back to the light, instead of facing it, to make an informal speech yesterday afternoon at the Arts club at a tea given for him by the English Speaking union. The actor is as brunet in real life as he is blond as "King Richard II.," and just as slim, therefore greatly in need of the mattress he wraps about himself to play Falstaff in "King Richard IV., Part I."

Mr. Evans prophesied the return of the stage to public favor.

Since it is usual to describe on these pages an especial guest's costume, it would not be amiss to mention Mr. Evans' coat, which was a full cut black cloth one, plaited in the back for still greater fullness and handsomely collared in brown fur. With it he wore a black Homburg hat, blue trousers, and brown calf shoes.

Samuel M. Rinaker, president of the union, introduced the speaker, who is appearing currently at the Grand Opera house. Among the guests who met the actor, who is British, were the British consul general and Mrs. Lewis Bernays.

DON'T TELEGRAPH YOUR PLAYS.

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The trouble with most players is that they are entirely too orthodox. Their leads and plays amount to a wigwag system, with the interested declarer doing at least as good a job of deciphering as their own partner can do. There is a time for sending messages and a time for remaining mute.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Double	Redouble	1 diamond
Pass	1 heart	2 clubs	Pass
Pass	Pass

West selected his opening lead with an eye to safety. The only suit that would not jeopardize an honor was trump, hence he led the club ten. Declarer drew another round of trumps, then led a low heart to the ace, and returned a heart to the queen. West, thrown on lead, saw that any exit might be costly. Declarer had shown only the club ace and heart queen. Undoubtedly he had the spade ace, and could not have had a bid without the diamond king as well. If, as declarer's play suggested, the hearts now were stripped from the North-South hands, a heart return would permit a ruff and discard. Leading a spade honor would be merely sacrificing it, since declarer would win with the ace and lead back to dummy's jack. All this reasoning took only a few seconds, and West found a beautiful and deceptive solution. He returned, not the king or queen of spades, but the deuce! Of course it is easy to see, with all the hands showing, that declarer could have put up dummy's jack, and held the trick. But declarer was not gifted with such eyesight. He thought it possible that West was underplaying the king and queen, but certainly could not be sure of it. West might hold, as part of his double, only the king and ten of spades, with perhaps the ace and queen of diamonds as compensation. At any rate, declarer guessed wrong. He played low from dummy, hoping to capture a high honor from East. Instead, the ten forced the ace, and after that declarer had to lose two spade tricks and two diamonds.

It is true that East-West could have made a better score by bidding at least two hearts, since three could have been made by guessing the correct heart play. But, strangely enough, the mere fact that South was held to two clubs resulted in an excellent match point score for the defenders.

Child Needs Outlets for Early Skills

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

The young child is not naturally destructive, we were saying yesterday. He's curious and this leads him into exploration and experiment that, sometimes, quite innocently causes damage. This is part of his learning. To blame or punish is a mistake.

Let the first toys or other objects be durable, at the same time that you give your child all reasonable freedom about the house, and you'll see he isn't destructive and that he quickly acquires the ability to handle and use most things without breaking them. The small boy or girl, grown a little older, gets interested in how things work, and because he or she shows this interest in something we prize [or think should remain intact] we disapprove and label that act destructive.

Well, in the first place, when you see this tendency developing put away the objects that won't bear dissecting. This is only temporary. Then, look around and provide all the take-apart and put-together articles you can. There are lots of house furnishings that satisfy the first simple urge: pot covers and pots, a double boiler, nests of saucepans.

You can buy nests of boxes and blocks that fit exactly into their container or into a little pull wagon. There are a number of playthings and elementary craft materials in the toy departments that are designed to satisfy this impulse to take apart and put together. They are graded to increase in difficulty according to age.

But here's a warning: Whatever you do, don't buy anything that is too difficult. And by that I mean too complicated or involving too fine muscle coördination. Such playthings give a child the experience of failure when he's not any too sure of himself, anyhow; discourage him; and, if he's persistent even in the face of insuperable difficulties, are bad for his nerves.

The good thing for all mothers to learn to do in this as in other aspects of behavior is to watch carefully a child's tendencies and interests, and trail along, satisfying them as the urge shows itself. And, as I have said so many times before, don't depend upon toys exclusively with your younger children; your home is a rich playground and has all sorts of things that hold interest and value for your child.

Emerson O. Bradshaw, director of religious education for the Chicago Church federation, which represents 18 denominations, has prepared a series of brief meditations on the life of Christ for each of the 40 days of Lent. His meditation for today deals with Christ's 40 day fast in the wilderness on which Lent is based. It follows:

"Our Lord entered the wilderness in the same spirit in which he entered Gethsemane three years later. He faced a terrific crisis. In the wilderness he felt himself being forced into life; in Gethsemane he was being forced out of it.

"What did this wilderness silence do to him? It steadied him; enabled him to find himself. It gave him time to allow all visionary aspects of his messiahship to evaporate. It taught him the kind of a Great One he was to become.

"Should he go forth as a king or dictator regimenting his people and delivering them physically into the empire of their dreams, or should he appear as an humble traveling teacher with no pretense of earthly might and without an organized following? He chose the latter.

"He would enter on his messiahship eating, drinking, dressing, sleeping, and traveling like the humblest of his subjects. This decision went counter to much of his early training and against many of the most cherished traditions of Judaism. He scrapped the imperial and warlike view of the Messiah."

The women's department of the Chicago Church federation will observe today as "World Day of Prayer," with services during the morning and afternoon at Chicago temple. The morning speaker will be Dr. Mary E. Woolley, former president of Mount Holyoke college. In the afternoon Dr. Meron S. Rice of Detroit, Mich., will speak.

Too Perfectly Molded Hairdo Lacks Beauty

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Betty Winkler, radio star, used an amusing expression in connection with hair the other day.

"Life a pastry chef's dream of a perfect mold," was her analysis of a headdress under observation.

No woman can be herself with hair so set, precise and prim. If she wanted to shake her head, she'd have to think of her hairdo. She'd think twice before she'd go for a walk for fear it might be blown. Anyway, that's the effect produced on an observer when the hair is so set and waved. And not typical of the 1938 attractive woman, whose hairdress is such that she can forget it when it comes to any kind of activity.

While the majority of girls and women now has achieved the informally correct in hairdress, one still sees a number of our sex who answer Betty's "pastry mold" description.

It so happens that I see a great many of the stage, screen, and radio stars, and over and over again I am impressed with the charming informality of their coiffures. Not, understand, that they are not beautifully arranged by professional fingers, but the waves are large, with little noticeable indentation, and there is an easy, natural, but skilled arrangement around the face.

The "set mold" referred to above hasn't this. One has the feeling about such a hairdo that it's cut to a stiff pattern and nobody is going to make up its mind for it to deviate by a hair. It simply looks '29 wax window model, if you know what is meant. I don't know how else to describe it than to compare it with a terribly self-conscious and formidable person fearful of doing the wrong thing, as opposed to the woman so sure of herself that she has perfect poise.

While writing this I allowed my eye to roam a page of stunning new coiffures which, though high and fairly formal, still have that informal look we are talking about.

Incidentally, if you have been keeping a pretty pair of ears under cover, better get them out and brush them off, because ears are due for a great showing, according to latest coiffure news.

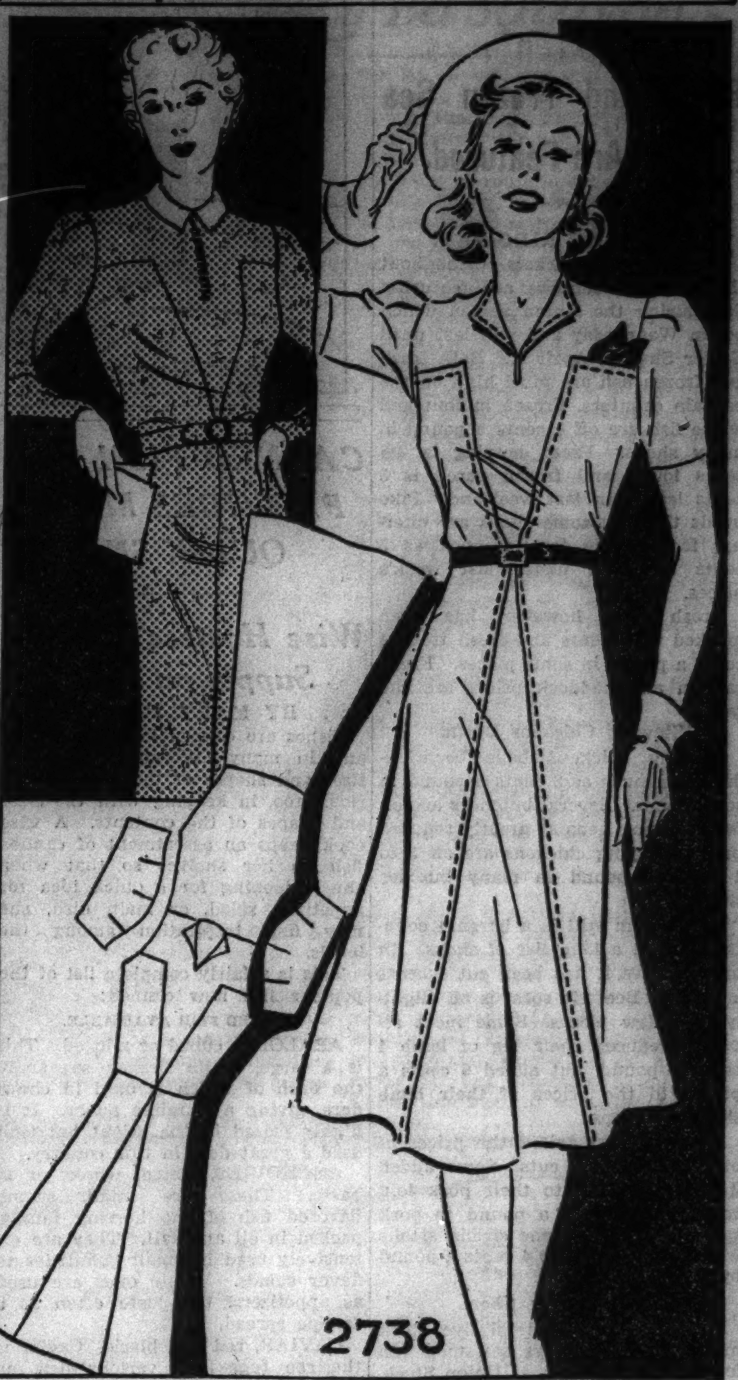
Indispensable Casual Dress



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

How about one of those indispensable casual dresses that every spring wardrobe needs? It may be worn all through the season to every type of daytime occasion. Particularly if you are in business or club life, you will appreciate the serviceability inherent in this model.

Paneling in this dress is sheer wizardry. It creates a most unusual silhouette and one that "does things" for every type of figure. A tiny wing lapel collar trims the high neckline or you may have a brief shirtwaist collar. The squared sleeves may be long or short. The same panels that give breadth to the shoulders and slimness to the waist also give flare to the skirt. Use a narrow lether belt in a contrasting color around the waist, tuck a bit of hanky in the same shade in the pocket at the left, and you have a smart ensemble.

Use silk, woolen, or cotton for this dress, and light shades are preferred since spring definitly is not far off.

Style No. 2738 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE GREAT PROTECTORATE OF THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Uses American Family Flakes For Her Linens, Clothes and Nicest Things

Mrs. M. E. Donegan
PROTECTORATE OF THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE
CHICAGO, ILL.

Says— "In one of our recent meetings, a discussion came up about the best type of soap to be used for all purposes in the home—including linens, clothes, and fine silken fabrics.

"A poll was taken and the results showed that 15 women out of 15 used American Family Flakes exclusively."

Countless thousands of women are daily finding out that these amazing flakes offer the quickest way to safely wash clothes to sparkling whiteness

EVERY day, women by the hundreds are changing to American Family Flakes—largely on the advice of friends and neighbors who have learned from first-hand experience that this is the quickest way to SAFELY launder all types of fabrics.

For, without depending upon harmful alkali, or strong chemicals, as cheap soap chips often do—without the need of scrubbing, boiling, or hard, ruinous rubbing which take the life out of fabrics—these amazing super-flakes turn out the whitest, sweetest-smelling wash you have ever seen, even when it is necessary to dry clothes in the basement.

A single washing will prove a revelation to you. But your real thrill will come months later when you see how much longer ALL of your washables last.

How American Family Flakes Work These Wonders

Laboratory tests prove that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips or powders. And there you have the secret for the wonders these flakes perform.

This extra suds-making material in American Family Flakes is responsible for their rich, active "DOUBLE SUDS" which actually float out even the grimiest dirt—without scrubbing, boiling, or hard rubbing. This is why white fabrics come out with new, snowy whiteness. Why colored fabrics retain their brilliance and beauty. Why ALL washables last surprisingly much longer.

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. It is especially made for this Great Lakes region water. Try American Family Flakes and you will quickly prove that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes.

There is nothing better for the nicest things in your wash than American Family Flakes. And for dishwashing they are unexcelled. They leave your hands soft and smooth. Made by Procter & Gamble.

Plan Holiday Trips During School Recess

BY JUDITH CASS.

MANY Chicago households expecting young people from schools for the spring holidays are making plans either to give them a gay time at home or to take them away on short vacation trips. Many of the schools are having their spring vacations at the end of March, others not until April, and it is probable that most students actually will spend Easter, which does not fall until April 17, back at their schools.

At Miss Hall's school two young women, Helen Mary Bryan and Bessie Cowles, are comparing fashion notes for the southland, where they will spend the spring holiday. Helen Mary, the subdebutante, daughter of the junior Benjamin B. Bryans, will go to Palm Beach late this month with Miss Kay Goodman, a debutante of the season, to visit the Donald R. McLennans.

Bessie Cowles and her sister, Edith, who is at Concord academy, will go to Boca Grande, Fla., with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knight C. Cowles. Helen Dick, daughter of the junior Albert Blake Dicks, will return March 25 from Miss Hall's. Her brother, Albert III., who is at Yale, hasn't made any plans for his holiday.

Barbara Buchanan and Mardo Pattou have different destinations for their holiday from Dobbs Ferry. The latter will return to Lake Forest March 24 to be with her parents, the Albert B. Pattous. The former will go south with her parents, the De Witt W. Buchanans, and her brother, De Witt, a senior at Princeton. Grace Pattou will arrive at home from the Kent school next Friday.

Bennett Children to Carolina Resort.

The Edward H. Bennetts' children will join them in Tryon, N. C., for the Easter holiday. After the young people have returned to school Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will sail for Europe to bring back their daughter, Betty Mead, who is at school in Lausanne, Switzerland, this year. Mrs. Bennett and Betty will return to their Lake Forest home June 1, but Mr. Bennett will remain in Paris a month longer.

The Edwin C. Welch's three children, Isabelle Curtis, and Joan and Edwin Welch Jr., are enjoying a pre-Easter trip abroad. They sailed last week for France to spend a month in Paris with Mrs. Welch's mother and sister, Mrs. Alfred L. Baker, and Miss Mary Landon Baker. Miss Priscilla Curtis, who is a student at Bryn Mawr, did not go abroad with her family.

Barbara and Douglas Blossom will go south for the Easter holiday with their parents, the junior George W. Blossoms, who leave Sunday for Delray Beach, Fla., where they have taken a house until the end of next month. Miss Louise Blossom and George III. will accompany their parents south.

Joan and John Templeton will go with their parents, the Stuart Templetons, to visit Mrs. Templeton's brother and his wife, the junior William E. Casselberrys, at Bent Creek ranch, their home outside of Asheville, N. C.

Charles Armour, who is at St. Mark's, will join the A. Watson Ar-

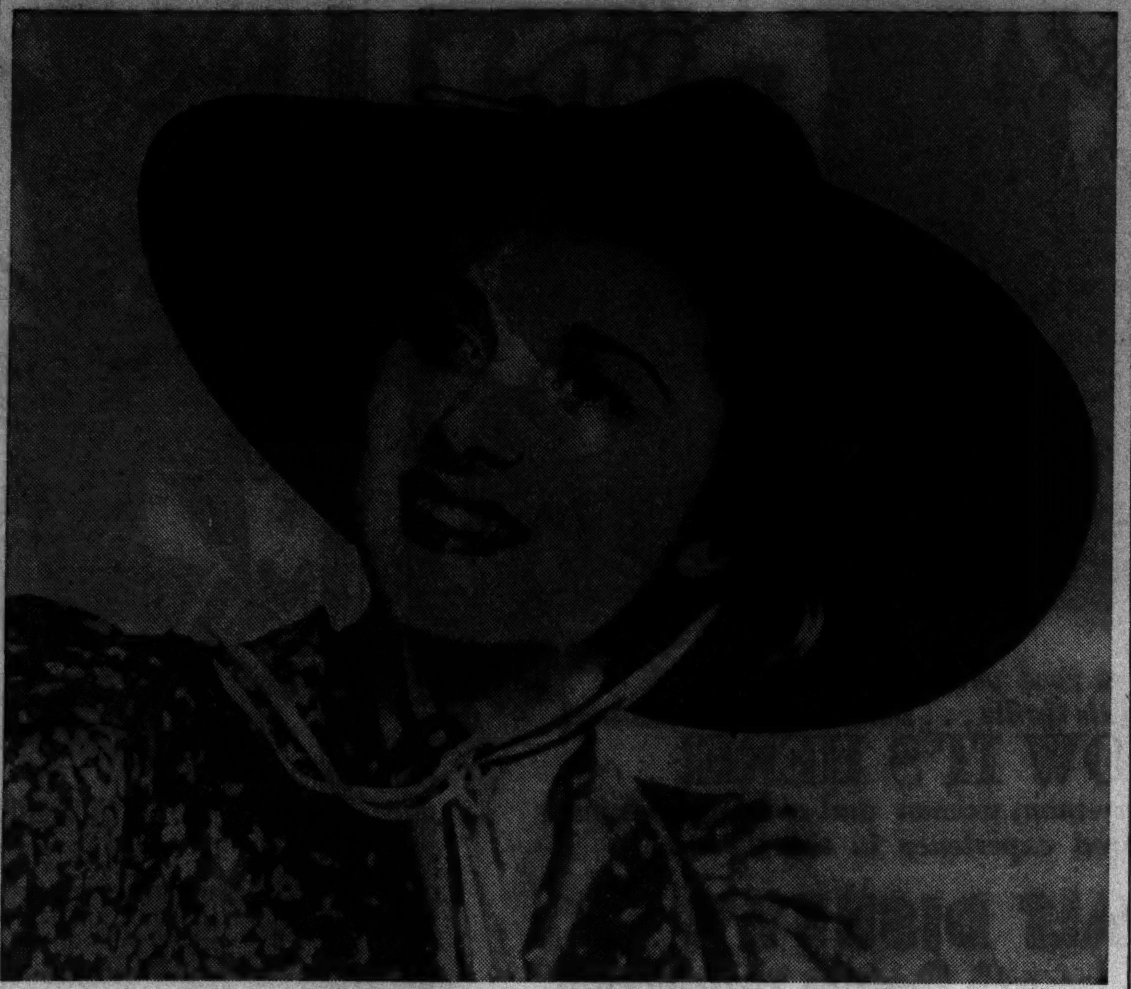
Want a Big Hat for Springtime?



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

The first big brimmed hat for early spring is of black felt with a sharply cut high crown. Multi colored shoe string ties under the chin and also around the crown. Printed silk dresses and wool coats are worn with such flattering models.

Patent Lether Styles Smart Hats for Spring

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Gleaming patent lether goes to the head, matched with bags, belts, and footgear. But the hats are trickiest of all. These black beauties are enlivened with flaming red. Sailors are dashing and straight of brim. Small wicked looking pill boxes and cooky edge bolero type hats are among the finds.

These creations are ideal toppers for rainy days, especially good with crisp slim early spring coats and the reefer fitted coats.

The sailors are slanted atop your curls, have wide brims, a shallow crown, and the trim is usually a matter of precise bows, or as in one model, a brace of red apples to contrast the winking charm of the black hat.

Another sailorish hat has cut out scalloped edge with a similar scalloped red top to the crown. Another black charmer has the famous saw tooth edge to the upturned brimline. A daring little pill box has a veil snood and a long wind around veil of black, and both neck veil and snood are appliquéd with an assortment of tiny heart shapes in red patent lether.

If you don't fall for this patent lether wave, you'll like the trim idea, dark hats trimmed with glistening bands or chin straps of the red lether. Patent lether flowers, fruit, and even vegetables trim such exciting hats and it's the easiest thing in the world to match bags and belts. In the showings of stunning patent lether hats you'll also find daringly new and unusual handbags designed to go with the hats.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

When you get an efficient water softener and a charming bath glorifier all in one inexpensive package you've really got something lots of women want. No matter how matter of fact or coldly sensible a woman, a bath trimming is a temptation that, once tried, is hard to resist.

The newest to come to our cabinet, and to make a big hit with all the willing office girls who try things out, is an oily liquid in ten different fragrances. A little bit of it—maybe a teaspoonful or so—is poured into the empty tub just where the force of the water hits it. Then, when the water is turned on with plenty of pressure, the tub fills quickly with luxurious foam.

It works like magic on the hardest water, which is a point to remember at any season, but more particularly in the winter. It makes the water soothing and does its part in keeping the skin soft, with its natural oil stock undepleted.

This doesn't leave a ring, you'll be glad to know. The fragrances are all good, but there is a most unusual and beautiful one, known simply as "bouquet." It's lilacs, and roses, and orange flowers, and every sweet, intriguing flower scent you ever dreamed of.

There are others in straight scents for those who prefer them, that are exciting in their own fashion, too. Take your choice of jasmine, lilac, rose geranium, gardenia, carnation, lavender, orange flower, bouquet pine, or one oriental blend. Pine never throws us into raptures, but we thought this bouquet pine exceptionally nice. Real pine addicts swoon over its charms.

The bath foam liquid comes in three sizes, and the price all along the line is truly reasonable.

Chicago First to Hear Work by Hindemith

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Orchestra hall was the very center of the music world for the better part of an hour last night when Paul Hindemith, one of the most vital and original of modern German composers, conducted the Chicago Symphony orchestra in a first American performance of his symphonic dances. Earlier in the evening Mr. Hindemith had played the solo viola part in his own "Der Schwanendreher" and had lurked backstage to hear Hans Lange direct his Chamber Music No. 1.

True to his desire to make his works ever simpler and more direct, the composer has achieved in these new symphonic dances a shining lucidity of utterance. While his highly original musical thought is as independent as ever of the codified knowledge of effect which we call the laws of harmony and counterpoint, it is a curious fact that these recent dances seem less iconoclastic than much of his earlier work.

Perhaps this is a feature of the remarkable freedom of expression which he has won. He is as little afraid of using conventional devices when his flow of ideas requires them as he is of setting the theorists by the ears when this flow changes its direction. Certainly there are many passages in the symphonic dances which are susceptible of easy analysis by a first year harmony student. And the rhythmic patterns are often extremely bold in their simplicity.

When you whistle "Annie Laurie" or any other conventional melody, both you and any one unfortunate enough to be close by are filling in the harmonies in imagination. Hindemith has freed melody from this dependence on harmony—has made it something more than what one extremist called a horizontal chord.

The melody is directly expressive, moving wherever the musical thought demands that it go. The harmonies, instead of hurrying along underneath to conventionalize the melody and destroy its piquancies, serve as distant background against which these piquancies can be appreciated and enjoyed for all that they are worth.

This directly expressive melody is more apparent in "Der Schwanendreher" than in the new symphonic dances. More apparent still in the slow movement of the Chamber Music No. 1, a comparatively early work. Here the spare, utterly independent quality of the linear music shakes off the shackles of rhythm as well as of conventional harmony.

Paul Hindemith, who is a rather stout and smallish man of 42, directs an orchestra with the same simplicity and directness that mark his other activities. He gestures through a wide arc and there is far more definitness than grace in his motions.

Those were startling and expressive percussion effects he achieved in the symphonic dances. The paragraphs devoted to the new work should have mentioned the bizarre and proudly original instrumental colorings which are still an important feature of the Hindemith style. However, even in this department, there has been a noticeable mellowing since the period of the chamber music. The stridency of that early work is greatly increased by the free use of a siren. But since he is now expressing something quite different, the profundity of this whole observation is open to question.

Last night was Mr. Hindemith's first public appearance in Chicago. His first visit took place last spring, when he appeared privately at the Arts club.

Hans Lange is prefacing the Hindemith portions of this week's programs with an exquisitely calculated performance of the Mozart E flat symphony.

John McCreary Adamses Become Parents of Son

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Announcement was made today of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. John McCreary Adams of Manhasset, N. Y. Mrs. Adams is the former Miss Marjorie Jannery, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius Lynde of Winnetka, Ill. The child has been named Peter Chadwick.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Unusual Weather.

Hollywood, Cal., March 3.

9 a. m.—Awakened by noise of living room furniture, dislodged by rain, floating out on lawn. Called finance company immediately to stop payments on couch and card tables. Donned a one piece bathing suit and soft hat and swam downstairs.

"Never saw anything like this," I said to Melissa, the cook, who was paddling around the kitchen on a raft.

"This is the worst mist we've ever had in California," she said.

"In the east we'd call this a flood," I said. The roof tore loose and floated away.

"Well, it's unusual weather," she reluctantly admitted. "It's heavier than a dew; it's nigh onto a heavy fog."

Through the window I saw the garage and the car floating down the driveway, a trail of whitecaps in their wake. I dove from the mantlepiece, fetched to the phone and called the finance company to stop payments on the car.

9:30 a. m.—Bridge at Universal City washed out, and Universal studio is in an uproar. Despite all the confusion, however, Director John Stanl swims to cashier's window and collects $5,000 weekly salary check. Officials hopeful that storm will wash in script which Stahl can shoot.

10 a. m.—Will Hays swims down Wilshire boulevard, using his high collar for waterwings. . . . Al Jolson, at Van Nuys chamber of commerce luncheon, gets down on one knee to sing "Sonny Boy" and disappears from view.

Eddie Buzzell is keeping his chin up by wearing his highest heeled pair of shoes. . . . On Sunset, what first appeared to be a school of mackerel swimming downtown, proves to be a pair of Marlene Dietrich's false eyelashes, but fortunately she is not attached to them.

10:30 a. m.—Scandalmongers assert that as a result of the heavy mist "Oscar," Academy Award statuette, has started to rust, proving that all's not silver that glitters and "Oscar" is not Kosher.

11 a. m.—At Sunset and Vine Clark Gable and Carole Lombard sitting on top of his stalled roadster, fishing for trout. . . . On Wilshire coast guardsmen taking Ginger Rogers and young Doug Fairbanks to work. . . . In Los Angeles river, dry for years, passersby shriek as a 50 foot whale suddenly appears, but Harry M. Warner reclaims it as a prop washed away from the studios. . . . At Doheny drive, the guy who started the whole thing, Claude Rains.

At Cahuenga Mickey Rooney and Freddie Bartholomew playing water polo with manhole covers. . . . On Rossmore workmen drying off Edna Mae Oliver with acetylene torches. . . . Aviator landing at Glendale airport cracks up when red light he thought was beacon proves to be W. C. Fields' nose, glistening in the rain.

11:30 a. m.—Arrive by motorboat at Warner's studio and find only Bryan Foy, maker of the "B" pictures, working. Foy is taking pictures of two actors swimming in the flooded backlot. It will be previewed in three days as "The Johnstown Flood."

Noon—Radio reports that the racehorses may have to be evacuated from Santa Anita, because the heavy California dew has weakened the Santa Anita dam. If the horses are evacuated, I trust that the ones I have been betting on all season can swim faster than they run. Hal Roach announces that the pari-mutuel machines will not be evacuated, feeling confident that some ancient mariners from Pomona may drop by for action.

1 p. m.—Arrived at 20th Century-Fox lot. Found assistant cameraman anchoring Shirley Temple to Zanuck's auto so that she wouldn't float away until picture was completed. Victor McLaglen and Brian Donlevy treading water en route to the commissary. Loretta Young, in a rowboat powered by an outboard motor, passes by looking for Director John Ford and David Niven, who were washed out of the window of her bungalow while she was serving lunch.

Joe Schenck walks along the flooded studio street, his head above water: "Shallow out there, Joe?" I hailed. "No," he halloed back, "I'm standing on Lou Wertheimer's shoulders."

Bill Dover, swimming around Harry Brand's office, sputters a squawk: "When we went to bed last night we had a beautiful view of the Pacific ocean from our house. This morning, we woke up to find a mountain had slid in front of the house and now we can't see the ocean." Luckier than Brand, however. When he and Sybil woke up they didn't have a house. Dew did it.

2 p. m.—As my boat putt-putts past Good Samaritan hospital Spencer Tracy and his bed float out the second story window. An orderly swims out hurriedly, using an Australian crawl, and tows the bed back into the hospital. It's the fifth time during the heavy mist that Tracy's bed washed loose, proving what a dynamic character he is.

3 p. m.—I motorboat back to the house to taunt Melissa, the cook, about what she described as "unusual weather," but find that she has floated away on top of the stove. So your correspondent sits down at waterlogged typewriter, writes waterlogged column, summons waterlogged messenger and dispatches him on a Dollar line boat to waterlogged Los Angeles.

Pity the Girl! Her Favorite Men Are Wed

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Rhea, 27, confides that it has been her luck always to fall in love with men already married. It's queer, she argues, that single men have passed her by, whereas married men always are attracted to her. Two already have passed out of her life without any deep imprint left because, Rhea explains, she would not dream of breaking up a home just to satisfy her own happiness. But married man No. 3 threatens to destroy her ideals and sense of fairness toward another woman.

In the background there is a single man who shows her more interest than other single men to date. But with the single man jinx on her, she feels it would be futile to attempt to interest him. The girls she knew through high school and during her early working years are mostly all married to men who courted them young.

Wonder if the finger couldn't be put on Rhea's attitude toward single men versus her attitude toward those legally tied to other women? There are women, and women of principle, too, who, in their relationship with married men, offer the very charms, graces and comfortable friendship that would serve perfectly with single men. But for some perverse reason, these women withhold the graces from the single ones. A shyness, perhaps. A sensitiveness, or an analytical frame of mind which is unattractive to the single man.

The mere fact that the other man is married gives such a type a sense of assurance, and behavior is more natural all around. The type gradually will unfold itself and attractions because it feels it is not being weighed or measured in any serious way. This is in the beginning of the married man complexity, so that it boils down to the fault of the woman herself, though she may be utterly unconscious of her performance. Even when the m. m. friendship takes on a serious complexion, the type still is unaware that it is she who is to blame for the plight in which she find herself.

There is some quality missing in the type of woman of whom we speak. She's a dreamer, usually, expecting fate to deposit her knight on her doorstep. Unlike her cleverer sisters, she won't realize that the doorstep must carry a welcome sign, and it is up to her to put it out. In plain words, she won't give the same encouragement to the single man. She's fearful he will thing she is running after him, or suffer some such qualms, whereas her sisters, more realistic about life, see the men they want and go after them.

Try it on this single man, Rhea, and see if our deductions about you aren't close to the truth.

GUNHAMMERED GOLD

By Luke Short

[Copyright: 1938: By Frederick Dilley Glidden.]

SYNOPSIS.

Abe McCandless, who framed Poco St. Vrain and made him an outlaw, owns a gold mine on a mountain peak. Two insurance agents, sent to bring down the gold, are murdered by two different bands of outlaws. Two-Way Hornbeck, leader of one band, persuades Poco to pose as one of the agents. At the mountain camp Poco finds Espey Cardowan, killer gunman, posing as the other agent. Shayne, the mine manager, has a lovely daughter, Kate. Cardowan crowds Poco off the cliff and takes the gold. He joins forces with Two-Way. Posing as prospectors, they are given an army escort to Rincon. Meanwhile Kate helps rescue Poco. He confesses his identity and promises to recover the gold. In Rincon Poco learns Two-Way and Cardowan put the gold on a stagecoach. Poco rides off after the coach. Two-Way, double-crossing Cardowan, promises McCandless to lead a posse to St. Vrain and the gold. But Cardowan learns the gold was put off at the hotel and rides off with it, also kidnaping Kate Shayne. When the posse reaches the coach and finds no gold McCandless turns on Two-Way. In an exchange of gunfire both are killed. The mob returns to the hotel with Poco and, when they find Cardowan and the gold gone, turn on Poco. A stranger, Van, appears and announces himself a United States marshal. When the mob turns on him he and Poco take refuge in the sheriff's office. Harry, the stagecoach driver, and a girl called Steamboat help them escape through the roof. Poco rides off after Cardowan. Meanwhile Cardowan, with Kate, boards a train for Mexico. Cardowan forces all the passengers to jump off the train, except an old lady, whom he puts in the baggage car with Kate. On their way up a steep grade Kate unhooks the rear car, but Cardowan sees her and jumps into the car.

INSTALMENT XLI.

THE LAST PAY DAY.

Kate's throat was knotted with fear as Cardowan brushed by her and through the car to the braking wheel on the rear platform.

Holstering his gun, he grasped the wheel and spun it to take up the slack. Already the car was gaining momentum on the down grade and the brakes clamped on with a screeching of steel on steel. Kate saw the track swing out of sight through the rear door, heard the clack of wheels on the switch, then saw a new and curving track swing into sight.

Cardowan called furiously, "Come here, damn you, and help me!"

And hearing that, Kate knew that she was lost either way, for if she escaped this hurtling and runaway car which had a downgrade for many miles ahead, Cardowan would turn on her with insane fury.

. . . .

Across that long and toiling benchland, Poco could look back and see for miles. It was early afternoon before he picked up the long string of dark specks that told him the army was finally on his trail. But he did not slacken his speed, nor spur his horse.

On a high rockrim in late afternoon he pulled up and looked south. He looked for many long minutes and finally spotted a smudge of smoke against all that vast and rocky waste. It would be the train laboring up the long grade.

Later, much later, the canyons seemed to fall away, and the grade leveled off and he knew he was almost to the top of this ridge which the pass crossed, but miles to the west of the tracks.

He urged his horse as much as he dared. When he pulled up on the rim of a deep valley, he looked across it. There, half a mile beyond, he saw the black and red train swing into sight momentarily as it swung into the cut of the pass. His stomach balled up inside him, and he rammed his spurs into the gelding and shot him down the slope. He was too late, he knew he was too late, but he would try.

He cut up the far slope, achieved the ridge, then slanted down the long slope toward the valley to the north.

Ahead now, a half mile below, he could see the train standing motionless in the cup of the valley. Figures stood by it, but he was too far to distinguish them. They walked back a few yards on the track, paused, then turned back to the train.

And then, when he was half way down the slope, he saw the engine labor into motion. It gathered speed slowly, but it was enough.

Poco pulled up his horse and watched it bleakly, and felt hope die within him. Kate Shayne was on the train, and Espey Cardowan had her. For the first time, tasting the galling and bitter impotence of it, he knew that it was not to prove to her that he could be honest that he had done this. It was something more, a strong and wild feeling that he wanted to be with her always, a feeling that hurt more than pain now, that he felt. He turned wearily to look back up the long slope. A few mounted figures were skylined on it. They would be the vanguard of the army, who had followed him all these hours. He would wait here and surrender to them, for he was through.

He looked off across the wide valley again to the thread of the railroad track. Everything he ever wanted, ever hoped for, everything that was clean and decent and dependable in his life had vanished there forever.

But as he looked, he saw a railroad coach back through that portal of rocks, coming slowly into sight. Holding his breath, he watched it lumber slowly through and tilt down grade, gathering speed each second.

And then something exploded in him. He rowelled the chestnut savagely and shot down the grade. He let the horse have its head, and watched the car, keeping his seat in the saddle by instinct. When he saw the coach reach the valley floor, sweep aside in a half circle onto the Christian City spur heading west, he shouted with joy and yanked the chestnut's head, swinging off on the same angle the car was traveling.

When he finally thundered onto the valley floor, the coach, fifty yards distant, and a little ahead of him, thundered around a curve and out of sight. He rounded the bend on the track now and saw the car ahead. He could look clear through its corridor and see two people at the front bending their strength into the braking. And one of them was Kate Shayne, the other Cardowan.

Inch by inch the chestnut fought, running now like any good horse will on guts and guts alone.

They pulled closer. Now the chestnut's head was almost touching the coach end. Poco prayed that Cardowan would not look back.

Then gently, with his knee, he urged the gelding off the ties to the side, and let him run. The chestnut took to the grass grown right of way, which was easier footing, and gained in a long glorious burst of speed. Finally, when Poco could reach out and almost catch the rail, he shook his off foot out of the stirrup, held his breath and lunged.

He caught the rail with one hand and kicked his feet clear of the stirrups as the horse swerved off to the side. For a moment, Poco dangled by one hand from the rail, then he got his other hand on the grip and pulled himself up.

He sat there a few seconds, getting his breath, loosening his guns in their holsters. Then he rose and swung through the door. Kate and Cardowan he could see through the corridor, pulling at the brake.

Poco walked down the aile softly, swiftly, his hands at his sides. When he reached the rear door, he raised his voice, saying,

"Hello, Joker."

Cardowan whirled, along with Kate. Poco wanted to look at her face, to take her in his arms, to tell her everything that had been frozen inside him, but he could not.

"Poco!" Kate cried, and started for him. Suddenly, she checked herself, sensing that she could not go to him yet. She backed off against the siderail, her eyes widening, a cry welling up in her throat.

Cardowan's face was gray, bloodless. He had his back to the rail and his hands were still on the braking wheel.

Poco said, "Hello, darling."

Kate said nothing, only moaned.

"I'm a killer, Kate," Poco said quietly. "I've come to show you. I'm going to kill Joker here—but it will be the last time I ever draw a gun. You didn't think it was ever necessary. Do you now?"

"Yes," Kate said huskily.

Poco smiled a little, his thin face somber and Satanic.

He lunged away from the wall now, and caught his balance against the wild sway of the car with widespread feet. He had seen the gold at Cardowan's feet, without even looking at it.

"Joker," he began quietly, "I told you I wouldn't go out of my way to hunt you. I didn't. It wasn't for you I came here. It was for her. Remember?"

Cardowan opened his mouth to speak and no words came.

"But I told you if you ever came within gunshot, I'd kill you." He paused. "Any time, Joker. This is pay day—the last one." Poco murmured.

mours in Boca Grande, and the Henry P. Ishams will take their three sons, Henry, Robert, and George, who are at the Hill school, to the same resort for Easter. The three sons of the Kent Chandlers, Kent Jr., Emerson, and Henry, will return March 19 from Groton to spend a vacation in Lake Forest.

Stewart Peck Will Enjoy Bermuda Trip.

Stewart Peck at the Hotchkiss school is dreaming of Bermuda, where he will go for ten days with his father, Philip F. W. Peck. Philip Peck Jr. at Yale is planning reunions with classmates on an Easter trip south which he will take with his mother. Jack Broeksmit will return from Hotchkiss March 15 to be with his parents, the John S. Broeksmits, in Lake Forest.

Two little English children who are looking forward to an Easter trip with their American grandmother are Patricia and David Bailey, daughter and son of Admiral Sir Sidney and Lady Bailey. They will go to St. Moritz next month with Mrs. Charles Bromwell. Mrs. Bromwell, who has been at the Lake Shore Drive hotel for several days, is going to Lake Forest today to spend the week-end with her son and daughter-in-law, the M. Scott Bromwells.

Mrs. Bromwell will hear first hand accounts of her son-in-law's investiture of knighthood, which took place Feb. 15, when she arrives in England about April 1. She will remain abroad all summer.

Hutchins Exhibit to Be Opened Today.

The Quest galleries will be the destination of many this afternoon following the Symphony concert. An exhibition of new pen and ink drawings by Maude Phelps Hutchins, wife of the president of the University of Chicago, Robert Maynard Hutchins, will be opened at tea time.

The Cliff Dwellers and the Cordon will have their share of visitors, too. Mrs. William A. Nitze, Mrs. Thomas L. Marshall, Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, Mrs. Edmund Kurtz, Mrs. Shreve Badger, and Mrs. Dudley Buck will assist Mrs. Alfred Wolfe, who will be the hostess at the Cliff Dwellers.

An exhibition of sculpture by Agnes V. Fromen will be opened by this afternoon's tea at the Cordon.

London Editor to Speak Today.

The Chicago Council on Foreign Relations luncheon today will have Graham Hutton, assistant editor of the London Economist, as speaker. His subject will be "Britain and Europe." Three tables have been reserved by representatives of various banks.

Dr. Walter Lichtenstein will preside in the absence of Laird Bell, president. At the speaker's table will be Sydney G. McAllister, Gen. Robert E. Wood, Jacob Viner, Robert H. Cabell, Thomas E. Wilson, Sewell Avery, George J. Schaller, and Lewis Bernays, the British consul general.

The Winnetka Women's Democratic club will present William E. Dodd, former American ambassador to Germany, in a lecture this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Skokie school. Mr. Dodd, who will speak on "World Outlook for Democracy," will be introduced by Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, president of the club. The ushers will be Skokie schoolboys, with Bradford Brown as their chairman. Stewart Boal is in charge of the sale of tickets.

Among those who will give dinners before the lecture are Mrs. Roswell B. Mason, Mrs. Ballard, who will entertain for friends of her daughter; Mrs. Jasper King, Mrs. Beverly B. Vedder, Mrs. Erwin A. Meyers, and Mrs. Elias A. Johnson.

Cradle Auxiliary Will Plan Party.

The Cradle auxiliary of Evanston will meet today at the Edgewater Beach hotel to discuss plans for a benefit party for the Cradle. Mrs. R. F. Waltersdorf, president of the auxiliary, will preside. Mrs. Rudolph Gerding is chairman in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Mrs. Allen C. Sauter will entertain members of the Sunbeam league's signature committee, of which she is chairman, at tea at home, 4300 Lake Shore drive, this afternoon. The committee is beginning its work in preparation for the league's annual benefit card party April 19 at the Stevens hotel.

Weddings Announced

The wedding of Miss Maurine Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Henderson, 6736 Ridgeland avenue, to Robert T. Crocombe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Today's Quilt

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

By Nancy Cabot.

While this pattern dates back to early American days, the subject is a matter of ancient history, and the woman who interpreted the pavements so accurately in a quilt design deserves a badge of merit. Done in a combination of printed and plain materials, the fifteen inch pieced pattern is used as an allover design because it is one of those squares which do not lose identity when set together block to block. The quilting is done in outline and the border is a half inch bias binding. The overall dimensions of the coverlet are 90 by 105 inches.

W-G-N to Air Baseball Quiz; Prizes Offered

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The ask-me-another business in radio is about to spread to the sports field. Beginning early in April W-G-N is to present Bob Elson's Baseball Quiz on Saturday nights. Teams of seven persons from Chicago or from cities round about the city, picked by chambers of commerce or service organizations, will be brought to W-G-N studios, where Elson will question them on the national game and personalities connected with it. White Sox or Cub players are to act as judges.

Cash prizes and baseball tickets will be awarded to the contestants. At the close of the season two grand champions will receive all expense trips to the world series. The new broadcast is tentatively set for 7 to 7:30 p. m.

Another show probably inspired by the season of the year is Dictionary Baseball, which WAAF is to usher in at 2 p. m. Sunday. Teams of nine players will compete in spelldowns and between innings will be interviewed on various subjects.

The decision of Fibber McGee's sponsors to move the show from 8 p. m. Monday on WMAQ-NBC to 8:30 p. m. Tuesdays, effective March 15 [the period being vacated by Lanny Ross, Walter O'Keefe and company], is a break for listeners. The show has been opposite the popular CBS Radio theater and the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra series. In its new time it will be opposite Jack Oakie on CBS, but this program is folding.

A series of occupational guidance programs under the direction of Lester J. Scloerb, director of vocational guidance research for the board of education, will be launched in the WBBM-CBS American School of the Air period at 1:30 p. m. Using WBBM's trailer studio, Ken Ellington and Hal Burnett are visiting various industrial plants and business houses recording interviews in advance and then presenting them at this hour. Subject of first broadcast is "Plastics."

A new industry is flourishing down in Florida as a result of the Jack Westaway Under the Sea series on W-G-N and other stations. The sponsor is offering a genuine shark's tooth to youngsters to carry as charms. The rush has been so great that the company supplying them had to hire additional fishermen to comb abandoned sharkeries.

Senator Sherman Minton's laxative joke on the National Farm and Home hour Wednesday was better suited to senatorial cloak rooms than the airways. NBC folks haven't been so astonished since the Mae West uproar. You may be sure, though, that the federal communications commission will launch no "investigation" this time.

The new radio transmitting unit arrived yesterday at Pitcairn Island, haven of the Bounty mutineers, and the Magic Key plans to do some broadcasting from there sometime this spring.... Ted Weems returns to the W-G-N-MBS Sunday Matinee series this week-end and will be on WIND from the Trianon ballroom. Freddy Martin will be on the same station from the Aragon starting tonight.

Antarctic Seals Exhibited in New Habitat Group

Seals of the Antarctic, collected by the last Byrd expedition, were placed on exhibition yesterday in the Field museum. The seals are shown in a habitat group reproducing a scene typical of the ice and snow covered wastes surrounding Little America. Seals and whales are the only mammals found in the Antarctic, which has no land mammals. The species shown is known as Weddell's seal, a type reaching a length of nine feet and a weight exceeding 900 pounds.

"THE WAVE."

Produced by S. E. P. B. A. for the Mexican government.
Story by Paul Strands and Velasques Chavez.
Directed by Fred Zinneman and Gomez Muriel.
Presented at the Sonotone theater.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Drama of life in Mexico.

ACTING: The cast is composed of natives of the village of Alvarado in Vera Cruz and they seem to be living, not acting.

DIALOG: Spanish. English titles make the action understandable.

DIRECTION: Thoughtful.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Exquisite.

SETS, SCENERY, ETC.: Authentic. This is one of the few pictures ever filmed in Mexico.

STORY: Built around the alleged struggle of fishermen to live on their meager earnings. Their supposedly unhappy dealings with the companies buying their fish result in rebellion and a strike. . . . The ending leaves the observer a bit hazy as to the outcome of the fishermen's decision to all stand together for their rights.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: In the matters of brevity, photography, and scenery the film is worth while. Too, the musical score is interesting. The subject should prove arresting to those familiar with conditions in Mexico and they will be able to judge as to whether the story is founded on truth or is just some more propaganda.

See you tomorrow.

Chicago a Cappella Choir Will Give Five Concerts

Noble Cain, director of the Chicago A Cappella choir, announced yesterday that because of popularity he has increased its activities. The choir will give not one but five concerts during the next year. The first is scheduled for Orchestra hall on March 21, the second comes on May 26. A three concert fall series will begin Oct. 21.

Philanthropic Juniors.

The Chicago Philanthropic club Juniors will hold the second earning fund supper-dance this evening at the Congress Casino. Miss Helen Kracker and Henry Harvey will be in charge.

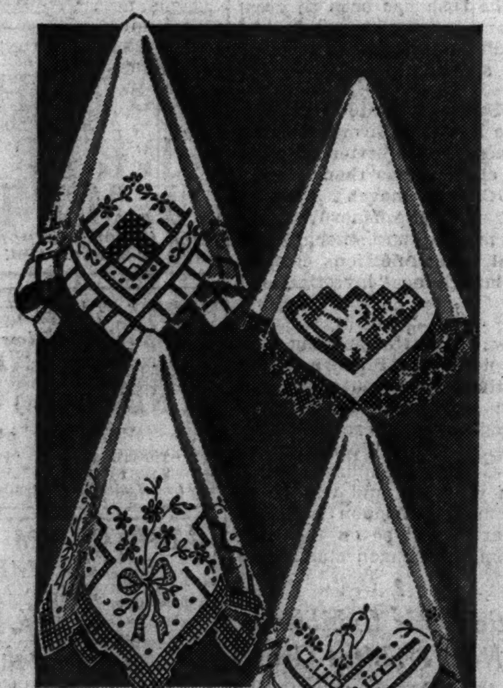
Slimtites

By Western

$2.25 to $3.50

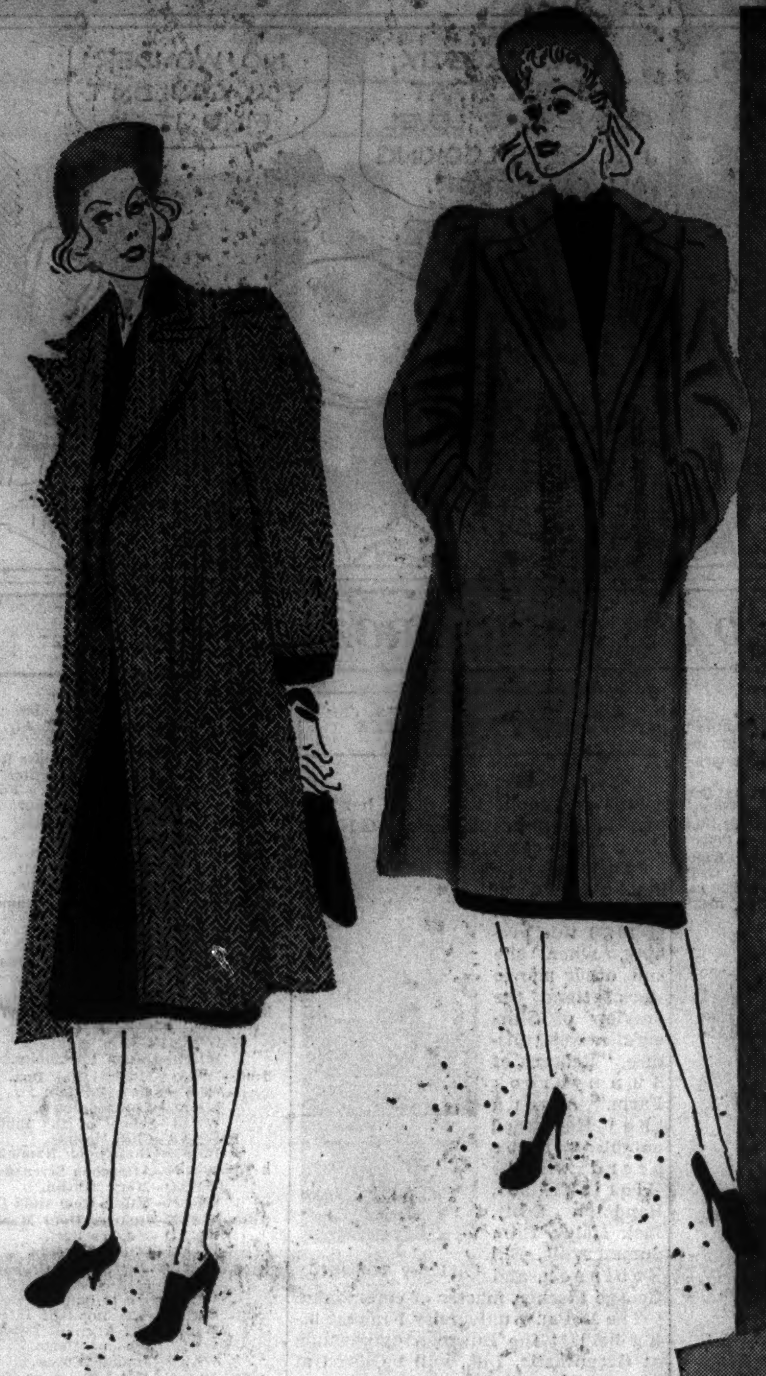
Don't look bouncy in your sports clothes . . . wear a slimming Slimtite lastex panty under tweeds . . . under slacks . . . with your pet skirt and sweater. It may be, 1, slender stripes in a combination rayon satin and cotton lastex, with detachable garters, or, 2, slick brocaded rayon satin lastex, or, 3, a mere whiff of airy lace lastex. In the group, brief, medium, long lengths. Sizes 4 to 7. White or tearose. Knit Underwear, Third Floor.



A Sale of Handmade Handkerchiefs

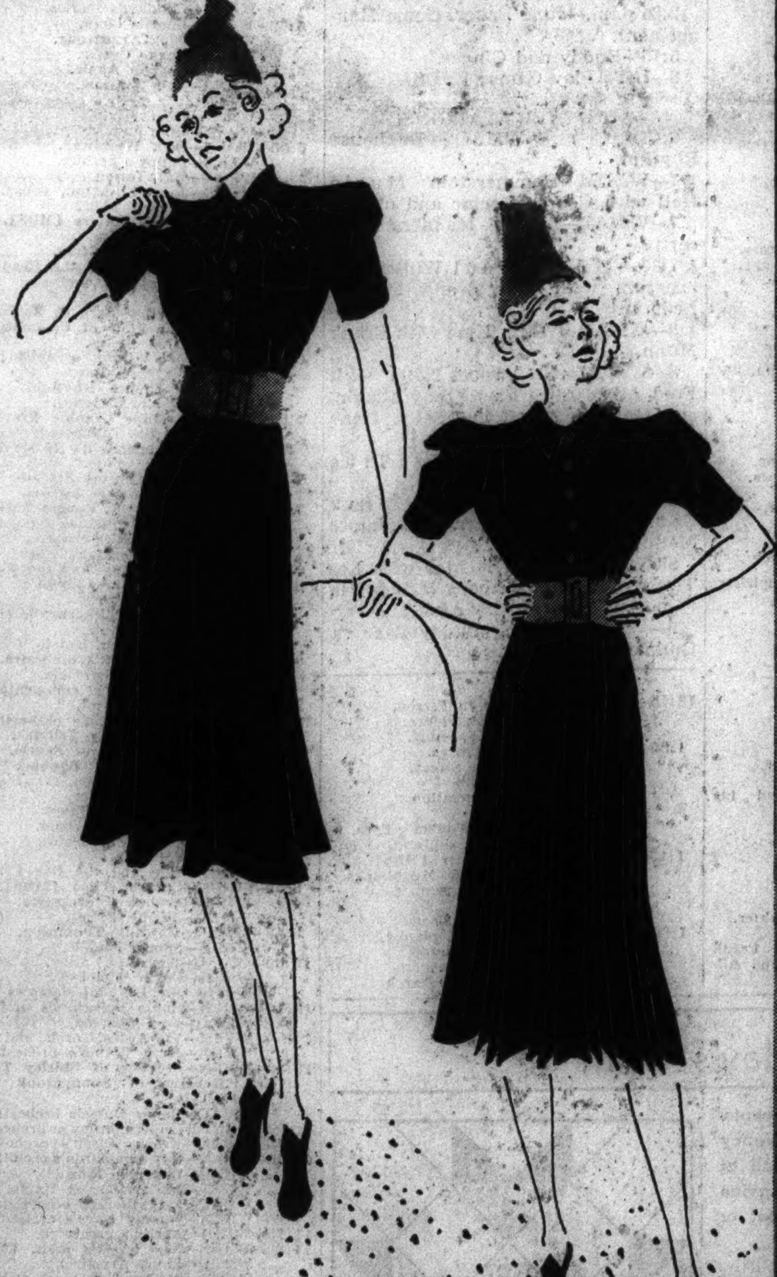
19c to 49c

Truly luxurious appenzel-type linen handkerchiefs with embroidery, applique or drawnwork. Each style is the usual well known Carson quality, is fashion right, and in this sale outstandingly low priced. According to style, 19c, 29c, 39c, and 49c. Handkerchiefs, First Floor.



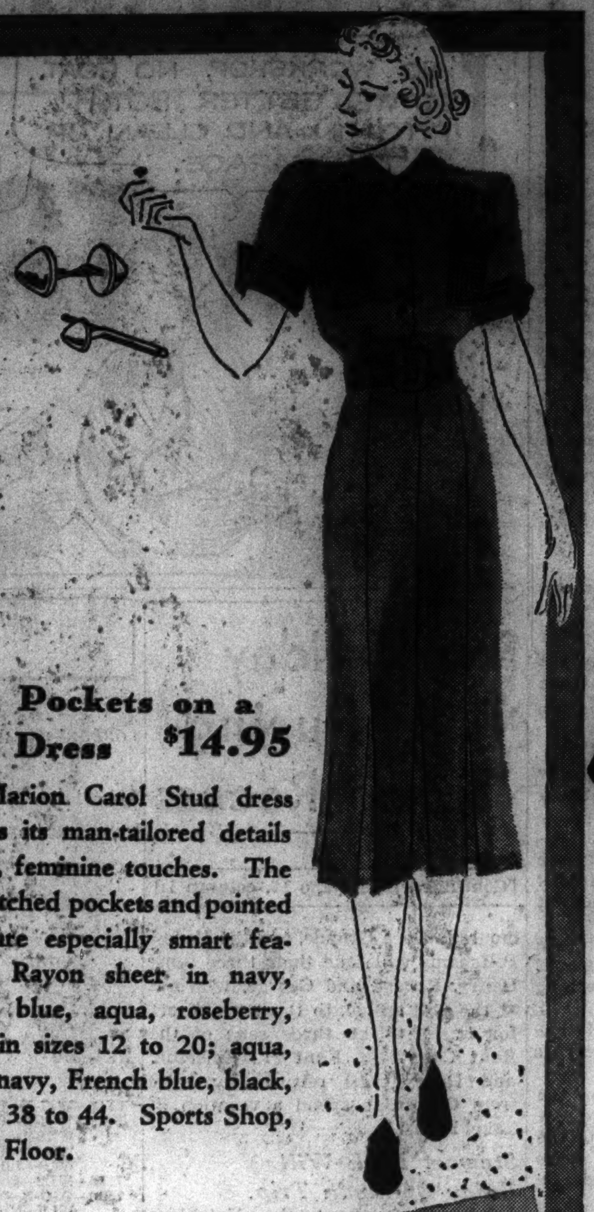
Wide Lapels Fly High on Box Coats from California $19.95

Slim as a reed, and just as straight, these coats from the Coast with their high, wide lapels. The tweed, with velveteen collar and cuffs, comes in navy, black, brown with white. The long topper of fleece, in eggshell, nude, gold, strawberry, and black. Both 12 to 20. Moderate Price Coats, Fourth Floor.



High "Dwarf" Hats on Our Teenya "Snow Whites" $7.95

The high rakish caps of the dwarfs in "Snow White" inspired the jaunty suede hats that match the belts on these Teenya rayon sheers. The dress at left has pockets almost shoulder high, and both styles have high necks. Navy with pink or chalk blue, black with pink or grain yellow. 11 to 17. Teenya Shop, Fourth Floor.



High Pockets on a Stud Dress $14.95

The Marion Carol Stud dress balances its man-tailored details by soft, feminine touches. The high stitched pockets and pointed collar are especially smart features. Rayon sheer in navy, French blue, aqua, roseberry, string, in sizes 12 to 20; aqua, string, navy, French blue, black, in sizes 38 to 44. Sports Shop, Fourth Floor.

LOOK FOR NEW 'HIGHS' IN FASHION IN THE FOURTH FLOOR SHOPS

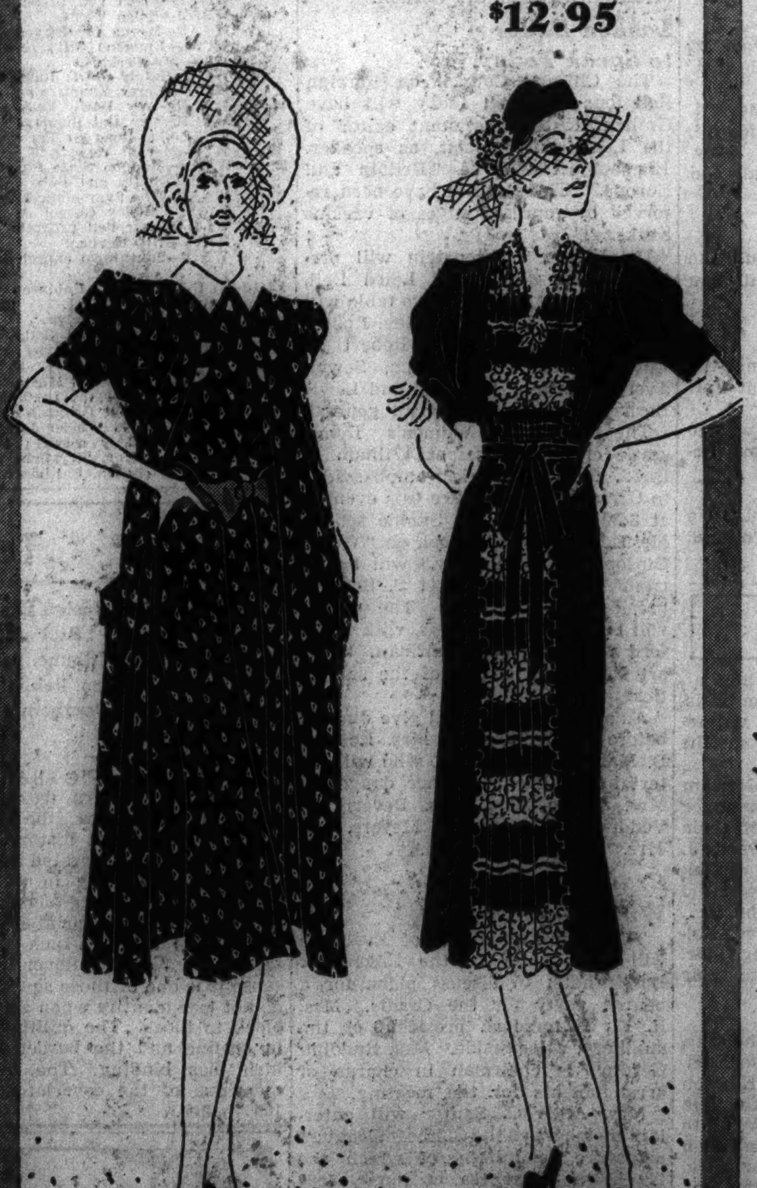
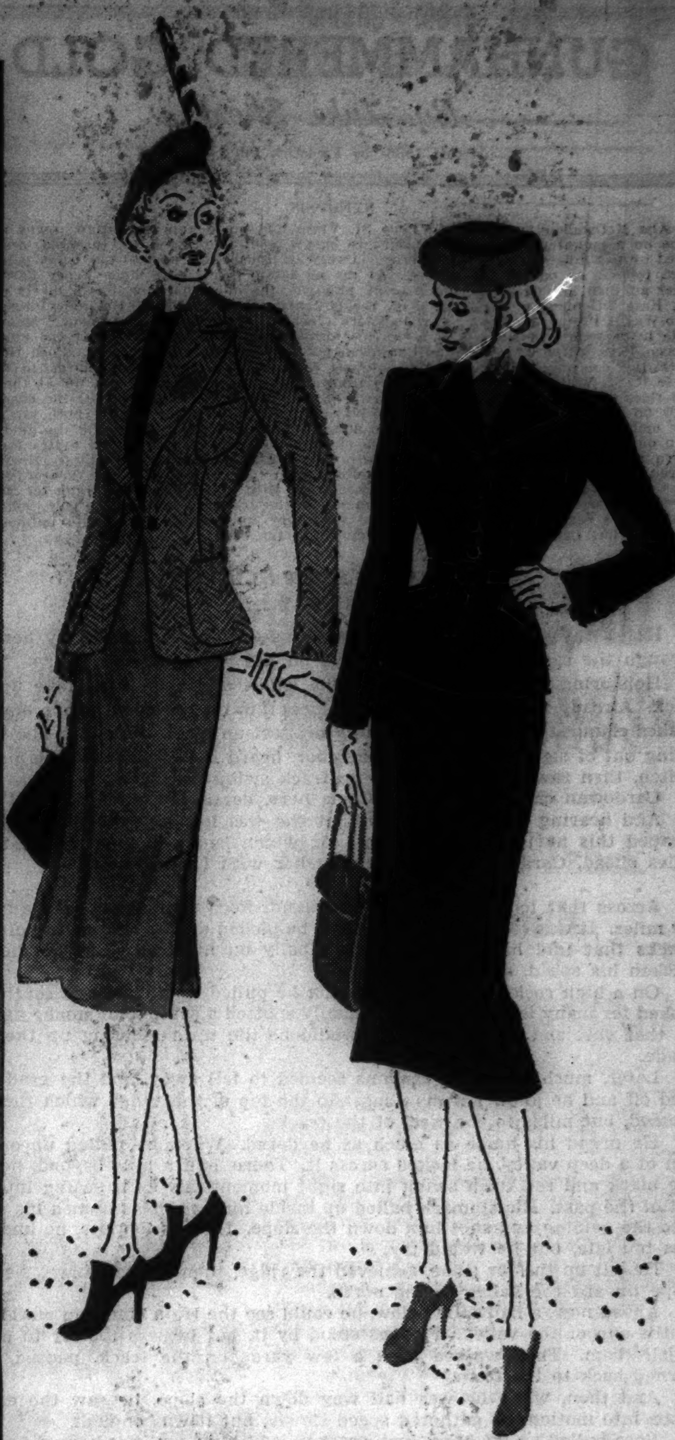
Paneled in High Color Print

Bright colors mingle on the best of terms in the print panel of this rayon sheer. Black or navy. 16½ to 24½; 36 to 44. Women's Moderate Price Dresses, Fourth Floor.

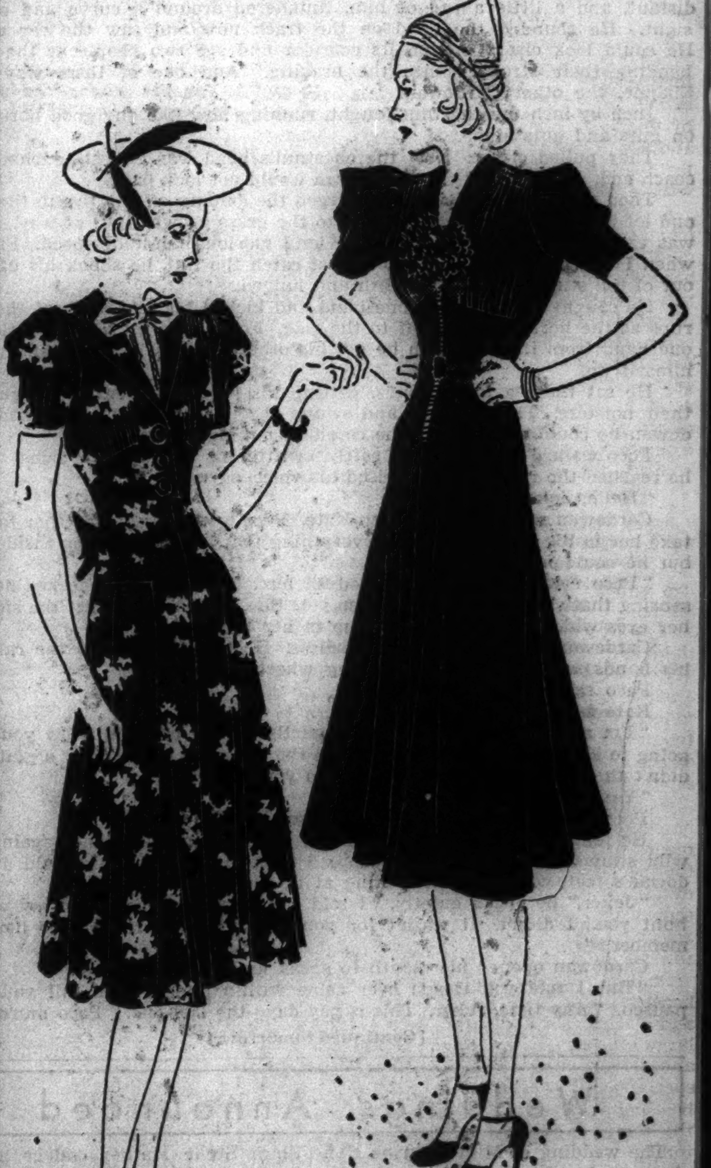
$12.95





High Colors in Debonair Young Suits from California $19.95

Pockets and lapels are on the up and up in these two brisk young suits—and colors are gloriously high. The Shetland type suit comes in wheatstalk, hedgerose, gold, navy, and black. 12 to 20. The "mis-matched" suit combines a colorful tweed jacket with a navy, black, or brown skirt. 12 to 18. Moderate Price Suits, Fourth Floor.



High Above-Waist Fullness in a Sheer and in a Print $11.95

The Scotty print has the new corseted silhouette that presents you with a couple of waistlines, one high, one low. Rayon crepe in navy, brown, or chalk blue. 12 to 18. The plain color navy blue dress uses something new in contrast—pigskin accents on rayon sheer crepe. Misses' Moderate Price Frocks, Fourth Floor.

BY HOWARD MARTIN.

Mayor Kelly walked up to alley No. 21 in the Coliseum last night, took a big Democratic windup, and threw a bowling ball with a slight backup. As it rolled slowly down the shiny surface a crowd of 4,000 cheered wildly.

That herculean pitch, which must have encountered Republican opposition along the way, because only four of the ten pins fell, officially opened the thirty-eighth annual tournament of the American Bowling congress.

For forty-seven more days the nation's greatest bowlers will gather in the Coliseum to shoot for prizes totaling $198,000 in singles, doubles, and five man competition. A prize of $1,000 awaits the five men champions, $500 will be paid the doubles monarchs, and $300 will go to the singles winner. In addition diamond medals will be awarded each champion.

The Boys Go to Work.

The Archbishop Quigley council K. of C. team of Chicago topped the forty regular division teams and assumed temporary hold on first place by totaling 2,741 on games of 851, 946, and 944. The Atlantic Laundry Service team of Milwaukee was second with 2,723.

Forty regular division quintets from the record entry of 4,957 five men teams opened last night's bombardment of the pins after introductory speeches by Sam Manning, vice president of the Chicago tournament committee, which brought Chicago its fifth national meet, and Elmer Baumgarten of Milwaukee, secretary of the A. B. C., who took over the forty new alleys in behalf of his organization, from Al Lea, president of the tournament committee.

One Practice Shot Allowed.

After the forty uniformed scorers had paraded on to the scene the 200 bowlers who appeared on the opening squad marched to their assigned alleys, slid up to the foul line to see how slippery the runways were, and then took one practice shot each.

One shot on the new alleys and against new pins was enough to convince them they were up against a tough assignment. This breaking in of the new alleys formerly was a task allotted to members of the booster division. Booster teams, mostly home-towners in A. B. C. tournaments, average 850 or less and shoot for special division prizes, unless they exceed their usual totals and get scores high enough to crash into the major prize money set up for the regular division pin topplers.

On last night's second squad forty booster teams from the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, who had a large following of company executives and fellow employés, rolled in their special event. The Stelli combination, bowling on alleys No. 3 and 4, topped the forty A. & P. teams with a 2,433 total.

Jesse Makes a Strike.

The honor of making the first strike of the tournament went to Jesse Bradley of the Milwaukee Athletic Club Mohicans. He received a loud cheer from the assemblage. After he finished he remarked that Mayor Kelly might take lessons from him.

In the last few years A. B. C. tournaments have gone modern with streamlining and modernistic color schemes and the result is pleasing to the eye, as spectators will find before the meet is concluded on April 19.

Most striking of the decorations is a mural 208 feet long and 20 feet high portraying Rip Van Winkle. In the first of four panels Rip is trudging through the countryside. He meets six dwarfs who are having a lawn bowling match in panel two. As one of the dwarfs throws a ball lightning makes a ten strike in panel three. Old Rip awakens from his twenty year slumber in panel four.

The balcony is painted blue with a yellow border and peach colored drapes hang lazily from the rail.

Under the murals is a score board that stretches 235 feet along the east wall, toward which the bowlers shoot. Forty markers are as busy as bees putting up strikes and spares opposite the names of each contestant.

Doubles Start Today.

The newel posts, holding the towels and chalk used for the bowler's hand,

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Five thousand of the hocky faithful who are interested enough in the Stanley cup hopes of the Chicago Blackhawks to come out and watch them of a week night were rewarded last night in the Chicago Stadium by a glorious 3 to 2 victory over the allegedly mighty Boston Bruins.

They not only saw the inspired Hawks play their greatest game of the season but saw them take a two game hold on third place in the American division over the Detroit Red Wings, who were coöperating very nicely by losing to the New York Rangers, 4 to 3.

The Hawks now have five games left to play, including their final home engagements with the Montreal Maroons Sunday night and the Montreal Canadiens next Thursday night, while the Wings have six games remaining.

Score in 16 Seconds.

Last night's loyalists saw Paul Thompson stun his famed goalie brother, Tiny Thompson of the Bruins, with the speediest goal of the year, one in sixteen seconds of the first period. A little more than ten minutes later Cully Dahlstrom, who has been suspected of being quite some hocky player, batted another one in and the Hawks found themselves leading the dreaded Bruins with less than a minute of first period play remaining. The speedy Arthur Jackson then swept in and beat Goalie Mike Karakas for the first time.

Another for Dahlstrom.

This 2 to 1 margin continued into the fourth minute of the last period when the thoroughly aroused Bruins tied the score on a goal by Ray Getliffe. The Hawk offense then rose to such heights that in order to stop Alex Levinsky Jackson had to trip him and was penalized. With about ten seconds of this sentence remaining, Dahlstrom scored the winning goal, with well earned assists going to Thompson and Earl Seibert.

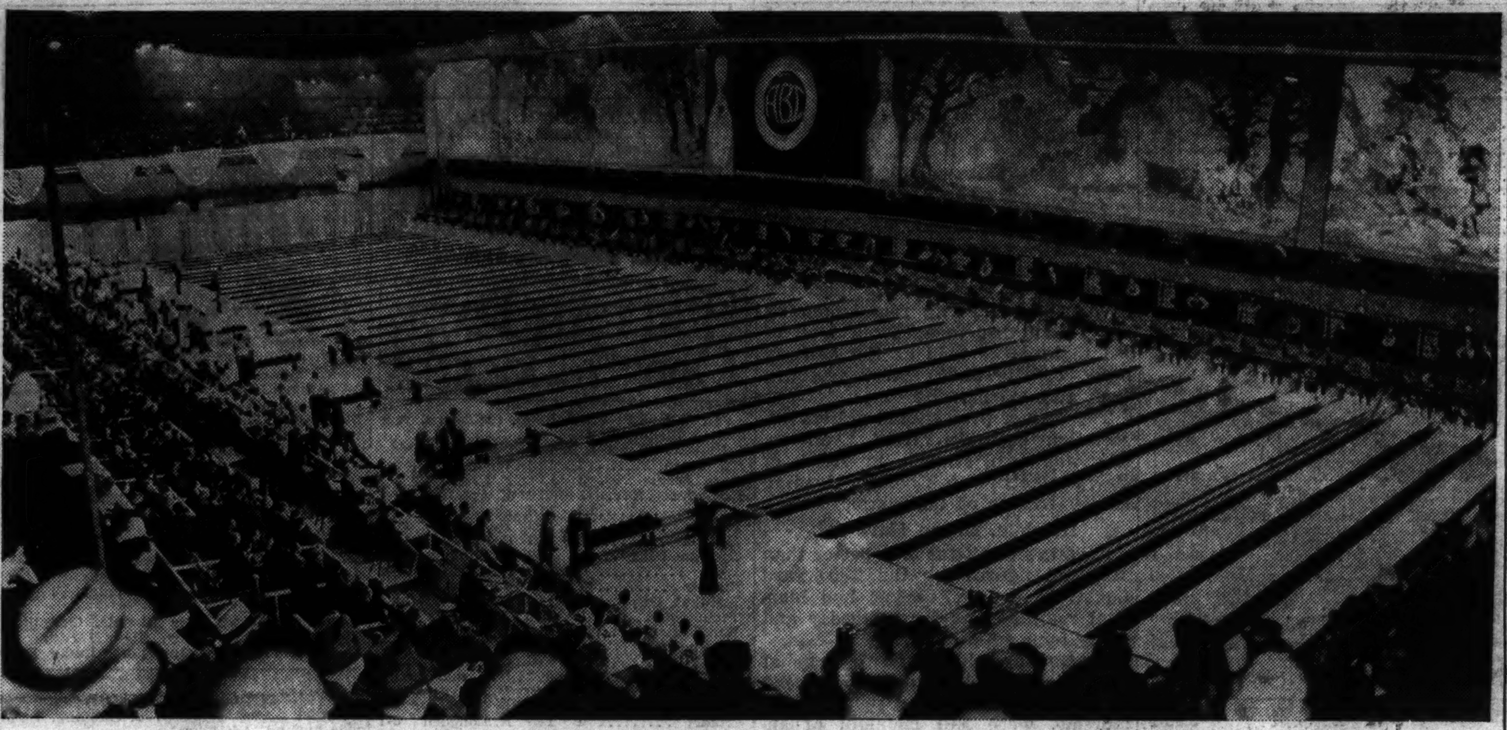
Crash, and Bowling's World Series Is On



Chicago's Coliseum becomes the bowling center of the nation as the first forty of 4,957 five man teams, a record entry, take to the alleys for the opening of the 37th annual tournament of the American Bowling congress last night. Four thousand witnessed the inaugural ceremonies. The tournament will run for forty-eight days.

Golden Glove Finalists Face Greater Tests

BY FRENCH LANE.

The army of Golden Gloves boxers scattered to the four corners of the central half of the United States yesterday.

Their efforts in the Tournament of Champions, which ended Wednesday night at the Chicago Stadium, are now a brilliant new chapter in the amateur boxing history book.

All but thirty-two of these young soldiers of fistic fortune were ready to forget the shouts of the wildly excited crowds, the glaring lights beating down upon them, the resin dust and the punches they had tossed and received. They had failed to reach the final lap on the path which leads to the end of the rainbow.

But 32 Continue On.

But a different situation confronted the thirty-two boys who still are in the final stages of the journey to the Golden Gloves trophy room.

They return to Chicago, to the same battlefield in the Stadium, to fight for the championships on the

PASADENA RAIN CEASES, BUT SOX ARE MILES AWAY

Flood Holds Up Train and Manager Dykes.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 3.—But for a few little items the White Sox today would have been able to launch their 1938 training program as scheduled. These little deterrents included the following:

The thirteen members of the first squad, due here this morning at 8:35 o'clock, were stalled for at least twenty-four hours in Ash Fork, Ariz., because of a landslide in Cajon pass and because of bridge trouble brought on by southern California's biggest rainstorm in history.

Manager James Dykes and Vice President Harry Grabiner were marooned in Palm Springs, Cal., cut off from telegraphic and telephonic communication. Unless they have heard something on the radio, they do not know whether the ball club is here or whether the lads brought along gloves and spiked shoes, or anything else.

Park's Still There, Anyway.

Brookside park, heretofore an ideal training base, is very muddy, though it still is there. The Rose bowl, near by in the same Arroyo Seco, this morning was a natatorium with eight feet of water over the gridiron. Brookside park is on slightly high ground, but even so is terribly messy. Pasadena and the adjoining city of Altadena led all other deluge victims in the point of quantity of rainfall, but today's sunshine brought a rapid improvement in conditions.

Further rains are predicted and no prophecy can be made about the effects of the renewal, if and when it comes, but a few days like today should enable the Sox to patch up their erstwhile garden spot for baseball endeavors. There were plenty of places dry enough for exercise had they got to town today.

And They Call It Dew.

There were 14.23 inches of rain in Pasadena during the storm. When you consider that normal for the entire rainy season, November to April, is 15.23, you can get some idea of the extent to which it came down on the Sox training field during the record storm.

No anxiety was felt for Manager Dykes and Vice President Grabiner. There was no deluge in the desert and their isolation was brought about by conditions between here and the desert spa.

BETTERS OWN INDOOR RECORD BY 4 SECONDS

Paced by 6 on Track at Dartmouth.

Hanover, N. H., March 3.—(AP)—Peerless Glenn Cunningham plotted his race almost to the exact tenth-second tonight when he ran a 4:04.4 mile, the fastest recorded in the world's history, indoors or out, on Dartmouth college's springy 6⅔ lap board track.

That amazing performance was four full seconds faster than Cunningham's own 4:08.4 indoor record and two seconds under the 4:06.4 outdoor mark made last August by Syd Woodersen of England and accepted this week by the International Amateur Athletic federation. Cunningham's time creates a new world indoor standard but, like all board records, does not replace the outdoor mark.

More than 3,000, almost the entire Dartmouth student body, and most of the townspeople of this little college town, roared a mighty ovation when Cunningham's startling time, recorded by Profs. L. F. Murch and Gordon S. Hull of the Dartmouth faculty and Charles A. Proctor, a Dartmouth alumnus and Hanover resident, was announced.

First Quarter in :58.5.

Cunningham, who gave handicaps ranging from five to 600 yards to six Dartmouth runners, was timed in 58.5 seconds for the first quarter, 2:02.5 for the half mile and 3:04.2 at the three-quarter mile point. His four quarters were 58.5, 64, 61.7 and 60.2 seconds.

All but one of Cunningham's rivals finished. Stu Whitman, Dartmouth's outstanding miler, started five yards ahead of the barrel-chested Kansan. Clif Holmes, Bert MacMannis, Robert Yeuell and Fred Upton were given 260 yard starts, and Hal Wonson, who crossed the finish line twenty yards behind Cunningham, started 600 yards ahead, but merely jogged until Whitman dropped out at the half mile while running almost shoulder to shoulder with Cunningham.

Glenn passed the quartet with the 260 yard handicaps at about the three-quarters point and overhauled Wonson early in the last lap. MacMannis finished in third place and the other three were far back as Cunningham ended the run.

Fresh at Finish.

"I planned to do my first three-quarter miles in 60, 63, and 61 seconds and then run the last one as fast as I could," Cunningham said. "I thought I ran my first quarter too fast, but I was back on my schedule at the half mile and I felt quite fresh when I finished. It's a great track and those wide turns helped me a lot.

"I thought my time would be about 4:05 because of my slower second quarter, but I'm not surprised at it, for conditions were ideal."

Meet officials, all of whom were certified by the New England A. A. U., said they would submit Cunningham's 4:04.4 for approval as a new world indoor record. They said that the three timers caught him in the same figures and fractions. Two other events, staged by Dartmouth runners, were included on the program to give the competition meet status.

The world's fastest mile climaxed the most successful indoor season Cunningham has enjoyed since he scaled the track heights in 1933. It was his tenth straight victory of the current season and his second world record breaking effort in six days. Last Saturday he lowered the 1,500 meter indoor mark to 3:48.8. His two best previous 1938 indoor miles were 4:08.6 and 4:10 performances in New York and Boston.

Coach Thinks It's a Great Track.

"There's nothing to say about it," Coach Harry Hillman of Dartmouth replied when his opinion was sought. "It was the most remarkable race I have ever seen and Glenn murdered his own world indoor record and was away under the outdoor mark. His performance more than makes good my claim that the Dartmouth track is five seconds faster than any other in the world."

Revolta Leads with 138 at St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Duplicating his sub-par performance of the opening round, Johnny Revolta shot 69 today for a total of 138 to lead the field at the halfway mark of the $3,000 St. Petersburg open golf tournament.

The former professional golfers' association champion from Evanston, Ill., was two strokes in front of Harry Cooper of Chicago, leading money winner of the winter circuit.

Heinlein, Hogan Have 142.

Revolta's total was four better than standard figures for the 6,400 yard Lakewood course. Cooper had identical rounds of 70 for yesterday and today for a total of 140.

Bracketed behind the leaders at 142, as the field turned toward the final 36 holes and the cash payoff tomorrow, were Bill Heinlein of Indianapolis and Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex. Heinlein was two under par with a 70 today to add to his 72 of yesterday. Hogan reversed that scoring order.

Four players trailed with 143 totals. They were Harold McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., with 70—73; Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., with 72—71; Denny Shute of Miami, Fla., with 71—72, and Pat Sawyer of Birmingham, Mich., with 72—71.

Guldahl, Walsh Have 144.

Ralph Guldahl, the national open champion, put together a pair of 72's and was grouped at 144 with Frank Walsh of Chicago; Frank Moore of Quaker Ridge N. Y.; Andy Mocsary of Norwalk, O.; Sam Parks Jr. of Pittsburgh; Sam Byrd of Philadelphia, and Gene Sarazen.

JANE COTHRAN WINS AGAIN IN FLORIDA GOLF

St. Augustine, Fla., March 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Jane Cothran Jameson of Palm Beach, conqueror yesterday of Patty Berg, will meet Marion McDougall of Portland, Ore., in one of the semi-final matches of the Florida East Coast women's golf tournament. Mrs. Jameson today won her second round match from Frances Owen of Jacksonville, Fla., 6 and 5, while Miss McDougall was advancing with a 3 and 1 decision over Dorothy Traung of San Francisco.

The other semi-final will send husky Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., against Mrs. Charles Newbold of Wichita, Kas. The latter was carried to the nineteenth hole by Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., today, while Miss Hemphill moved along with a 5 and 4 triumph over Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I.

Illinois Ends Season Tonight with Indiana

Champaign, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Illinois basketball players, happy over beating Michigan by a last minute rally, hope to close the season here tomorrow night by repulsing Indiana.

Victory over the Hoosiers would give the Illini a record of five victories against seven defeats, which they regard as an excellent performance, considering the various vicissitudes which have befallen them.

Harry Lasater, whose shoulder was put out of place by a fall in the Michigan game, will not be able to play. Chuck Phillips, Carl Davies, and Joe Frank are possibilities for the guard position thus made vacant.

INDIANA.		ILLINOIS.
Johnson	R. F.	Nisbet
McCreary	L. F.	Hapac
Huffman	C.	Dehner
Andres	R. G.	Handlon
Ooley	L. G.	Phillips

Officials — Frank Lane [Detroit] and George Levis [Wisconsin].

IRISH VS. MARQUETTE

Notre Dame, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—Notre Dame will close its home basketball season and Marquette will play its final game of 1937-'38 here tomorrow night before a sellout crowd of 5,500.

Notre Dame has won seventeen straight home games, and the season's record shows eighteen victories in twenty-one games. Marquette, which ended a seven game Notre Dame winning streak in Milwaukee recently, 45 to 43, has won fourteen of eighteen games.

A special train will bring 250 Marquette fans to the game from Milwaukee. The lineup:

NOTRE DAME.		MARQUETTE.
Moir	F	Adams
Sadowski	F	Graf
Nowak	C	Sokody
Wukovits	G	Hesik
Brown	G	Quabius

Referee—Getchell [St. Thomas]. Umpire—Craig [Illinois Wesleyan].

Clark Seeks Sixth in Row Against Horn

Jimmy Clark, former American Olympic Golden Gloves middleweight champion, will try for his sixth consecutive victory in a ten round bout with Ernie Horn tonight in Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue. After losing to Johnny Romero in ten rounds in Pittsburgh July 19, the colored puncher from Jamestown, N. Y., knocked out Tommy Bland, Elby Johnson, and Tony Zale and defeated Dick Demaray and Bob La Monte.

George Van Der Hayden, South Bend, Ind., lightweight, and Mike [Little Pal] Primich of Indiana Harbor will meet in a six round semi-final. A match at five rounds will bring together Frankie Agnes and Eddie Jackson, local 135 pounders. Georgie White is paired with Pete Poulos, and Johnny Fairchild with Sonny Batson in contests of four rounds.

Amateur fights will be held this evening in Madison Athletic club, 4717 Madison street, and Northwest arena, 3968 Milwaukee avenue. Art Palladino and Pete Ferrand will head the Madison card. Windup principals at Northwest will be Tony Sopko and Norman Roth.

SKEET SHOOTERS MEET TOMORROW AT SOUTH SHORE

Skeet shooters from four Chicagoland clubs will compete tomorrow afternoon at the South Shore Country club in one of a series of shoots being held by the League of Trap Shooters. The competing clubs are South Shore, Exmoor, Glen View, and Onwentsia.

The traps will be open for practice at 10:30 a. m. and competition will start at 1:30 p. m. following a luncheon. Other interclub shoots will be held at Exmoor on March 12, Onwentsia March 26, and Glen View April 2.

WAR ADMIRAL IS HEAVY FAVORITE IN $50,000 RACE

May Go to Post at Less Than 1 to 2.

Miami, Fla., March 3.—[Special.]—War Admiral looms as the shortest priced favorite of the Florida season for the $50,000 added Widener Challenge cup, according to predictions made by pricemakers and officials at Hialeah this afternoon.

It is probable that the champion son of Man o'War will go to the post at less than 1 to 2 for the prize that is expected to gross $60,000 if as many as a dozen go to the post. War Admiral will carry top weight of 130 pounds.

The forecast is for clear weather and a fast track, although War Admiral is expected to start even if the footing is muddy. His impressive appearance, and the slashing manner in which he has trained and competed for the Widener, is lending tremendous strength to the group which thinks the victory is pretty much of a cinch for Samuel D. Riddle's brown colt.

Maedic Wins.

Two more Widener eligibles were shown under silks this afternoon in the featured Hollywood Beach purse. Maedic, one of the eligibles, was a head winner over Proph. Teufel, the other Widener candidate, was the favorite and third.

Maedic surprised some by taking the lead soon after the break in the Hollywood Beach. He went along with Proph always in close attendance. Proph make two moves at Maedic, one at the top of the stretch and the other outside the eighth pole, but neither was good enough.

The mile was finished in 1:37 2-5, with the runner under Eddie Arcaro.

Starters in Widener.

Revised predictions for the Widener field as of this afternoon make the probable starters as follows: War Admiral, Burning Star, Tatterdemalion, Piccolo, Court Scandal, No Sir, Columbiana, War Minstrel, Thorson, and Zevson. Possible starters are Infantry, Corinto, and Bourbon King, the latter the only 3 year old and the colt that ran second to Lawrin in the Flamingo.

LIEUT. HARDWICK TO CONTINUE AS COACH AT NAVY

Annapolis, Md., March 3.—[Special.]—Lieut. Harry Hardwick will continue as head football coach of the United States Naval academy, Rear Admiral Wilson Brown, academy superintendent, said today. He also said that the three year term of Commander Andrew McFall as graduate manager of athletics will end this summer, and he will be replaced by Commander Ward P. Davis. The latter is now in command of the destroyer Dewey, based at San Diego, Cal.

CARDINALS SIGN ONE OF 2 MISSING JOES—MEDWICK

Report Salary $20,000; Stripp Still Out.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Joseph M. Medwick, the 1937 National league batting champion, today signed his St. Louis Cardinal contract—for a raise in pay. The 27 year old outfielder, named the most valuable player of the league, was reported to have received $20,000 in agreeing to a one year contract with Owner Sam Breadon. After the conference between Medwick and Breadon in the clubhouse Medwick joined the Cardinals for their morning workout.

Joe Medwick.

Joe Stripp, veteran infielder obtained from Brooklyn in a winter trade, is the only Cardinal holdout now that Medwick has signed. Breadon said no definite date had been set for a conference with Stripp, who is understood to be asking for $10,000.

JORDAN SIGNS WITH REDS.

Tampa, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Signing his 1938 contract, Baxter [Buck] Jordan, first baseman acquired last mid-season from Boston, joined the Cincinnati Reds in their workout on Plant field today. Linus Frey, recently purchased from Chicago, is expected in camp tomorrow.

INDIANS FIND ANOTHER HURLER.

New Orleans, La., March 3.—(AP)—Johnny Humphries, rookie hurler from Clinton Forge, Va., has a good chance of making the grade with the Indians, it was indicated today when Manager Oscar Vitt assigned Humphries to Johnny Bassler, for instruction.

DICKEY STRAINS SIDE.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—[U. P.]—Bill Dickey became the first casualty of the New York Yankees' spring training season today. He strained his side during batting practice. Examination showed no serious injury, but he will take it easy for a couple of days.

GIANTS BRING IN ROOKIES.

Baton Rouge, La., March 3.—(AP)—A couple of Detroit youngsters, Second Baseman Bill Nowak and Outfielder Charles Oxley, who graduated from the New York Giants' baseball school here, have been brought in to practice with the National league champions during spring training. Nowak played second base in today's practice game on Hank Danning's nine, which lost, 6 to 4, to the Mancusos in an intra-squad game.

ROOKIES STAR FOR PHILS.

Biloxi, Miss., March 3.—(AP)—Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Phillies, found two promising youngsters today as the squad held a two hour batting and fielding session. The youngsters are Arthur Rebel, an outfielder, and Emmett Mueller, an infielder.

A'S PLAY FIRST GAME.

Lake Charles, La., March 3.—(AP)—The Blues beat the Whites, 7 to 5, today, as the Philadelphia Athletics played their first intra-camp game. Skeeter Newsom's four singles out of five times at bat decided the issue for the Blues.

Among the infield candidates Irving Bartling, former Michigan State athlete trying out for third base, stood out. He made a leaping catch of a line drive that started a double-play and hit a triple.

MAYO REPORTS TO BEES.

Bradenton, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the Boston Bees spent the morning today correcting the stances of some of his young pitchers. During the afternoon the players concentrated on batting. Infielder Eddie Mayo reported and went through two stiff sessions.

3 RED SOX HURLERS MISSING.

Sarasota, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Three veteran pitchers, two of them holdouts, were missing today when Manager Joe Cronin put his Boston Red Sox battery men through their first spring drill, a 90-minute session. The absentees were John Marcum, Archie McKain, both unsigned, and Fritz Ostermueller.

BRADLEY QUINTET NAMED TO PLAY IN NEW YORK MEET

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Bradley Tech of Illinois today was named to play in the National Intercollegiate invitational basketball tournament. Three other choices were Temple of Philadelphia, New York university, and Long Island university. Two other teams will be chosen from a list which includes Marquette of Milwaukee, Arkansas, Kentucky, Colorado, and Oklahoma A. and M.

Bradley will meet Temple and New York university will face Long Island in the first games March 9. The winners of these two games will then play the two quintets yet to be selected on March 14, and the title game will be played March 16. The tournament is being sponsored by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers' association.

Minnesota Hocky Team Defeats Illinois, 7 to 2

Champaign, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—Minnesota's hocky team defeated the inexperienced Illini tonight, 7 to 2. The Gophers made four goals in the first period, Wallace two and St. Vincent and Anderson one each. Mariucci and Rheinberger each scored in the second and Wallace in the third. In the third Babbitt and White scored for Illinois.

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The New York Rangers barely survived a desperate third period rally tonight to nose out the Detroit Red Wings, 4 to 3, in a National Hockey league game before 9,000. It was the league's third penalty free game of the season.

Leading, 3 to 0, on goals by Bryan Hextall, Alec Shibicky, and Lynn Patrick in the first two periods, the Rangers found their edge all but wiped out as the Wings came back in the third. A goal by Neil Colville at the 6:37 mark of the period proved the winner as Hec Kilrea, Carl Liscombe, and Sid Howe counted for Detroit in its final period spree.

The defeat lessened the chances of the Wings making the American section playoffs. Deep in the sectional cellar they were counting on tonight's game to keep them within shooting distance of the third place Chicago Blackhawks. Lineups:

AMERICANS TIE CANADIENS

MONTREAL, Que., March 3.—(AP)—The New York Americans clinched a National Hocky league playoff berth tonight by battling the Montreal Canadiens to a 1 to 1 overtime tie in a game marred by two fights. The tie eliminated the Montreal Maroons from the Stanley cup playoffs, leaving the section leading Toronto Leafs, the Canadiens, and the Americans in the post-season activities. The Maroons now are 13 points behind the Americans, with only six games left to play. Lineups:

Golden Glove Finalists Face Greater Tests

night of March 11. That these battles will be decided before the largest crowd that ever witnessed an indoor boxing show is almost a certainty.

The supply of tickets was not exhausted yesterday, but it soon will be if yesterday's sales are a true indication.

That the championship struggles will surpass in all around thrills anything that has gone before in Golden Gloves was made certain by the spectacular battles that were waged during the Tournament of Champions.

Golden Gloves Inspire Them.

In every division desperate fighting is sure to take place before a Golden Glove is won or lost. Even Frank Kainrath, the blond Chicago puncher who was the only former champion to weather the preliminary rounds of the big tournament, is face to face with the toughest opposition he ever has encountered.

Those who oppose him—Clayton Johnson of Sioux City, John Cronin of Detroit, and Bud Chapman of Terre Haute—are among the niftiest bantamweight sharpshooters ever to come along in a Golden Gloves tournament. Kainrath must whip two of them before he can lay claim to his second Golden Glove.

A great fighter whose feats went virtually unsung because of the constant turmoil of the three-ring Tournament of Champions festival was Eddie Dempsey, the Davenport, Ia., featherweight.

Wins Four Hard Fights.

Dempsey slashed his way to four thrilling victories against mighty little men to survive. The draw sent him against four of the best boxers in the division. Yet he outpunched and outfought them. His performances thrilled the crowds. He will be a favorite in the final fighting, but his task of winning the championship is no easy one. Others who will have their say as to where the title will go are Jack Simmons of Kansas City, Jackie Campbell of South Bend, and Joe Dupont of the C. Y. O. of Chicago.

The heavyweight group indicated in the Tournament of Champions that it can take care of itself in any competition. The big fellow most people select to win the title is Dan Merritt of Cleveland.

Some rate him the equal of Lem Franklin, last year's heavyweight star from Cleveland, but Merritt's opposition in the finals will be powerful. Emanuel Williams of Gary, by whipping Chief Shoulderblade of Oklahoma, demonstrated that he possesses plenty of ability. Lloyd Montgomery, the Arkansas university football player who is a member of the Nashville team, is a hard puncher. So is Babe Ritchie, the heavyweight member of the Fort Worth team.

Muldune a Sharp Puncher.

The light heavyweight ranks also include some stout punchers in William Muldune of Cleveland, Linto Guerrie of Rockford, Frank Dukat of Green Bay, and Orlando Trotter of the Savoy Athletic club of Chicago. Some veteran Golden Gloves rooters have even gone so far as to say that Muldune is the stiffest puncher in the tournament. The championship battle will settle these arguments.

From the flyweights to the heavyweights the boxers are better this year than ever before. All of them in this latest Tournament of Champions appeared to be in better physical condition than they were for previous tournaments.

The thirty-two qualifiers took things easy yesterday. They will do the same thing today and tomorrow. They've had plenty of boxing during the Tournament of Champions to last them for a few days. Their drills early in the week will be light and on Wednesday and Thursday of next week most of them will be on their way back for the championship skirmishes.

Twenty-six of the thirty-two come from teams outside of Chicago. It was the greatest showing the invading forces ever made. The trophy going to the best of Chicago teams is at the mercy of the C. Y. O. The fight for the out of town team trophy may not be settled until the final bout has been fought. The tussle for this trophy is a red hot one among Cleveland, Detroit, Gary, and Terre Haute.

Grange Has an Operation; Rests Easily

Harold [Red] Grange, one of the greatest half backs in football history, last night was reported to be resting comfortably in West Suburban hospital, following an emergency operation late Tuesday night. Dr. V. D. Nerger of 5848 West Chicago avenue, who performed the operation after consultation with Dr. Homer Humiston, said Grange probably will be able to leave the hospital within two weeks.

Football Injury Blamed.

Grange's ailment was a bladder adhesion of nearly ten years' standing, the result of a football injury. He has had considerable trouble with it the last three years and, although it became increasingly painful, it was not until he consulted Dr. Nerger that he learned how serious his condition was.

Red Chose Illinois.

Grange and Dr. Nerger have been friends since their prep days at Wheaton High school. Their paths separated in 1922 when Red went to the University of Illinois to begin his football career and Dr. Nerger enrolled at the University of Michigan. The friendship was resumed when Grange returned to Chicago in 1925 to start his professional career with the Chicago Bears.

M'NEILL, MANGIN IN SEMI-FINALS OF TENNIS MEET

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Don McNeill and Gregory S. Mangin reached the semi-final round of the men's national indoor singles tennis tournament today.

McNeill, the Kenyon college student who is seeded No. 2, beat Leonard Hartman, 12-10, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Mangin dropped the first two sets of his quarter-final match with Merritt Cutler, veteran New Yorker, and then put on a brilliant exhibition of volleying to win, 9-11, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

Joining them in the semi-finals were Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, Cal., who beat Junior Indoor Champion Joe Fishbach, 6-1, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, and Frank Bowden of New York, who eliminated Morey Lewis, also of Kenyon college, 6-0, 6-1, 6-4.

Only one seeded player, Katharine Winthrop of Boston, remained in the women's singles. Miss Winthrop won, 6-4, 6-2, over Hope Knowles to justify her No. 3 ranking. Norma Taubele, No. 2, was beaten by Virginia Hollinger of Dayton, O., 5-7, 8-6, 7-5; Helen Germaine, victor over top ranking Helen Pedersen on Tuesday, was upset by Millicent Hirsh, last year's runner-up, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, and Helen Bernhard, 1937 girls' champion, custed fourth seeded Mrs. Virginia Rice Johnson of Boston, 6-2, 6-4.

Earl Garnsey 1st in Fishermen's Casting Contest

Earl Garnsey, who was the first man to enter THE TRIBUNE casting tournament this year, last night added another first place to his record by winning the fishermen's event at Navy pier. His score of 96 was high for the 51 competitors. Spectators at the National Boat and Sports show watched the fishermen cast for more than 2½ hours before the four trophy winners were named.

Roland Ford was second with a score of 94. Ronald Giese, A. R. Westra, G. F. Didier, and Frank McVey tied at 91 for third. In the cast-off Giese scored 93 and Westra 89 to take third and fourth.

◆

In number of competitors last night's event was the high point of the tournament. The scores were exceptionally good considering that no tournament equipment was allowed. All competitors used regular fishing rods, lines, and reels.

Women casters will compete in tonight's event, which starts at 7:30. Entries may be made up to 7:15 o'clock.

BIG BUDDY BAER FIGHTS BARLUND IN GARDEN ARENA

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Buddy Baer, younger and bigger of the fighting California brothers, trades punches with Gunnar Barlund, Finnish champion, in a ten round bout tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Baer, with thirty-five knockouts in forty-three bouts, was a 5 to 8 betting choice.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, whose last two Garden shows have been topped by the Joe Louis-Natie Mann and Jimmy Adamick-Harry Thomas matches, may pit the winner of tomorrow night's bout against Louis in May if the heavyweight champion decides on a third tune up for his June title battle with Max Schmeling.

In his last two starts here, Baer bowled over Abe Simon and Eddie Hogan in three rounds. He predicts he'll require no more time to stop Barlund.

Mr. Lewis Has His Troubles in Finding Cubs

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—The first full 1938 assembly of Cubs, which was scheduled for today at their Catalina Island training base, didn't take place. What with the unprecedented rainfall, with attendant washouts of railroad roadbeds, Manager Charley Grimm's athletes are widely scattered, and Secretary Bob Lewis is sweating off poundage trying to locate the missing members of the flock.

Early this morning Lewis arrived at the local depot fairly bubbling over to deliver a welcoming speech. The place was practically deserted. There were no trains coming in and none going out. But after snooping around the place Mr. Lewis finally located a few of the athletes he was in duty bound to deliver to Catalina Island this noon. He then went to work in a big way.

Finds Them at the Dock.

After counting noses Mr. Lewis checked off Carleton, Davis, Lee, Hack, Demaree, Marty, and Cavarretta. According to his list, he also should have found Root, French, and Stainback. Lewis took what he had, rushed them over to the electric terminal, and piloted them down to the steamer dock.

The trip to the dock wasn't a simple matter. The car had to travel a circuitous route, but finally arrived, the boat meanwhile being held. At the dock Lewis was greeted by Root, French, and Stainback, the three fellows who should have been at the Los Angeles depot. As soon as the ten man troupe had been herded on the ship Lewis paddled back to Los Angeles to resume his search for the men who should have arrived but didn't.

They're Somewhere in California.

Somewhere in the eastern part of the state are Bill Jurges, Rip Collins, and Coach Red Corriden. They make up the contingent which started from Chicago by train last Monday night. They will reach here as soon as the roadbed can be repaired, which may be tomorrow and then again may be later.

Another absentee is Augie Galan. The presumption is that he is on a train which is being held up by slides between here and San Francisco.

At Catalina the weather cleared enough to make things look good above the feet. So Grimm, whose rookie school has been disrupted by the weather, had the men go through a little running on a swampy field.

HIRSCH, SCHURZ AND HYDE PARK QUINTETS WIN

Fenger Juniors Defeat Farragut, 35-33.

The Hyde Park, Hirsch and Schurz senior fives and the Fenger juniors reached the semi-finals of the Chicago High School league playoffs yesterday. Hyde Park beat Lindblom, 28 to 27, and Hirsch whipped Tilden, 37 to 21, before a capacity crowd at the University of Chicago fieldhouse last night, while Schurz defeated Kelvyn Park, 31 to 25, at Lane Tech. Fenger beat Farragut, 35 to 33, at Tilden.

Hyde Park scored seven points to Lindblom's six in the opening period, after which each team scored a like number of points in each period. Fenger took an early lead, then, after Farragut had tied the score, won in the last ten seconds.

St. Mel's juniors took first place in the north section of the Catholic league from St. George, by beating St. George, 24 to 22, last night. The St. Mel seniors also won, 42 to 30.

Joliet High, 1937 state champion, was eliminated in the regional tournament at Bloom, Chicago Heights, by Lockport, 35 to 34, last night.

GERARD DEBAETS, TINO REBOLI TO RIDE AS PARTNERS

Gerald Debaets, Belgium's outstanding six-day bicycle rider, winner of more six-day races than any Belgian cyclist in competition today, will have Tino Reboli, Italian-American rider, as his partner in the thirty-ninth International six-day race starting a week from Sunday in the Stadium.

Debaets is one of the veterans of the game. He has won nineteen races and finished second in five. Debaets is en route here from San Francisco, where he and Jerry Rodman, Chicago youngster, finished second in the California race. Debaets rode with Reboli in the last Buffalo six-day race and finished third.

Gustav Zims and Victor Rausch will form a strong German team in the race. Rausch has won eight races and finished second in eight, while Zims has won three and finished second in three others.

BUSINESS SLUMP CUTS AUTO SALES IN COOK COUNTY

February Total Is Below January and Year Ago.

Reflecting the effects of the business recession, automobile sales in Cook county for February showed sharp declines from January and from February, 1937, the Bureau of Motor Advice, automobile statistical service, reported yesterday.

The February, 1938, total was 4,355, the lowest total for the month since 1934. The total for January, 1938, was 7,104 and for February, 1937, it was 8,733. The total for February, 1936 was 5,308.

In the comparisons between February and January, the first seven cars, in number of sales held the same positions as in January. Studebaker was the only make in the entire list that did not show a decline as compared with January, and Studebaker's sales totaled the same as in January.

Changes Occur in Ranking.

A number of changes occurred in the positions in the comparison between February, 1938, and February, 1937. Ford held first place with a total of 820 cars sold in February, against 1,439 in January, 1938, and 2,067 in February, 1937. Chevrolet was in second position with sales of 789 cars, against 1,134 a year ago. In February, 1937, it was in fourth position with sales totaling 678 units.

Plymouth was in third position with sales totaling 488 units, against 898 in January. In February, 1937, Plymouth was in second place with 1,696 sales. Buick was in fourth position with sales of 473 units, against 634. In February, 1937, Buick was in twelfth position with 233 sales.

Comparison of Sales.

A comparison of February sales with January, 1938, and with February, 1937, follows:

Railroad Problems.

As a preliminary to the series of articles on railroads starting tomorrow in this column, Investors' Guide today will attempt to review briefly some of the problems confronting the carriers of the nation. Leaders of business and government generally agree that financial difficulties of the railroads must soon be corrected if the country is to have an efficient transportation system.

A combination of immediate and long range factors is influencing the railroads at the present time. The immediate difficulties, however, can be traced to the fact that the roads have in the last six to ten months been confronted with rapidly rising costs in the face of lower revenues. The decline in revenues has been particularly acute since last October and has continued ever since.

Despite the lapse of the emergency freight charges at the end of 1936, railroads were able early in 1937 to show substantial gains in revenues over those in corresponding 1936 months, but the tide began to turn during the summer as business activity waned.

The interstate commerce commission recognized the financial troubles of the roads by granting selected freight rate increases late in 1937 amounting to between 60 million dollars and 70 million dollars annually. Decision is expected momentarily on the plea of the railroads for a horizontal freight rate increase of 15 per cent which would yield an estimated $517,000,000 annually in additional revenues.

Costs of supplies used by the roads advanced sharply during most of 1937. Expenses were raised still more by wage increases granted to nonoperating employés Aug. 1 and to operating employés Oct. 1. These wage increases were estimated to have cost the roads about $133,000,000 yearly. Including all classes of expenses the roads have estimated that it cost them approximately 600 million dollars a year more to operate in 1937 than in 1932.

Long range problems of the roads include competition from other forms of transportation, duplication of facilities, and heavy indebtedness. Individual roads vary widely in regard to the long range factors as some roads need only additional revenues to earn a fair return on invested capital and others appear to be in nearly hopeless condition. Nearly 30 per cent of all railroad mileage in the country is in receivership.

Various federal groups, including the interstate commerce commission, have recently said that problems of the roads cannot be solved by freight rate increases alone. Some groups have suggested drastic reorganizations and consolidations as the solution.

COURT APPROVES STANDARD GAS REORGANIZATION

Notes of Utility Holding Company Extended.

The United States District court at Wilmington, Del., has entered an order approving reorganization of the Standard Gas and Electric company, a $915,000,000 utility holding company with headquarters in Chicago, it was disclosed yesterday.

The company filed a petition to reorganize under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy act on Sept. 27, 1935, when it was unable to meet approximately $24,000,000 in bond maturities. The court directed that a formal decree be submitted for confirmation of the plan, and this is expected to be done in the next few days.

Promissory Notes Extended.

The plan approved by the court provides for the extension to April 1, 1948, of the $24,649,500 of 6 per cent promissory notes, which were due Oct. 1, 1935. The extension of the notes does not affect the maturity dates or interest rates of the $49,000,000 of debentures; which constitute the remainder of the company's funded debt.

There will be no change in the present outstanding 368,348 shares of $7 cumulative and 100,000 shares of $6 cumulative prior preferred stocks, the 757,442 shares of $4 cumulative preferred stock, nor the common stock of the company, except that the preferred issues will have full voting powers.

Will Register with SEC.

The company has indicated that when the reorganization plan is consummated it proposes to register as a holding company with the securities and exchange commission under the public utility act of 1935.

Included in the Standard system are the Philadelphia company and subsidiaries; Northern States Power [Delaware and subsidiaries], Louisville Gas and Electric and subsidiaries, San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric, Wisconsin Public Service and subsidiary, the California Oregon Power, the Southern Colorado Power, and the Mountain States Power companies.

These companies supply 1,696 communities located in twenty states and Mexico.

Postal Savings Deposits Increase During February

Postal savings deposits at the end of February totaled $103,245,321, compared with $102,902,665 a month earlier, Ernest J. Kreutgen, postmaster, reported yesterday. The number of accounts open on Feb. 28 was 232,143, an increase of 358 for the month. During February, 5,190 new accounts were opened and 4,832 accounts were closed.

OVER-COUNTER TRADE CONTROL BILL ADVANCES

Plan Provides System of Self-Regulation.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(AP)—Legislation to set up a government supervised system of "self regulation" for over the counter security dealers and brokers won the approval of the senate banking committee today.

Introduced by Senator Maloney [D., Conn.], the bill would permit associations of over the counter dealers and brokers to register with the Securities and Exchange administration and then enforce regulations upon their members. The SEC would enforce similar restrictions on dealers and brokers who remained outside the regulatory groups. Over the counter dealers handle securities outside the regular exchanges. Exchanges are regulated by their own organizations and the SEC.

Coöperative Regulation.

Commissioner George C. Mathews of the SEC said the Maloney bill would "set up a system of coöperative regulation of the over the counter markets through activities of voluntary associations of investment bankers, dealers, and brokers doing business in those markets, under appropriate governmental supervision." Mathews suggested that present regulation of exchanges may tend to force many securities issues off exchanges into the over the counter field where government supervision was "incomplete."

Investment bankers and securities dealers told the senate committee they favored self regulation along lines of NRA codes. They objected to the SEC "holding a club" over their organizations.

Senate Approval Predicted.

Chairman Wagner [D., N. Y.] of the senate committee said modifications made in the Maloney bill had met all major objections and he predicted senate a pproval. The bill exempts transactions in securities of the federal government, states, and other public subdivisions. These, however, remain subject to broad provisions of the SEC against fraud and deceptive practices.

Witnesses said there were thousands of over the counter dealers scattered throughout the United States. The SEC has 6,766 registered now.

Phone Stations Increase 30,000 During February

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Telephones in service in principal subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph company increased 30,000 in February, compared with a gain of 92,000 in February, 1937, the company reported today.

PUZZLED HOUSE LEFT IN DARK ON TAX BILL FACTS

Confused as Chiefs Try to Explain.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—The revenue act of 1938, designed to draw 5 billion 300 million of dollars in taxes from the American people, engaged the attention of a bewildered house today.

Rep. Knutson advocates crystal gazing to explain tax bill.

The debate provoked many laughs in the galleries as the serious significance of the measure was lost in confusion caused by the attempts of administration leaders to explain it.

President Roosevelt called for revision of the tax laws last fall as the result of criticism that the present act helped bring on the current depression by hampering business. An unhappy house committee worked for three months on the job and the result was made public yesterday.

Receive Evasive Replies.

For several hours an unusually large percentage of the members sat in on the debate in an earnest desire to learn something about the bill. But as many of their questions were given evasive replies, they began to drift out.

The congressmen wanted especially to know about the sections dealing with the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes and the new penalty tax on closely held or family corporations. Outright repeal of the first tax, broader revision of the second, and elimination of the third have been advocated by most of the witnesses who appeared at the committee hearings.

Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means committee which drafts all tax laws, was the first to take the floor. Known affectionately in the house as "Old Pappy," the tall, lean North Carolinian starts tomorrow his eighteenth consecutive year of service in the chamber, every year of which has found him engaged in drafting tax laws.

Skips Lines; Troubles Begin.

The members expected to get their answers from Doughton and he was carefully prepared with a typewritten statement which he read, tracing the lines with his finger. The fates proved unkindly to "Old Pappy," however, because he once skipped three lines without noticing it and proceeded happily until a member complained that he was slightly confused about the meaning of the statement.

Once he lost his place "Old Pappy" was in a bad fix and he soon became angry, shouting at his questioners and accusing those who were Republicans of attempting to confuse the issue for political motives.

Second to discuss the bill was Representative Fred M. Vinson [D., Ky.], chairman of the subcommittee which did most of the work on the measure. Vinson held forth for more than an hour. He took all questions in stride, was voluble in his answers, never lost his temper and received tumultuous applause when he was through.

Still Don't Understand.

When the enthusiasm had died down however, member after member arose to say that Vinson's exhibition, while a brilliant one, had left them no nearer to an understanding of the bill.

Minority Leader Bertrand H. Snell [R., N. Y.], sought time after time to obtain from Vinson a breakdown of the estimated revenues from the various sections in the bill.

"Can't you give us a simple breakdown which the average citizen can read and understand?" inquired Snell. "You have here an extremely complicated measure which completely revises the tax laws of the United States. Don't you think it fair to tell us just how much revenue will be gained from these various provisions?"

"All I can tell you is that the treasury tells us that the bill will yield approximately the same revenue as the present act," Vinson replied. "That is approximately 5 billions, 300 million. This bill probably will yield a little less, probably about 20 millions, than the present law."

Advocates Crystal Gazing.

"If you really want to know about this bill, I think you should send out for a crystal ball and do some gazing into it," Representative Harold Knutson [R., Minn.], advised Snell.

"It's a monstrous mass of technicality," declared Representative Bruce Barton [R., N. Y.]. "It's a law of lawyers, for lawyers, and by lawyers."

The manner in which the bill was drafted was revealed during the debate. After the open hearings at which scores of witnesses appeared, the committee went into executive session with Democratic members alone permitted to attend.

Study of the lengthy bill revealed one fact today. It was noted that one obscure provision repeals the law requiring the treasury to report to congress all annual corporation salaries of more than $15,000. There has been widespread criticism of this law.

Most of the speakers in the house attacked the tax on undistributed profits and there was evidence that sentiment in favor of the repeal of this tax is growing in the house.

Johns Manville Earnings Rise; Sales Increase

The Johns-Manville corporation, manufacturers of building materials, yesterday reported for 1937 the highest profit since 1929 and an increase in sales of 23 per cent over 1936, in spite of a drop in earnings and sales in the fourth quarter. The J. C. Penny company reported lower earnings for last year. Higher profits were shown by the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper company and Canada Steamship lines.

Net profit of Johns-Manville for 1937 amounted to $5,451,843, equal after preferred dividends to $5.80 a share on 850,000 shares of common stock. This compared with a profit in 1936 of $4,373,707, or $5.13 a share on 750,000 shares then outstanding.

Fourth Quarter Profit Drops.

Indicated net profit for the quarter ended Dec. 31, 1937, was $859,652, compared with $1,780,857 in the preceding quarter and $1,280,147 in the last three months of 1936. Indicated sales for the December quarter totaled $13,984,756, against $14,168,978 in the preceding three months and $16,397,160 in the December, 1936, quarter.

Lewis H. Browne, president, in a letter to stockholders said net sales last year totaled $60,173,392, an increase of $11,271,380 over 1936. The increase, he said, "was almost entirely attributable to enlarged volume of actual shipments for the year." During 1937, he added, $4,449,976 was spent for production facilities.

Copper Company Earns More.

Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper, operators of mines in the Lake Superior area, reported net profit for 1937 of $1,866,776, or 93 cents a share, compared with $852,122, or 42 cents a share, in the preceding year.

Net profit of Canada Steamship Lines, largest inland waterway ship operators in the world, amounted in 1937 to $235,495, compared with a net loss in 1936 of $1,659,960. The company operates 68 freighters and 12 passenger boats on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence waterway.

J. C. Penney company, operating variety stores throughout the country, showed a net profit for 1937 of $16,575,164, or $6.52 a common share. This compared with profit in 1936 of $18,712,488, or $7.36 a share. Sales for the year totaled $275,375,137, against $258,322,479 in 1936. The company had 1,523 stores operating at the end of 1937, compared with 1,496 a year earlier. Inventories on Dec. 31, 1937, amounted to $56,657,929, against $52,760,015 at the end of 1936.

South Penn Oil Report.

South Penn Oil company last year had a net profit of $4,643,266, or $4.64 a share, against 1936 net of $3,589,806 or $3.59 a share. Net sales amounted to $37,119,156, compared with $30,932,468 in 1936.

National Container corporation showed a profit for 1937 of $512,379, or 94 cents a share on 330,482 shares.

Reed Roller Bit company, tool manufacturers, reported net profit for 1937 of $1,941,152, or $3.08 a share, compared with 1936 profit of $1,480,709, or $2.35 a share.

MEXICAN OIL PAY ORDER EFFECTIVE AT NOON MONDAY

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, March 3.—The federal labor board today served formal notice on seventeen American and British petroleum companies that the new wage scale and operating program approved Tuesday by the Supreme court would become effective at noon Monday. At that time the companies will become liable for payment of more than $6,000,000 in back wages for the period since last May, which they have said they are unable to pay.

After Monday noon the government will be legally empowered to embargo company properties and place government agents in management posts.

A prelude to the final action is expected tomorrow, when the companies will get government notice demanding immediate payment of 75 per cent of the wages due for the twelve days' general strike last spring. The companies have in Mexican banks just the 1,000,000 pesos required for this purpose. The government is expected to embargo the bank accounts and use the money to pay the workers.

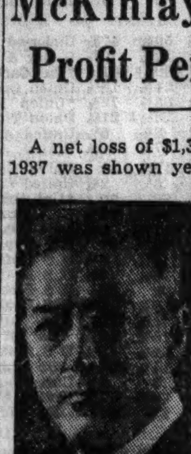
Baldwin Locomotive Elects New Directorate

Philadelphia, Pa., March 3.—(AP)—The Baldwin Locomotive works today held the first annual meeting under the approved reorganization plan and the voting trustees for the new $13 par value common stock, who had sole voting power at the meeting, elected a new board of directors. Those chosen were Arnold Bernhard and Charles L. Stillman, New York; Charles E. Brinley, Samuel M. Vauclain, John W. Converse, Joseph N. Ewing, Edward Hopkinson Jr., George H. Houston, Conrad N. Lauer, and Charles H. Schlacks, all of Philadelphia; Jerome Preston, Boston, and Robert C. Shields, Detroit.

LOSS IS SHOWN BY NATIONAL TEA FOR LAST YEAR

McKinlay Will Get Profit Percentage.

A net loss of $1,365,280 for the year 1937 was shown yesterday by the National Tea company in its annual report submitted to stockholders by John McKinlay, who on Jan. 27 was taken into the company as chairman of the board and chief executive officer. This compared with a net profit in 1936 of $226,750, or 23 cents a common share.



John McKinlay.

McKinlay, who was formerly president of Marshall Field & Co., in his message to stockholders discussed National Tea's current difficulties and also disclosed the terms of his compensation as chairman. He said that he was appointed for a period of three years under an arrangement providing a "nominal salary" plus a share of the net profits.

Given Profit Percentage.

McKinlay is to receive for each year 7 per cent of the first $500,000 of net profits remaining after preferred dividends, 5 per cent of the next $500,000, and 3 per cent of profits in excess of $1,000,000.

Discussing results for 1937, McKinlay said:

"The poor showing made by the company during the year is attributed to higher taxes, higher labor costs, ineffective merchandising and the difficulty of management and ownership to agree on important operating policies."

He said the company's sales decreased during the year by 0.62 per cent to $62,485,320. During the year the company obtained a 5 per cent mortgage loan of $500,000, payable serially to July 1, 1947, and secured by 54 out of 170 store properties owned. The proceeds were used to increase working capital. On Dec. 31, 1937, current assets were $6,922,202 against current liabilities of $3,621,714.

Explains Company's Difficulties.

Commenting on present problems, McKinlay said:

"Like many others, this company in its more prosperous days put too large a proportion of its assets into land and buildings; as a result, in addition to owning 170 store properties, the company owns warehouses, garages, and factory properties, some of which are either not used by us or only partially used, and the board of directors intends to give this situation serious consideration during the coming year."

He pointed out that some of the eighteen wholly owned subsidiaries were "inoperative, and probably most of them should be dissolved and their operations made simply departments of the National Tea company."

Buy on Competitive Basis.

"Our purchases of food and supplies," he continued, "are made on a strictly competitive basis. We are not hampered in this, as no officer or director has any substantial investment in any manufacturer from whom we buy.

"It is our hope that with attention to the problems enumerated above, a closer adherence to fundamental merchandising policies, clearly defined managerial responsibility, and a cooperative spirit on the part of all employés, the results for the coming year will show an improvement."

BIG BANK LOAN IS ARRANGED BY STEEL COMPANY

Youngstown, O., March 3.—(AP)—President Frank Purnell announced today that the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company has borrowed $12,500,000 from New York banks, for two and three years, to provide additional working capital and to pay for improvements.

Purnell said a loan of $5,000,000 was paid, leaving the company a bank debt of $7,500,000. The company last fall planned to issue $30,000,000 of convertible debentures, but the stock market slump halted plans.

"The time for this permanent financing has not yet arrived," Purnell said. "It is as yet not possible to predict when it will be. The short term financing was done on favorable terms."

MANY EMPLOYERS PREMATURE IN PAYING IDLE TAX

More than 200 checks are being returned to Illinois employers who sent in payments for January on the state unemployment compensation tax, Martin P. Durkin, director of labor, announced yesterday. He explained that the first contribution for 1938 is not due until April 30, when payment must be made for the first quarter of the year.

Approximately 24,000 employers in Illinois, employing eight or more workers, must make the required payment of 2.7 per cent of their total pay rolls for the first quarter by April 30, according to Durkin. The contributions, he added, are placed in a trust fund from which benefit payments to jobless workers will be made beginning July, 1939.

Federal Board Plans to Peg Price of Eggs

The Federal Surplus Commodity commission is prepared to peg egg prices near the present level by a government buying program if quotations start to fall further, it was learned yesterday from egg dealers and producers who attended hearings on the egg market held by the commission in Chicago on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dewey Termohlan, government representative in charge of the hearings, said a definite announcement of policy would be made by department of agriculture officials in Washington, D. C., today or tomorrow.

Prices Sag for Two Months.

The price of eggs has been steadily declining in the last two months. Extra firsts, the highest grade, which sold at 24½ cents a dozen on Jan. 2, fell to 19¼ cents on Jan. 31 and dropped to 16⅝ cents on Feb. 28. Other grades and quotations of eggs futures have shown corresponding declines.

It was learned yesterday that the egg producers—those operating commercial chick hatcheries—were the chief boosters at the hearings for a government buying policy to maintain or raise prices. Many dealers, on the other hand, expressed the opinion that eggs cannot be marketed in any volume at prices much above present quotations.

Termohlan indicated that funds were available and the commission had authority to buy eggs, but that if the market stayed at its present level or advanced no purchases would be made.

Seeks Cut in Dealers' Profit.

It was also learned from egg traders yesterday that Termohlan expressed the opinion that the present spread of about 3½ cents a dozen between current receipts—the general run of eggs brought to market—and the storage packed extras is too large and should be narrowed, thus cutting dealers' profits.

Last year in January and February the government bought 513 cars [6,154,000 dozen] of fresh eggs. From October to December the government bought 526 cars [6,312,000 dozen] of storage eggs.

The FSCO on Feb. 14 of this year began a butter buying program to peg prices, which has already brought its purchases to date of 92 score butter to more than a million pounds.

Egg futures marked time yesterday, pending the announcement from Washington. March storage packed firsts closed at 19½ cents, unchanged, and Octobers were steady at 21⅝ cents. Cash prices were unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

Butter contracts were unchanged to ⅛ cent a pound lower.

SEARS-ROEBUCK FEBRUARY SALES BELOW YEAR AGO

Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. for the four weeks ended Feb. 26, the first period of the company's fiscal year, totaled $30,148,610, a decrease of 1.9 per cent from sales of $30,725,423 in the corresponding period of 1937, the company announced yesterday. In the preceding four weeks' period sales showed a decline of 3.1 per cent from the corresponding period a year earlier.

Neisner Brothers' sales for February totaled $1,125,911, compared with $1,186,562 in February, 1937, a decline of 5.1 per cent. Sales for the first two months of this year amounted to $2,254,310, or 4.8 per cent below sales of $2,368,639 in the first two months of last year.

Departures from Chicago Airport Exceed Year Ago

Departures from the Chicago airport last month totaled 9,151 persons, an increase of 63 per cent over February, 1937, when the total was 5,609, airport officials announced yesterday. In January this year there were 8,095 departures.

TREASURY WILL OFFER BONDS IN EXCHANGE FOR MATURING NOTES

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.—The treasury will offer bonds in exchange for the approximately $455,000,000 of three per cent notes which mature March 15, Secretary Morgenthau announced this afternoon. No further details will be announced until the bonds are offered next week.

Morgenthau also announced that tenders will be received up to 2 p. m., Monday at federal reserve banks or their branches on the $100,000,000 dual bill offering which the treasury started last week.

One series of the bills, in the amount of approximately $50,000,000, comprises the customary 91 day bills, the proceeds of which are used to pay maturing issues of like amount, and the other series consists of the "new money" bills, which will be sold each week, until the treasury decides how much "new money" it will need.

The "new money" bills to be sold Monday will be 99 day bills maturing June 16. Both series will be sold in the usual denominations on a discount basis to the highest bidders.

HEAVY BUILDING AWARDS HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Engineering construction awards last month totaled $210,801,000, a gain of 11 per cent over both the preceding month and February, 1937, and the largest for any February since 1929, it was reported today by the Engineering News-Record. The study also showed that awards this week, totaling $44,427,000, were 38 per cent larger than in the corresponding week in 1937.

Private construction last month was 11 per cent above January, but 15 per cent below last year, when the Pennsylvania railroad electrification contract was awarded. Public construction was 11 per cent above January and 44 per cent ahead of last year, due largely to the $34,442,000 federal government contract for completion of the Grand Coulee dam.

The total this week compared with $40,161,000 in the preceding week and $32,125,000 in the like week of last year. The week's private construction total, $20,386,000, compared with $14,875,000 in the prior week and $16,763,000 in the 1937 week. Public awards totaled $24,041,000, comparing with $25,286,000 in the preceding week.

BANK CLEARINGS DECLINE 26.5 PCT. FROM YEAR AGO

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in twenty-two leading cities were 26.5 per cent below those of a year ago for the week ended March 2, as compared with a decline of 32.0 per cent from the 1937 comparative a week earlier, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

Total clearings for these cities for the week just ended were $5,227,478,000, compared with $7,109,623,000 during the corresponding week last year.

New York clearings totaled $3,210,668,000, compared with $4,573,275,000 last year, registering a decline of 29.8 per cent. In clearings for other cities the total was $2,016,810,000, against $2,536,348,000 in the similar 1937 week, a drop of 20.5 per cent.

The turnover of $304,700,000 at Chicago was 19 per cent under the $376,300,000 last year. Only Dallas reported an increase over last year. In that city clearings of $51,000,000 were 1 per cent above those of last year.

Broker Firm Stafs Reduced 8.6% in 1937

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Every twelfth employé of New York Stock exchange member firms lost his job last year, the exchange revealed today.

In the first official compilation of brokerage house employment ever made, the exchange reported that as 1938 opened, member firm employés numbered 47,300. This was a reduction of 8.6 per cent under the 51,740 persons working in member firms at the opening of 1937. These figures do not show the total reduction in workers because they do not take into account employés of twenty-four firms dissolved during the year. More employés have been dropped this year.

Blame Dwindling Trade.

Dwindling volume of trading in both stocks and bonds, especially through the lean months accompanying the business recession which set in last autumn, was blamed for the drop in brokerage house employment. The number of shares traded in 1937 was the smallest in two years, and bond transactions were the fewest since 1930.

The exchange statistics, presented in the year book, showed that of the 47,300 working as 1938 opened, 26,726 had jobs in New York City, 19,329 in out of town brokerage offices, and 1,245 in foreign countries.

At the opening of 1937 there were 647 registered stock exchange member firms, and during the year twenty-four of these were dissolved. However, new firms opened during 1937 lifted the total of member houses to 652 as of Jan. 1 last, or five more than at the opening of 1937. Partners of members at the beginning of 1938 totaled 3,704, a gain of one over a year earlier.

Branch Offices Total 1,185.

Branch offices of member firms on Jan. 1 numbered 1,185, and were situated in 385 cities in forty-five states and eight foreign countries. A year earlier branch offices totaled 1,182. Nonmember correspondents increased from 4,148 to 4,238.

The number of official stock tickers in operation decreased from 3,753 to 3,390. Reflecting the reduced volume of trading, stock transfer tax collections of the federal government and of New York state totaled $57,434,243 during 1937, compared with $66,359,326 in 1936.

The year book said that the average age of members of the New York Stock exchange on Jan. 1 last was 45 years.

EASTERN AIR LINES GETS NEW CORPORATE FORM

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Attorneys were busy here today preparing a corporate structure for Eastern Air Lines which was sold Tuesday to a banking group headed by Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker.

Details of the new organization probably will be revealed about March 15 when a report will be filed with the Securities and Exchange commission. It is said that there will be only one class of shares, closely held by Rickenbacker and his associates—Smith-Barney & Co., and Kuhn-Loeb & Co. It is unlikely that any public offering will be made.

Sale of the company will not be confirmed publicly until approved by the stockholders. Notice of a special meeting at Wilmington, Del., was filed with directors of the New York Stock exchange yesterday. This meeting will be held about March 14.

Banks' Loans Exceed U. S. Bond Holdings

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency, after a conference today with President Roosevelt, reported that national banks of the country had more commercial loans than holdings of government obligations.

J. T. F. O'Connor.

In a statement given to the President, based on the last report of national banks as of Dec. 31, the controler placed loans and discounts at $8,809,448,000, compared with holdings of government bonds and other obligations amounting to $8,072,882,000. Other nongovernmental securities held by the national banks were placed at $3,690,122,000. Total assets were $30,124,195,000 and deposits $26,540,694,000.

Loans Are Increasing.

As he left the President's office O'Connor told newspaper men that most people probably would be "surprised" to learn that "our national banks now have more of their assets in commercial loans than they have in United States government obligations." For the last three bank calls commercial loans have been increasing and the government bond holdings have been decreasing. That is what everybody in the country wants, he said. The statement follows:

Total assets	$30,124,193,000
Total deposits	26,540,694,000
Loans and discounts	8,809,448,000
U. S. government obligations, direct and fully guaranteed	8,072,882,000
Others bonds, stocks, and securities	3,690,122,000
Reserve with federal reserve banks	4,172,915,000
Cash in vaults	422,490,000
Balance with other banks	3,955,088,000
Total reserve with F. R. banks, cash, and balance other banks	8,550,493,000
Other assets	1,001,250,000

Hold Fifth of U. S. Bonds.

On December 31 the national banks held 19.52 per cent of the total of United States government obligations outstanding. At the last three calls, Dec. 31, 1936; June 30, 1937, and Dec. 31, 1937, commercial loans in national banks increased as follows:

	Dec. 31, 1936.	June 30, 1937.	Dec. 31, 1937.
Ratio of loans to deposits	29.94%	32.91%	33.19%
Rate of government obligations to total amount outstanding	22.64%	20.30%	19.52%

O'Connor has submitted his resignation, effective as of April 1, to run for the Democratic nomination for governor of California.

U. S. WILL QUIZ DEFENDANTS IN ALUMINUM SUIT

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The government was granted permission today by Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey to serve upon the Aluminium Company of America and 62 co-defendants in an anti-trust action a bill of interrogatories numbering 605 questions.

The bill, lodged in the federal court clerk's office, required 73 typewritten pages and covers the period from 1888, when "Alcoa" was formed, through 1937.

Assistant United States Attorney General Walter L. Rice had explained in his request for permission to file the bill that the defendants were charged with maintaining a monopoly, with organizing Aluminum of Canada, Ltd., for the purpose of transferring foreign stockholdings to it and thus evading the Sherman act, and with acquiring foreign properties and contracts to tighten Aluminium's hold over the American market.

Rice added that the government was entitled to secure the information it needed to prepare for trial.

BIG STEEL CARTEL GEARS MACHINE TO RULE EXPORTS

BRUSSELS, March 3.—(AP)—The international steel cartel today established a special committee in London with widespread powers to organize the world export market. The action took place after a delegation of steel leaders which recently visited the United States reported on "arrangements made with American exporting works."

The announcement said prices would be maintained and severe penalties inflicted on producers and sellers violating obligations.

70 CAR TRAINS HELD THREAT TO CHICAGO AREA

Belt Line Head Fears Curb on Service.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Six thousand industries located in the Chicago metropolitan area—some of them the largest in the world—would be seriously affected by the virtual disruption of railroad switching services which would follow enactment of the bill limiting the length of freight trains to seventy cars, William J. O'Brien of Chicago, general manager of the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company said today. He testified before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee.

"The passage of this seventy car limitation," said O'Brien, "would completely disrupt the two highly important service functions of the Chicago switching district. First, the function as an essential link in the present interchange between western, eastern, and southern trunk lines, of through shipments. Second, the function in affording direct switching service between the trunk line railroads and the industries and consumers in the Chicago area.

Link in Fast Service.

"In both functions, the terminal companies serve as a connecting link in the present fast scheduled freight service. Any legislation affecting either of these operations will necessarily affect the present day expedited through schedules."

O'Brien pointed out that 38 railroads operate in Chicago and vicinity, 22 of which are so-called trunk lines and the remainder local and switching.

"Within this area are more than 160 railroad yards, 73 freight stations, and 6 major passenger stations," he said. "Approximately 500 freight trains per day move in and out of Chicago. In order to correlate this daily volume of freight transportation and not delay its progress to ultimate markets, the major belt lines operate what are called 'transfer trains.'

15,000 Cars Arrive Daily.

"These trains handle the cars containing through freight from the arrival yard of one road to the departure yard of another. The volume of business even with present subnormal trafic is approximately 15,000 loaded cars arriving in Chicago every day, divided on the basis of 8,900 from western lines and 6,100 from eastern and southern lines. The outbound movement is only slightly smaller.

"Under modern railroad operation, all of this freight moves on definite and fixed schedule which does not permit of delay in terminal operation any more than it can afford to be delayed on the road. The result is that our switching service must be performed not only 'on time' but within a very short space of time.

Plan Would Disrupt Service.

"I have no hesitation in saying that any unnecessary limitation of our transfer trains, such as this proposed 70 car limit, would completely disorganize and disrupt our terminal operations. The flexibility which we now have in the operation of these trains is the most important factor in our successful performance.

"Flexibility and the right to move these cars in our trains as circumstances may require is an absolute essential. Only by so doing can we continue to accord to our industries the scheduled arrival and departure of their inbound and outbound freight."

Gustave Metzman, freight transportation manager for New York Central, said any interference with existing freight schedules would create an economic loss both to the road and the general public.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 3.—Stock market prices sought still lower ground today. Losses at the close ranged from fractions to around 1 point in favorite issues, although closing prices represented moderate improvement over their worst of the day.

Trading continued at approximately yesterday's pace, the total turnover today of 466,880 shares comparing with 406,315 shares Wednesday. It was apparent, according to some observers, that many traders who have assumed sideline positions will stay there pending developments in two fields. One is the imminent interstate commerce commission decision on the freight rate petition; the other is the progress of the new revenue bill on which the house began debate today.

◆

A notable event today was the private purchase of a block of 28,600 shares of Union Carbide common stock by the First of Boston corporation and Kidder, Peabody & Co. Wall street rumor had it that the stock was bought nearly 1½ points under current market levels. The issue, selling ex-dividend, closed at 76¼, off 11-16.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem made moderate recoveries toward the close and whittled earlier losses of a point or so to fractions. Other steels, including Republic, Youngstown, Crucible, and National, edged into the plus column.

◆

Several copper shares also firmed in the late trading. Fractional declines prevailed in the railroad section. Utility issues held relatively steady, the group closing unchanged to minor fractions lower. American Telephone was soft in the communication division, losing 1⅛ points. Electric equipments were mixed.

Chrysler, General Motors, and Yellow Truck were actively traded and closed fractionally lower.

Du Pont and Air Reduction in the chemicals pushed into the plus column, but Allied Chemical and others followed the general list lower.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Railroad loans made a further retreat today from the February recovery highs and many other speculative issues followed the same path in the bond market.

Low yield bonds bontinued to stand up well. Some top grade corporates moved up fractionally, and in the United States government list there was a predominance of gains ranging from 1-32d to 6-32ds.

The foreign list showed a liberal sprinkling of declines, affecting Japanese, Italian, Belgian, and South American groups. German issues were firm.

Chicago Stocks.

Stocks on the Chicago exchange again moved slowly and irregularly within a narrow range in yesterday's trading. Of the 64 issues traded, 16 advanced, 26 declined and 22 were unchanged. Volume totaled 18,000 shares against 23,000 Wednesday. The Tribune average of 20 stocks closed unchanged at 9.78.

The trading favorites, General Household and Borg-Warner, moved upward, the former advancing ⅛ and the latter climbing 1⅛. Zenith Radio declined a minor fraction.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were quiet yesterday. First National declined $2 a share. Merchandise National and Harris Trust were quoted unchanged to $2 a share higher by various dealers. Terminal National and City National were unchanged at $1 higher. Others were steady.

WHEAT EASIER; EXPERTS RAISE CROP ESTIMATES

The wheat market showed an easy undertone yesterday, closing ⅜ to ¾ cent a bushel lower, with the July and September contracts showing the most loss. The decline was attributed to estimates by Chicago statisticians suggesting a winter wheat crop of 659,000,000 bushels on March 1, or 29,000,000 bushels in excess of the department of agriculture's forecast on Dec. 1.

Liverpool wheat futures rallied sharply after an early decline and closed ⅜ to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, due to prospects of a better demand from importing countries.

Corn futures advanced small fractions of a cent a bushel early on buying which brokers attributed to exporters. However, the upturn was not maintained, due to weakness in wheat, and closing prices were unchanged from the previous day.

There was considerable adverse comment on the part of traders regarding the proposed 1938 corn acreage in the commercial producing states as announced Wednesday by the department of agriculture, especially the estimated larger percentage reduction in Illinois as compared with Iowa, which is the home state of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Trade in oats, rye, and soy bean futures was limited, with prices somewhat lower in sympathy with other grains.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices moved irregularly yesterday, with a tendency downward. The Dow-Jones index of futures prices closed at 53.69, off 0.17 from the previous close. Cash prices, however, moved upward. The Associated Press index of 35 weighted wholesale staples advanced to 71.37 from 71.21 on Wednesday.

Metals contracts, except for copper, declined. Lead closed 0.01 to 0.05 cent lower, zinc was down 0.19 cent, and tin was off 0.25 to 0.75 cent. Copper futures were 0.03 cent higher to 0.01 lower. Prices of export and domestic copper were steady in the cash market.

◆

Hides contracts advanced 0.18 to 0.19 cent. In the spot hide market in Chicago, Swift and company sold 20,000 steers at 10½ cents for the heavy Texas and 10 cents for Colorados. These quotations were down 1 cent from recent nominal quotations.

Advances were made yesterday in silk and wool tops futures. Closing lower were rubber, cocoa and cottonseed oil contracts.

◆

Cottonseed oil advanced early in the day but reacted later under commission house selling and closed unchanged to 0.03 cent lower.

Sugar and coffee contracts were irregular. Domestic sugar was unchanged to 0.03 cent lower, and world contracts were unchanged to 0.01½ cent higher. Santos coffee, after opening higher, fell slightly to close 0.01 cent higher to 0.03 cent lower. Rio finished 0.02 to 0.04 cent higher.

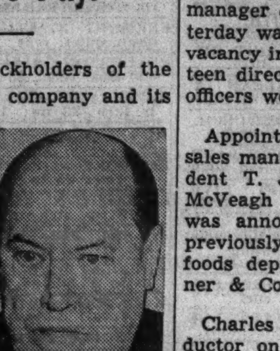
BIG OIL MERGER TERMED UNFAIR BY EX-OFFICIAL

Testifies in Suit for $150,000 Pay.

Charges that stockholders of the Prairie Oil and Gas company and its affiliate, the Prairie Pipe Line company, Independence, Kas., were treated unfairly in the companies' merger with Harry F. Sinclair interests to form the Consolidated Oil corporation were made yesterday by Frederick I. Wilhelm, Independence, before Federal Judge John P. Barnes.



Harry F. Sinclair.

Wilhelm, former secretary of the two Prairie companies, and A. W. Drohen, former purchasing agent, are suing William Roy Carney, president of the Carney Coal company, 33 South Clark street, for $100,000 and $50,000, respectively, for services in connection with efforts by Carney to have the merger set aside. Wilhelm and Drohen alleged they had "a gentlemen's agreement" with the Chicagoan for compensation for their services in the filing and prosecution of a suit in federal court in Chicago to prevent the merger as fradulent.

Suit Settled Out of Court.

The suit was settled out of court and Wilhelm and Drohen contend that Carney refused to abide by the agreement. Carney says that he entered no agreement with Wilhelm and that the minority stockholders' committee, of which he was chairman, paid Drohen $300 a week to assist the committee's attorneys in preparing the suits objecting to the merger and to contact stockholders of the Prairie companies.

The story of the merger was brought out in questioning of Wilhelm by his attorneys, Leslie E. Salter and Louis Bicking. Wilhelm was with the Prairie companies in an official capacity for 28 years and when he left was receiving an annual salary of $12,000. He said he first met Carney in March, 1932, when the latter, who owned $500,000 of stock of the Prairie companies, asked him for a list of stockholders to fight the merger.

Sinclair Buys Prairie Stock.

"The first I heard of the proposed merger was in October, 1928, when I learned that Harry F. Sinclair and his crowd were acquiring substantial holdings of stock in the Prairie companies," Wilhelm testified. "By March, 1932, when it was consummated, they owned 24 per cent of the stock of the companies. We were led to believe that we were taking over the Consolidated company. Instead we found that Consolidated was taking us over.

"The pipe line company alone had $56,000,000 of liquid assets. Its stock was worth $62 a share and the stock of the Consolidated was selling at $4.50 a share."

Salter introduced letters disclosing the close relationship that existed between Wilhelm and Carney. Most of the letters dealt with Carney's requests for information in regard to the value of Prairie stock and incidents in connection with the merger.

Termed Corrupt Transaction.

Salter also introduced a letter from Wilhelm to Senator Duncan U. Fletcher [D., Fla.], chairman of the senate committee on banking and currency, in which he called the merger a "corrupt transaction reeking with fraud." The letter is said to have been responsible for the senate investigation of the Sinclair deals.

In the letter to Fletcher, Wilhelm said that the paid up capital stock of the Prairie Pipe Line company was $101,250,000, that the company had paid approximately $130,000,000 in cash dividends from the time of its organization to June 30, 1931, and that at the time of the merger the company had $56,000,000 in current assets and more than $73,000,000 in fixed assets, all of which was acquired by Sinclair for $28,000,000.

The Prairie Oil and Gas company, Wilhelm told Fletcher, had a paid up capital slightly in excess of $60,000,000 and this company was acquired by Sinclair for slightly more than $12,000,000.

The trial is expected to continue a week.

Business Bits

William P. Hemphill, chairman of the finance committee of Borg-Warner corporation and former vice president of Armour & Co., has become a partner of McKinsey, Wellington & Co., management consultants with offices in Chicago, New York, and Boston. The partnership taken by Hemphill had been vacant since the death of James O. McKinsey, late president of Marshall Field & Co. A. T. Kearney is senior partner in the Chicago office.

Floyd K. Thayer, assistant sales manager of Abbott Laboratories, yesterday was elected a director to fill a vacancy in the board. The other fourteen directors were reëlected, and all officers were reëlected.

Appointment of Ben Klapper as sales manager and assistant to President T. J. Marguerite of Franklin McVeagh & Co., wholesale grocers, was announced yesterday. He was previously manager of the canned foods department with Sprage Warner & Co.

Charles W. Arnold, passenger conductor on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, has been retired after 59 years of railway service. He lives in Danville, Ill.

Leonard Hicks, managing director of the Morrison hotel, has been elected president of the Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit association.

PRICES OF LIVE STOCK MAKE NEW HIGHS FOR 1938

New 1938 highs were established in practically all classes of live stock yesterday in a sellers' market. Light receipts and colder weather enabled commission men at the Chicago stockyards to drive quotations into the new brackets in face of resistance in wholesale meat channels, where there is evidence of consumer demand falling because of recent upturns.

Most grades of hogs reached the highest levels in more than four months, with some big weights selling at the best prices in almost five months. Advances ranged from 10 cents to 40 cents.

The highest average prices since late in December were paid for fat lambs. The bulk of the supply changed hands from $8.75 to $9, fully 25 to 35 cents higher than on the preceding session. Steers and yearlings sold strong to 25 cents higher, showing 25 to 40 cents gain for the week.

DIVIDEND IS CUT BY PITTSBURGH PLATE GLASS CO.

Blames Uncertainties in Business and Taxes.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass company yesterday declared a dividend of 25 cents, payable April 1 to stock of record March 10. The company paid five dividends in 1937, none of them of less than $1, and totaling $6.50 for the year. Dividends totaled $6 a share in 1936.

H. S. Wherrett.

In connection with the reduction President H. S. Wherrett issued the following statement on behalf of the directors.

"Under existing business conditions and the uncertainties of enforced distribution, under penaltes, of earnings when currently realized, a dividend policy is impracticable. Distributions for the remainder of the year will depend upon earnings and the form of the new tax laws, including that relating to dividend distribution."

Salaries Cut 10 Per Cent.

The company earlier this week announced a 10 per cent reduction in salaries for all office workers and executives, effective immediately, and to remain in effect until business conditions improve.

Another reduction in the prevailing dividend rate was announced by Babcock & Wilcox company, manufacturers of industrial heating equipment and other products. Directors declared a dividend of 25 cents on the capital stock, payable April 1. Five dividends of $1 each were paid during 1937.

Childs Company Defers Action.

No payment on accumulated preferred dividends of Childs company, restaurant operators, can be made at this time, W. A. Barber, chairman, told stockholders yesterday at the annual meeting in New York. No dividends have been paid since December, 1931.

Directors of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., declared the regular quarterly dividend of 62½ cents on the preferred stock, payable April 1, and announced a change in regular dividend dates on the common stock. Payments hereafter will be made on the common stock quarterly beginning Feb. 1 instead of Jan. 1, as previously. The revision was made to conform with the change in the company's fiscal year from a calendar year basis to a fiscal year ending Jan. 31.

GOLD HOLDINGS DIP 17 MILLIONS IN LAST WEEK

Europe Withdraws Metal; More Money Circulates.

Reflecting the continued withdrawal of gold from the United States by Europe, the federal reserve board yesterday reported a drop of 17 million dollars in the monetary gold stock of the nation in the week ended March 2. The total of 12 billion 767 millions as of March 2, however, was still nearly 1⅛ billions larger than a year earlier.

Other changes shown in the reserve board's weekly report were minor. Excess reserves of all commercial banks belonging to the reserve system declined 20 millions to a total of 1 billion 390 millions. Total holdings of federal government obligations by the twelve reserve banks were unchanged, but there were some minor shifts between types of such securities.

Sell U. S. Bonds, Buy Notes.

The twelve reserve banks combined showed a decline of 12 millions in holdings of long term government bonds, but an increase of 10 millions in treasury notes and 2 millions in short term bills. Money in circulation increased 19 millions for the week, which included the end of the month period when circulation usually increases.

Weekly reporting member banks in Chicago increased their holdings of government securities 43 millions and reporting member banks in New York reduced such holdings 47 millions. Changes in volume of commercial loans were negligible.

Treasury Sells More Gold.

The United States treasury yesterday reported the sale on March 1 of another $9,981,062 worth of gold to a foreign country, but again declined to identify the purchaser. The transaction reduced the treasury's inactive gold fund to $1,190,585,498.

Sale of $13,000,000 worth of gold to an unidentified country on Feb. 25 was disclosed earlier this week. Physical export of the gold has not taken place in either case yet, the treasury said, as the gold has merely been earmarked for account of the purchaser.

Secretary Morgenthau yesterday refused to discuss reductions in the treasury's sterilized gold fund which occurred in the last week.

The dollar advanced fractionally in terms of most European currencies yesterday. The pound sterling closed at $5.01¾, down ⅛ of a cent, and the franc closed at 3.25¾ cents, off 0.00¼ of a cent.

Soft Coal Production Runs Far Below Year Ago

The National Coal association yesterday estimated bituminous coal production in the week ended Feb. 26 was approximately 6,350,000 net tons against 11,194,000 in 1937 and 9,923,000 in 1936.

Everyday Economics

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

Cost, Production.

In everyday usage the cost of a commodity is usually understood to be the money cost, or price, of it. The economic definition of cost, however, is the amount of goods or services one must sacrifice in order to obtain a given quantity of goods or service.

The cost to the consumer of a pound of butter, for example, is not the price of the 38 cents paid for it at the grocery store, but is the time and effort spent in earning the 38 cents plus the time and effort used in going to the store and returning home.

Similarly, the cost from the storekeeper's angle is the total of the producer's costs plus his own work in making it available to the consumer. The production costs include payment for the five factors used in all productive processes. These factors will be discussed in this column tomorrow.

Production is defined by the economist as the addition of utility, or usefulness, to commodities. A productive process is a process in which resources are used for production.

Tomorrow: The Factors of Production.

PLAN PARADES TO BOOST SALES OF USED AUTOS

National Used Car Exchange week will open in Chicago tomorrow with a parade of used cars through the loop and in local communities, Harry T. Hollingshead, president of the Chicago Automobile Trade association, said yesterday. About 500 authorized Chicago dealers will take part in the sales effort, which will close on March 12.

Used car week is being sponsored by the manufacturing companies.
